

REPUBLICAN STATE TICKET.

AUDITOR GENERAL, Gen. JOHN F. HARRIS, OF WASHINGTON COUNTY. SURVEYOR GENERAL, Gen. JACOB M. CAMPBELL, OF CAMBRIA COUNTY.

EDITORIAL CORRESPONDENCE.

New York, May 18, 1868.

Sturday last was a day of unusual excitement in this city, or, perhaps, I should say unusual anxiety. Around the bulletin boards of the Tribune, Herald, and other leading papers, crowds were gathered waiting for the news from Washington.

The result of the impeachment was not, however, entirely unexpected. The defection of Senators Fessenden, Trumbull and others, was known, and it did not require prophetic inspiration to foretell that the necessary nineteen votes would be forthcoming.

I do not pretend to say that such men as Fessenden were influenced by exactly such considerations. Judge Chase is an anxious aspirant for the Presidency, while Fessenden was equally anxious for the Vice Presidency.

What consideration changed the vote of Mr. Fowler, of Tennessee, so suddenly, why, perhaps, never fully revealed, but no one can doubt its wonderful effect. Only a few weeks since, he was one of the most unrelenting of the impeachers of the President.

It must be evident that the immediate responsibility of the defeat on Saturday rests upon Edmund T. Ross, of Kansas.

It is not likely that the Republican Senators until 12 o'clock, when he announced his intention to vote for acquittal. Who could foresee or prevent such shameful treachery as this?

A large amount of money was, no doubt, expended in obtaining the acquittal of the President, but that is easily made up by his office holders in this city.

$5,000 per month from the ring. He, no doubt, contributed largely to screen the President, and well he might.

There were excited debates in both Senate and House on Monday last. The impeachment verdict is still uppermost in all minds, and the subject made its appearance in every discussion on whatever subject.

Is October, 1868, Senator Trumbull, in a public speech in the Court House Square, at Chicago, eloquently stated that he was in favor of the immediate impeachment and removal of Johnson.

IMPEACHMENT.

Verdict of Not Guilty on the 13th Article—Senators Trumbull, Fessenden, Henderson, Van Winkle, Fowler, Ross and Grimes Vote for Acquittal—The Court Adjourned until the 26th inst.

The Senate met at 11:30 A. M. The galleries were crowded, and the excitement in regard to the approaching session of the court was very great.

The sick Senators were in their places. Senator Howard was carried into the chamber on a stretcher, attended by his physician; Mr. Grimes remained in the cloak room until the vote was taken.

While the vote was being taken the members of the House of Representatives were announced as at the bar of the Senate. They entered headed by Mr. Washburne, of Illinois, and attended by their Clerk and Doorkeeper.

Mr. Edmunds then submitted an order to the Senate that the Senate do now proceed to vote on the articles according to the rules of the Senate.

The Chief Justice, rising, said: The Chief Justice desires to admonish the citizens and strangers in the galleries that absolute silence and perfect order is required.

Senators: In conformity to the order of the Senate, the Chief Justice will now proceed to take the vote on the eleventh article, as directed by the rule.

On the 1st day of February, 1868, at the city of Washington, commit and was guilty of a high misdemeanor in office.

The first name on the roll of Senators Anthony, being called, the Senator rose in his place and the Chief Justice, also standing, addressed to him this formula: "Mr. Senator Anthony, how say you, is the respondent Andrew Johnson, President of the United States, guilty or not guilty of a high misdemeanor as charged in this article?"

At twelve o'clock, Benjamin F. Wade left the chair, and the Chief Justice took the vacant seat. He called the Senate to order as a court, and the sergeant-at-arms made the usual proclamation.

THE CHICAGO CONVENTION.

CHICAGO, May 19.—The city is more densely crowded to-night than it was at the time of either the Lincoln Convention of 1860, or the Maclean Convention of 1864.

CHICAGO, May 20.—The Convention was called to order at 10 A. M., by Gov. Ward, of New Jersey, and a temporary organization was effected.

POLITICAL.

Gen. Hector Tindle has consented to be a candidate for Mayor of Philadelphia, on the Republican ticket.

Gen. Hancock's friends claim that he will secure the votes of the delegates from Pennsylvania, Indiana, and fourteen Southern States for President.

Mr. Pendleton, of Ohio, is backed up by the Democracy of all the great West, and it is probable that all the Southern States, inside and outside, will go for Pendleton.

General John F. Farnsworth has been nominated by the Republicans of the Second Congressional District of Illinois as their candidate for Congress.

An immense quantity of wheat has been sown this spring by farmers in Maine.

A Boston speculator is reported to have made $150,000 by buying cotton at 14 cents a pound and selling it at 30 cents.

A Madison avenue (N. Y.) residence has a carpet on the drawing room of velvet, with a large monogram in the centre. It cost $7,500.

Some of the farmers in Maine, tempted by high prices, sold all their potatoes, and are now paying thirty per cent. more than they received for their supplies for seed.
