

EDITOR GENERAL. Gen. JOHN F. HARTMAN, OF HUNTSVILLE, PENN.

SURVEYOR GENERAL. Col. JACOB M. CAMPBELL, OF GAMBETTA COUNTY.

THE REPUBLICAN TICKET.

The State Convention, held in Philadelphia on the 4th inst., was one of the most harmonious bodies ever assembled for such a purpose.

The trial of Andrew Johnson, President of the United States, will be commenced on Tuesday next, before the United States Senate, acting as a High Court of Impeachment.

REDUCTION OF REVENUE TAXES.—Among the numerous taxes repealed by the bill amending the Internal Revenue law, which was reported by Mr. Schenk and unanimously passed by the House of Representatives on the 11th inst., are those of one cent per pound on roasted or ground coffee; one cent and a half on sugar; two cents on sugar-candy; five per cent on furniture and tin-ware; three dollars per ton on iron and steel; two per cent on clothing, and three per cent on paper.

DEATH OF THE HON. JUDGE WILMOT.—Judge Wilmot, at one time a United States Senator from this State, and at the time of his death one of the Judges of the Court of Claims of the United States, died at his residence in Towanda, Bradford county, on Sunday last.

STANBURY RESIGNS.—As was intimated some days ago, Mr. Stanbury, the Attorney-General, has resigned in order to become one of Johnson's counsel in the Impeachment Trial.

Mr. Madison on Impeachment.—According to the following extracts from Elliot's Debates, the Senate would seem to be entitled to great credit for the forbearance it has shown President Johnson:

"On the 18th of June, 1868, in the Virginia Convention, George Mason objected to the pardoning power vested in the President for ordinary crimes. Mr. Madison in reply, said:

"There is one security in this case to which gentlemen may not have adverted: If the President be connected in any suspicious manner with any person, and there be ground to believe he will shelter him, the House of Representatives can impeach him; they (evidently referring to the Senate, or the Senate in connection with the House) can remove him if found guilty; they can suspend him when suspected, and the power will devolve upon the Vice-President."

The Republican State Convention.

The delegates to the Pennsylvania Republican State Convention assembled in Philadelphia on Wednesday of last week, and shortly before eleven o'clock, Col. F. Jordan, chairman of the State Central Committee, called the Convention to order.

The Convention was organized by the election of Gen. Lemuel C. Chamberlain, of York, President, and a large number of Vice Presidents. The Convention at once proceeded to business, and after some remarks by several gentlemen, a ballot was taken as a means for ascertaining the preference of the Convention for the office of Vice President of the United States, with the following result: A. G. Curtin, 109 votes; B. F. Wade, 32; S. S. Stanton, 1.

The present incumbents of the office of the Auditor General and Surveyor General (Gen. Hartman and Col. Campbell) were unanimously nominated for re-election.

Resolved, That the great Republic of America—without which the rebellion against the Government of the Union is a perpetual national slavery, with the aid, comfort and full approval of the present Democratic party—is in the front of another peril and other trial. Electing its candidate for President in 1868, and re-electing him in 1872, it is now called upon to decide in favor of the sacrifices of blood and treasure have not only been in vain, but were simply contributions for the restoration of treason under the influence of a man, who clothed with the confidence of his country, is prevented from overthrowing the Government solely by his patriotic and patriotic stand (by a loyal Congress).

Resolved, That we earnestly call upon the Senators of the United States sitting on the Court of Impeachment, to proceed without fear, favor or affection. And that the people of Pennsylvania will stand by and maintain the just judgment of the law.

Resolved, That the soldiers and sailors of the Union who fought and conquered armed rebellion in the field, and stem of the flag which floated over them and led them to victory, are entitled to the undying gratitude of all loyal people. And as they saved the country by their trials, sufferings and sacrifices, they have conferred claims to the highest honor of the nation.

Resolved, That we cordially endorse the administration of State affairs by Governor John W. Geary, in which he has proved himself efficient in the cabinet as in the field, and an efficient and successful statesman, since the war, as was an able and successful general during the war; and he merits the confidence of the people of Pennsylvania, and we pledge him the continued support of the Republican party of the State.

Resolved, That the public debt incurred for the maintenance of the Government, and the maintenance of the Union, and the maintenance of the Republic, is a sacred obligation, binding the people to its payment in the most good faith, and to the full extent of its legal requirements. That the greatest prudence, judgment and skill are requisite, and should as far as attainable, be employed at once to maintain the public faith and credit, and render the burden, of which no loyal citizen should complain, as light as possible upon the productive industry of the country and the wages and proceeds of labor.

Resolved, That it is the dictate of the soundest policy, as well as of the greatest wisdom, that the domestic industry of the country should be sustained and protected against foreign competition by protective tariff laws, and that in whatever particulars the existing laws on the subject are defective, they should be amended and made efficient for that purpose, as well as for the purpose of raising revenue for the Government.

War in Tennessee.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—There is considerable excitement over the news from Tennessee, that troops may be looked for there. Yesterday afternoon Gen. Grant received a brief dispatch from Gen. Thomas, stating that the enemies of the present State Government in Tennessee were organizing a resistance to the laws, and to the control of the State.

General Thomas asked for immediate instructions. His telegram to General Grant assured the latter that these statements were certainly founded upon positive movements of the rebels and supporters of the President.

Without delay, Gen. Grant telegraphed to Mr. Johnson, or sending the order through him, to use all the forces at his command to preserve peace and protect the State authorities in their execution of the laws, to their fullest extent, and to report if more troops were needed.

Nothing additional has been heard this morning, but there is a feeling of uneasiness, among loyal men, that the movement is made with the direct knowledge of the President, in order to frighten Congress. He is openly charged with this by United States Senators awaiting their replies to the intention yesterday, it settles the question, beyond doubt, that Johnson will not be allowed another day to prepare for trial, in addition to what was given him yesterday.

Large numbers of Senators and Congressmen are at the War Office, with Secretary Stanton, awaiting further dispatches from General Thomas.

A correspondent Mark Lane Express, highly extols the cabbage for feeding milch cows, store cattle, sheep and swine, and more especially for spring feeding of lambing ewes, says that the average product per acre in England may be staged at twenty-five tons.

A twelve year old child, who is lecturing on temperance, gravely asserts that she has been a teetotaler all her life.

Four hundred and nineteen new buildings were erected in Pittsburgh city proper at a cost of $1,500,000.

The American silver coins, which people rarely see, are circulating in such great numbers in Canada that they are drug in the market. $7,000,000 of these coins are now circulating in Canada, and the Canadians are anxious to get rid of them, and import a value of 15 per cent. on further improvement.

THE IMPEACHMENT.

Andrew Johnson is to file his answer on the 23d of March. THE TRIAL WILL COMMENCE ON THE 24TH OF MARCH.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The galleries of the Senate began to fill up at ten o'clock, and before the Senate went into session, the seats were all occupied.

At precisely 1 o'clock, Mr. Wade said that the hour having arrived for convening the Court of Impeachment, he would vacate the chair for the Chief Justice of the United States.

As soon as Mr. Chase had taken the chair, the Sergeant-at-Arms made proclamation. Senator Howard then arose, and said that he presented a resolution, moving that the Secretary of the Senate be required to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate was ready to proceed to the trial of the President of the United States.

The Managers were only announced to the Senate by the Sergeant-at-Arms of that body, after which they came forward with their briefs, and took the seats to the left of the presiding officer.
