

Our neighbor of the Gazette, commenting on an article in the Harrisburg Telegraph in reference to the reduced Democratic majority of this county, says the Democratic majority was formerly only about 900, instead of 1,800 as stated by the Telegraph. The Gazette is about as wide of the mark as our Harrisburg cotemporary. If we are not greatly mistaken, the majority of James Buchanan, for President, in 1856, was about 1,400 in this county.

The New York Independent, perhaps the ablest religious newspaper in this country, has added about eleven full columns to its already large dimensions. The Independent is conducted with marked ability in all its departments, and is one of the few successful religious newspapers which are deemed an authority outside of Church matters. Published by Henry C. Bowen, New York.

Good Effect.—The gratuitous notices on the part of the press relative to the whipping posts in Delaware have already had a good effect. A man was to have been whipped at Wilmington last Saturday; but the matter was postponed—the Sheriff had to leave town "on business," besides a reprieve or commutation of the sentence by the Governor was expected.

LIFE INSURANCE INVESTMENTS.—There is no need of urging the duty of life insurance. Every man having others dependent upon him for support knows that in no other way can he so surely provide for their future comfort as by securing such an amount of insurance as his income will allow him to pay for. Of course it becomes a matter of personal interest to know where the most insurance can be had for a specific sum. The National Life Insurance Company of the United States of America, chartered by Congress in July, 1868, makes an offer of insurance upon the ordinary life plan at extremely low rates, the principle of its operation being that a smaller sum of cash in hand is better for both buyer and seller than a larger amount based upon the contingencies of possible future profits or dividends. For this small sum it guarantees a certain amount of insurance, the contract between insured and insurer being too plain for any complications such as may attend the settlement of notes or dividends. This is a recommendation to start with, and if the Company is a secure one, its low rates will naturally be popular. For this security we find two strong guarantees: one is a paid-up capital of one million dollars, ample for all possible present liabilities, and the other is the character of the managers of the Company, among whom are Jay Cooke, C. H. Clark, Hon. E. A. Rollins, Hon. W. E. Chandler, and others of high national repute. It is not alone by its low cash rates that the new National Life commends itself to those contemplating insurance; for it offers, besides, a number of novel and favorable methods by which the insurer or his heirs may reap unusual pecuniary benefit from his or her investment. These new features—the Return Premium (by which the amount of all premiums paid will be returned to the heirs of the insured in addition to the amount for which he was insured), the Income Producing, and other plans—will be explained in detail by the agents of the Company, whose card may be found elsewhere. We can see no reason why the new Company is not entitled to a high degree of public confidence.

LATER FROM EUROPE.

FRANCE. PARIS, Nov. 29.—The present Monitor newspaper has the official character of the New Year's day, and the Monitor Official de l'Empire will then appear.

PARIS, Nov. 29.—The publisher of the Little Progress newspaper has been fined 500 francs and sentenced to a month's imprisonment for publishing a list of subscribers to the proposed monument to Baudin in the cemetery of Montmartre.

PARIS, Nov. 29.—The editor of the Revue has been sentenced to two months' imprisonment and a fine of 2,000 francs, the editors of the Tribune and L'Asie to fines of 2,000 francs each, and the editors of the Temps and Journal de Paris to fines of 1,000 francs each for publishing articles encouraging the subscription for the monument to Baudin.

LONDON, Nov. 29.—The Times and Paris correspondents of the other London papers have lately given currency to rumors that the health of Napoleon is failing, and public confidence has in consequence been somewhat disturbed. These rumors have been officially contradicted from Paris, yet it is well understood that, without political opponents, the Emperor declines to take his usual active exercise, and shows signs of declining strength and mental apathy.

Somebody calls George Francis Train the Great American Ass.

2,273 cadets have graduated at West Point since its foundation.

Cincinnati has the small pox bad. One hospital is nursing 79 cases.

The Emperor of China is fourteen years old and the Empress eleven.

A white velvet robe was the principal part of a Norwich bridal costume.

Jenkins has whispered that Mrs. Grant carries the keys of the General's trunk.

It is not too much for an Indian Rajah to pay for a young and lovely wife.

The Camden and Amboy monopoly in New Jersey expires this year, unless it is renewed.

Henry A. Wise is writing his own biography. The poor fellow is wise in his own conceit.

A small New York Church proposes to have a full brass and string band instead of an organ.

Louisville is supposed to contain 30,000 mechanics and laborers who are idle from want of work.

Two men were shot each other at the dinner table in hotel in Mobile, the other day, but did not succeed.

Beer and snuff can certainly not make a very palatable mixed drink, and yet that is what some London ruffians dragged their victim with recently.

A New Hampshire widow, who wants to sell her farm, refused to do so to a Democrat because she did not want any more of that party in her town.

The aggregate monthly pay rolls of the manufacturers at Meriden, Conn., amount to $250,000.

The Lake Mills at Geneva, Wis., can turn out one hundred and fifty barrels of flour per diem.

The profits of the Jefferson Rolling Mill, at Steubenville, were $265,134 in 1866, and $175,930 in 1867.

A new oil refinery has just been completed at Titusville, which can refine 3,000 barrels per day.

A cotton mill, an oil mill and a beef factory are all about to go into operation shortly in Gonzales county, Texas.

A knitting mill has recently commenced operations at Dixon, Ill. The proprietors expect to make $100,000 worth of goods this season.

THE COAL TRADE.

The quantity sent by Railroad this week is 89,850 10 tons, by Canal 33,200 10 tons; for the week 129,145 10 tons, against 107,762 for the corresponding week last year. Increase, 30,383 tons.

The season is rapidly drawing to a close by the canals, and the demand is slackening off at present, owing to the extreme high prices, caused mainly by the scarcity of coal. The sale of October 23rd, which was a quiet one, was the only one of the kind that had coal to receive from the Scranton Company, purchased at lower rates. The result is that consumers of coal have been and will be taxed, not less than $4,000,000, while the producers have derived scarcely any benefit by the uncalculated advance. Prices are now receding, and there will probably be another contest in December, before wages can be reduced to meet the reductions on coal. The advanced rates of freight in November, ought also to be taken off on the line and in Philadelphia, as it would be an enticement to keep them on in the present state of the trade.

It seems strange to us that the Scranton Company should have had so large a quantity of coal to deliver on their sales previous to the sale in October, as was represented. They have sent more coal to the shipping ports near New York, than they have sold at Auction this year so far, and we have always understood that they only sold privately the surplus of one sale to market over the quantity sold at Auction. Under these circumstances, we cannot understand why they should be so far behind hand in their deliveries, as represented. Can it be possible that "a ring" was formed at New York to run up the prices of coal to market, and that the Scranton Company, who were those who are posted up. There is always a terrible outcry when the prices of coal are run up in Schuylkill County caused by a legitimate demand, by the New York press generally; but when the prices are run up by the State of the trade, and totally uncalculated for by the state of the trade, and condemned by the producers generally, the Press in New York appears to be mum on the subject.—Miners Journal.

For one hundred and fifty-six years black men in this country have voted in Pennsylvania on precisely the same condition as white men. None of the evils now predicted of black suffrage were experienced. Neither the moral or social equality of the two races was thereby established. Amendment, either through amendment or without, was not on the order of the day. Social order was not subverted. The Government was not made by white men, for white men, but by all white men, for the benefit of all.

For one hundred and fifty-six years black men in this country have voted in Pennsylvania on precisely the same condition as white men. None of the evils now predicted of black suffrage were experienced. Neither the moral or social equality of the two races was thereby established. Amendment, either through amendment or without, was not on the order of the day. Social order was not subverted. The Government was not made by white men, for white men, but by all white men, for the benefit of all.

For one hundred and fifty-six years black men in this country have voted in Pennsylvania on precisely the same condition as white men. None of the evils now predicted of black suffrage were experienced. Neither the moral or social equality of the two races was thereby established. Amendment, either through amendment or without, was not on the order of the day. Social order was not subverted. The Government was not made by white men, for white men, but by all white men, for the benefit of all.

For one hundred and fifty-six years black men in this country have voted in Pennsylvania on precisely the same condition as white men. None of the evils now predicted of black suffrage were experienced. Neither the moral or social equality of the two races was thereby established. Amendment, either through amendment or without, was not on the order of the day. Social order was not subverted. The Government was not made by white men, for white men, but by all white men, for the benefit of all.

For one hundred and fifty-six years black men in this country have voted in Pennsylvania on precisely the same condition as white men. None of the evils now predicted of black suffrage were experienced. Neither the moral or social equality of the two races was thereby established. Amendment, either through amendment or without, was not on the order of the day. Social order was not subverted. The Government was not made by white men, for white men, but by all white men, for the benefit of all.

For one hundred and fifty-six years black men in this country have voted in Pennsylvania on precisely the same condition as white men. None of the evils now predicted of black suffrage were experienced. Neither the moral or social equality of the two races was thereby established. Amendment, either through amendment or without, was not on the order of the day. Social order was not subverted. The Government was not made by white men, for white men, but by all white men, for the benefit of all.

For one hundred and fifty-six years black men in this country have voted in Pennsylvania on precisely the same condition as white men. None of the evils now predicted of black suffrage were experienced. Neither the moral or social equality of the two races was thereby established. Amendment, either through amendment or without, was not on the order of the day. Social order was not subverted. The Government was not made by white men, for white men, but by all white men, for the benefit of all.

For one hundred and fifty-six years black men in this country have voted in Pennsylvania on precisely the same condition as white men. None of the evils now predicted of black suffrage were experienced. Neither the moral or social equality of the two races was thereby established. Amendment, either through amendment or without, was not on the order of the day. Social order was not subverted. The Government was not made by white men, for white men, but by all white men, for the benefit of all.

For one hundred and fifty-six years black men in this country have voted in Pennsylvania on precisely the same condition as white men. None of the evils now predicted of black suffrage were experienced. Neither the moral or social equality of the two races was thereby established. Amendment, either through amendment or without, was not on the order of the day. Social order was not subverted. The Government was not made by white men, for white men, but by all white men, for the benefit of all.

For one hundred and fifty-six years black men in this country have voted in Pennsylvania on precisely the same condition as white men. None of the evils now predicted of black suffrage were experienced. Neither the moral or social equality of the two races was thereby established. Amendment, either through amendment or without, was not on the order of the day. Social order was not subverted. The Government was not made by white men, for white men, but by all white men, for the benefit of all.

For one hundred and fifty-six years black men in this country have voted in Pennsylvania on precisely the same condition as white men. None of the evils now predicted of black suffrage were experienced. Neither the moral or social equality of the two races was thereby established. Amendment, either through amendment or without, was not on the order of the day. Social order was not subverted. The Government was not made by white men, for white men, but by all white men, for the benefit of all.

For one hundred and fifty-six years black men in this country have voted in Pennsylvania on precisely the same condition as white men. None of the evils now predicted of black suffrage were experienced. Neither the moral or social equality of the two races was thereby established. Amendment, either through amendment or without, was not on the order of the day. Social order was not subverted. The Government was not made by white men, for white men, but by all white men, for the benefit of all.

For one hundred and fifty-six years black men in this country have voted in Pennsylvania on precisely the same condition as white men. None of the evils now predicted of black suffrage were experienced. Neither the moral or social equality of the two races was thereby established. Amendment, either through amendment or without, was not on the order of the day. Social order was not subverted. The Government was not made by white men, for white men, but by all white men, for the benefit of all.

For one hundred and fifty-six years black men in this country have voted in Pennsylvania on precisely the same condition as white men. None of the evils now predicted of black suffrage were experienced. Neither the moral or social equality of the two races was thereby established. Amendment, either through amendment or without, was not on the order of the day. Social order was not subverted. The Government was not made by white men, for white men, but by all white men, for the benefit of all.

For one hundred and fifty-six years black men in this country have voted in Pennsylvania on precisely the same condition as white men. None of the evils now predicted of black suffrage were experienced. Neither the moral or social equality of the two races was thereby established. Amendment, either through amendment or without, was not on the order of the day. Social order was not subverted. The Government was not made by white men, for white men, but by all white men, for the benefit of all.

For one hundred and fifty-six years black men in this country have voted in Pennsylvania on precisely the same condition as white men. None of the evils now predicted of black suffrage were experienced. Neither the moral or social equality of the two races was thereby established. Amendment, either through amendment or without, was not on the order of the day. Social order was not subverted. The Government was not made by white men, for white men, but by all white men, for the benefit of all.

For one hundred and fifty-six years black men in this country have voted in Pennsylvania on precisely the same condition as white men. None of the evils now predicted of black suffrage were experienced. Neither the moral or social equality of the two races was thereby established. Amendment, either through amendment or without, was not on the order of the day. Social order was not subverted. The Government was not made by white men, for white men, but by all white men, for the benefit of all.

For one hundred and fifty-six years black men in this country have voted in Pennsylvania on precisely the same condition as white men. None of the evils now predicted of black suffrage were experienced. Neither the moral or social equality of the two races was thereby established. Amendment, either through amendment or without, was not on the order of the day. Social order was not subverted. The Government was not made by white men, for white men, but by all white men, for the benefit of all.

For one hundred and fifty-six years black men in this country have voted in Pennsylvania on precisely the same condition as white men. None of the evils now predicted of black suffrage were experienced. Neither the moral or social equality of the two races was thereby established. Amendment, either through amendment or without, was not on the order of the day. Social order was not subverted. The Government was not made by white men, for white men, but by all white men, for the benefit of all.

For one hundred and fifty-six years black men in this country have voted in Pennsylvania on precisely the same condition as white men. None of the evils now predicted of black suffrage were experienced. Neither the moral or social equality of the two races was thereby established. Amendment, either through amendment or without, was not on the order of the day. Social order was not subverted. The Government was not made by white men, for white men, but by all white men, for the benefit of all.

For one hundred and fifty-six years black men in this country have voted in Pennsylvania on precisely the same condition as white men. None of the evils now predicted of black suffrage were experienced. Neither the moral or social equality of the two races was thereby established. Amendment, either through amendment or without, was not on the order of the day. Social order was not subverted. The Government was not made by white men, for white men, but by all white men, for the benefit of all.

For one hundred and fifty-six years black men in this country have voted in Pennsylvania on precisely the same condition as white men. None of the evils now predicted of black suffrage were experienced. Neither the moral or social equality of the two races was thereby established. Amendment, either through amendment or without, was not on the order of the day. Social order was not subverted. The Government was not made by white men, for white men, but by all white men, for the benefit of all.

For one hundred and fifty-six years black men in this country have voted in Pennsylvania on precisely the same condition as white men. None of the evils now predicted of black suffrage were experienced. Neither the moral or social equality of the two races was thereby established. Amendment, either through amendment or without, was not on the order of the day. Social order was not subverted. The Government was not made by white men, for white men, but by all white men, for the benefit of all.

For one hundred and fifty-six years black men in this country have voted in Pennsylvania on precisely the same condition as white men. None of the evils now predicted of black suffrage were experienced. Neither the moral or social equality of the two races was thereby established. Amendment, either through amendment or without, was not on the order of the day. Social order was not subverted. The Government was not made by white men, for white men, but by all white men, for the benefit of all.

For one hundred and fifty-six years black men in this country have voted in Pennsylvania on precisely the same condition as white men. None of the evils now predicted of black suffrage were experienced. Neither the moral or social equality of the two races was thereby established. Amendment, either through amendment or without, was not on the order of the day. Social order was not subverted. The Government was not made by white men, for white men, but by all white men, for the benefit of all.

For one hundred and fifty-six years black men in this country have voted in Pennsylvania on precisely the same condition as white men. None of the evils now predicted of black suffrage were experienced. Neither the moral or social equality of the two races was thereby established. Amendment, either through amendment or without, was not on the order of the day. Social order was not subverted. The Government was not made by white men, for white men, but by all white men, for the benefit of all.

BLACK SUFFRAGE IN PENNSYLVANIA.

An article in the Philadelphia Republic, written by F. P. Pennington, Esq., gives so clear an account of the history and present bearing of this subject, that we reproduce it in full:

In 1688 William Penn promulgated "The Frame of Government" for Pennsylvania, not only the authority of the charter granted him by King Charles II. In this document the right of suffrage is given, without restriction, to "the freemen of said province."

In 1701 Penn granted what is known as the "Charter of Privileges." By this instrument the right of suffrage was broadly given to "the freeholders and free burgesses of the province." The first constitution of Pennsylvania was adopted in 1776. The convention that framed this instrument was presided over by Benjamin Franklin. It gave the right of suffrage to "every freeman of the province who had the usual qualifications of a freeman of the province."

In 1790 a new constitution was framed. Thos. Mifflin presided over the convention that made it. This instrument gave the right to vote to "every freeman over the age of 21 years."

In 1839 the Constitution was revised. John Sargeant presided over the convention. The basis of suffrage was changed, so as to include only "every white freeman of the age of 21 years."

For one hundred and fifty-six years black men in this country have voted in Pennsylvania on precisely the same condition as white men. None of the evils now predicted of black suffrage were experienced. Neither the moral or social equality of the two races was thereby established. Amendment, either through amendment or without, was not on the order of the day. Social order was not subverted. The Government was not made by white men, for white men, but by all white men, for the benefit of all.

For one hundred and fifty-six years black men in this country have voted in Pennsylvania on precisely the same condition as white men. None of the evils now predicted of black suffrage were experienced. Neither the moral or social equality of the two races was thereby established. Amendment, either through amendment or without, was not on the order of the day. Social order was not subverted. The Government was not made by white men, for white men, but by all white men, for the benefit of all.

For one hundred and fifty-six years black men in this country have voted in Pennsylvania on precisely the same condition as white men. None of the evils now predicted of black suffrage were experienced. Neither the moral or social equality of the two races was thereby established. Amendment, either through amendment or without, was not on the order of the day. Social order was not subverted. The Government was not made by white men, for white men, but by all white men, for the benefit of all.

For one hundred and fifty-six years black men in this country have voted in Pennsylvania on precisely the same condition as white men. None of the evils now predicted of black suffrage were experienced. Neither the moral or social equality of the two races was thereby established. Amendment, either through amendment or without, was not on the order of the day. Social order was not subverted. The Government was not made by white men, for white men, but by all white men, for the benefit of all.

For one hundred and fifty-six years black men in this country have voted in Pennsylvania on precisely the same condition as white men. None of the evils now predicted of black suffrage were experienced. Neither the moral or social equality of the two races was thereby established. Amendment, either through amendment or without, was not on the order of the day. Social order was not subverted. The Government was not made by white men, for white men, but by all white men, for the benefit of all.

For one hundred and fifty-six years black men in this country have voted in Pennsylvania on precisely the same condition as white men. None of the evils now predicted of black suffrage were experienced. Neither the moral or social equality of the two races was thereby established. Amendment, either through amendment or without, was not on the order of the day. Social order was not subverted. The Government was not made by white men, for white men, but by all white men, for the benefit of all.

For one hundred and fifty-six years black men in this country have voted in Pennsylvania on precisely the same condition as white men. None of the evils now predicted of black suffrage were experienced. Neither the moral or social equality of the two races was thereby established. Amendment, either through amendment or without, was not on the order of the day. Social order was not subverted. The Government was not made by white men, for white men, but by all white men, for the benefit of all.

For one hundred and fifty-six years black men in this country have voted in Pennsylvania on precisely the same condition as white men. None of the evils now predicted of black suffrage were experienced. Neither the moral or social equality of the two races was thereby established. Amendment, either through amendment or without, was not on the order of the day. Social order was not subverted. The Government was not made by white men, for white men, but by all white men, for the benefit of all.

For one hundred and fifty-six years black men in this country have voted in Pennsylvania on precisely the same condition as white men. None of the evils now predicted of black suffrage were experienced. Neither the moral or social equality of the two races was thereby established. Amendment, either through amendment or without, was not on the order of the day. Social order was not subverted. The Government was not made by white men, for white men, but by all white men, for the benefit of all.

For one hundred and fifty-six years black men in this country have voted in Pennsylvania on precisely the same condition as white men. None of the evils now predicted of black suffrage were experienced. Neither the moral or social equality of the two races was thereby established. Amendment, either through amendment or without, was not on the order of the day. Social order was not subverted. The Government was not made by white men, for white men, but by all white men, for the benefit of all.

For one hundred and fifty-six years black men in this country have voted in Pennsylvania on precisely the same condition as white men. None of the evils now predicted of black suffrage were experienced. Neither the moral or social equality of the two races was thereby established. Amendment, either through amendment or without, was not on the order of the day. Social order was not subverted. The Government was not made by white men, for white men, but by all white men, for the benefit of all.

For one hundred and fifty-six years black men in this country have voted in Pennsylvania on precisely the same condition as white men. None of the evils now predicted of black suffrage were experienced. Neither the moral or social equality of the two races was thereby established. Amendment, either through amendment or without, was not on the order of the day. Social order was not subverted. The Government was not made by white men, for white men, but by all white men, for the benefit of all.

For one hundred and fifty-six years black men in this country have voted in Pennsylvania on precisely the same condition as white men. None of the evils now predicted of black suffrage were experienced. Neither the moral or social equality of the two races was thereby established. Amendment, either through amendment or without, was not on the order of the day. Social order was not subverted. The Government was not made by white men, for white men, but by all white men, for the benefit of all.

For one hundred and fifty-six years black men in this country have voted in Pennsylvania on precisely the same condition as white men. None of the evils now predicted of black suffrage were experienced. Neither the moral or social equality of the two races was thereby established. Amendment, either through amendment or without, was not on the order of the day. Social order was not subverted. The Government was not made by white men, for white men, but by all white men, for the benefit of all.

For one hundred and fifty-six years black men in this country have voted in Pennsylvania on precisely the same condition as white men. None of the evils now predicted of black suffrage were experienced. Neither the moral or social equality of the two races was thereby established. Amendment, either through amendment or without, was not on the order of the day. Social order was not subverted. The Government was not made by white men, for white men, but by all white men, for the benefit of all.

For one hundred and fifty-six years black men in this country have voted in Pennsylvania on precisely the same condition as white men. None of the evils now predicted of black suffrage were experienced. Neither the moral or social equality of the two races was thereby established. Amendment, either through amendment or without, was not on the order of the day. Social order was not subverted. The Government was not made by white men, for white men, but by all white men, for the benefit of all.

For one hundred and fifty-six years black men in this country have voted in Pennsylvania on precisely the same condition as white men. None of the evils now predicted of black suffrage were experienced. Neither the moral or social equality of the two races was thereby established. Amendment, either through amendment or without, was not on the order of the day. Social order was not subverted. The Government was not made by white men, for white men, but by all white men, for the benefit of all.

For one hundred and fifty-six years black men in this country have voted in Pennsylvania on precisely the same condition as white men. None of the evils now predicted of black suffrage were experienced. Neither the moral or social equality of the two races was thereby established. Amendment, either through amendment or without, was not on the order of the day. Social order was not subverted. The Government was not made by white men, for white men, but by all white men, for the benefit of all.

For one hundred and fifty-six years black men in this country have voted in Pennsylvania on precisely the same condition as white men. None of the evils now predicted of black suffrage were experienced. Neither the moral or social equality of the two races was thereby established. Amendment, either through amendment or without, was not on the order of the day. Social order was not subverted. The Government was not made by white men, for white men, but by all white men, for the benefit of all.

For one hundred and fifty-six years black men in this country have voted in Pennsylvania on precisely the same condition as white men. None of the evils now predicted of black suffrage were experienced. Neither the moral or social equality of the two races was thereby established. Amendment, either through amendment or without, was not on the order of the day. Social order was not subverted. The Government was not made by white men, for white men, but by all white men, for the benefit of all.

For one hundred and fifty-six years black men in this country have voted in Pennsylvania on precisely the same condition as white men. None of the evils now predicted of black suffrage were experienced. Neither the moral or social equality of the two races was thereby established. Amendment, either through amendment or without, was not on the order of the day. Social order was not subverted. The Government was not made by white men, for white men, but by all white men, for the benefit of all.

For one hundred and fifty-six years black men in this country have voted in Pennsylvania on precisely the same condition as white men. None of the evils now predicted of black suffrage were experienced. Neither the moral or social equality of the two races was thereby established. Amendment, either through amendment or without, was not on the order of the day. Social order was not subverted. The Government was not made by white men, for white men, but by all white men, for the benefit of all.

For one hundred and fifty-six years black men in this country have voted in Pennsylvania on precisely the same condition as white men. None of the evils now predicted of black suffrage were experienced. Neither the moral or social equality of the two races was thereby established. Amendment, either through amendment or without, was not on the order of the day. Social order was not subverted. The Government was not made by white men, for white men, but by all white men, for the benefit of all.

For one hundred and fifty-six years black men in this country have voted in Pennsylvania on precisely the same condition as white men. None of the evils now predicted of black suffrage were experienced. Neither the moral or social equality of the two races was thereby established. Amendment, either through amendment or without, was not on the order of the day. Social order was not subverted. The Government was not made by white men, for white men, but by all white men, for the benefit of all.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Auditor Notice. THE undersigned auditor appointed by the Orphans' Court of Northumberland County to distribute the balance in the hands of Peter B. Masser, one of the Executors of Henry Masser, deceased, to whom was referred back his former report filed August 8, 1868, "for correction and report the facts," hereby gives notice, that he will attend to the duties of his office on Saturday the 26th day of December, 1868, at 10 o'clock A. M.

FANCY DRY GOODS. ALL THE LATEST STYLES. ESTABLISHED IN THE WINTER SEASON. MISS KATE BLACK. Market Square, near the old Bank.

Notice of Sale. NOTICE is hereby given that the undersigned, as Administrator of the estate of Silas Reister, late of Lower Augusta township, Northumberland county, deceased, has taken in execution, and to be sold as the property of the said estate, the following real estate, to-wit: A certain lot of ground, situated in the Borough of Sunbury, County of Northumberland, containing one acre and one-half, bounded as follows: On the north by the street, on the east by the street, on the south by the street, and on the west by the street.

Notice of Sale. NOTICE is hereby given that the undersigned, as Administrator of the estate of Silas Reister, late of Lower Augusta township, Northumberland county, deceased, has taken in execution, and to be sold as the property of the said estate, the following real estate, to-wit: A certain lot of ground, situated in the Borough of Sunbury, County of Northumberland, containing one acre and one-half, bounded as follows: On the north by the street, on the east by the street, on the south by the street, and on the west by the street.

Notice of Sale. NOTICE is hereby given that the undersigned, as Administrator of the estate of Silas Reister, late of Lower Augusta township, Northumberland county, deceased, has taken in execution, and to be sold as the property of the said estate, the following real estate, to-wit: A certain lot of ground, situated in the Borough of Sunbury, County of Northumberland, containing one acre and one-half, bounded as follows: On the north by the street, on the east by the street, on the south by the street, and on the west by the street.

Notice of Sale. NOTICE is hereby given that the undersigned, as Administrator of the estate of Silas Reister, late of Lower Augusta township, Northumberland county, deceased, has taken in execution, and to be sold as the property of the said estate, the following real estate, to-wit: A certain lot of ground, situated in the Borough of Sunbury, County of Northumberland, containing one acre and one-half, bounded as follows: On the north by the street, on the east by the street, on the south by the street, and on the west by the street.

Notice of Sale. NOTICE is hereby given that the undersigned, as Administrator of the estate of Silas Reister, late of Lower Augusta township, Northumberland county, deceased, has taken in execution, and to be sold as the property of the said estate, the following real estate, to-wit: A certain lot of ground, situated in the Borough of Sunbury, County of Northumberland, containing one acre and one-half, bounded as follows: On the north by the street, on the east by the street, on the south by the street, and on the west by the street.

Notice of Sale. NOTICE is hereby given that the undersigned, as Administrator of the estate of Silas Reister, late of Lower Augusta township, Northumberland county, deceased, has taken in execution, and to be sold as the property of the said estate, the following real estate, to-wit: A certain lot of ground, situated in the Borough of Sunbury, County of Northumberland, containing one acre and one-half, bounded as follows: On the north by the street, on the east by the street, on the south by the street, and on the west by the street.

Notice of Sale. NOTICE is hereby given that the undersigned, as Administrator of the estate of Silas Reister, late of Lower Augusta township, Northumberland county, deceased, has taken in execution, and to be sold as the property of the said estate, the following real estate, to-wit: A certain lot of ground, situated in the Borough of Sunbury, County of Northumberland, containing one acre and one-half, bounded as follows: On the north by the street, on the east by the street, on the south by the street, and on the west by the street.

Notice of Sale. NOTICE is hereby given that the undersigned, as Administrator of the estate of Silas Reister, late of Lower Augusta township, Northumberland county, deceased, has taken in execution, and to be sold as the property of the said estate, the following real estate, to-wit: A certain lot of ground, situated in the Borough of Sunbury, County of Northumberland, containing one acre and one-half, bounded as follows: On the north by the street, on the east by the street, on the south by the street, and on the west by the street.

Notice of Sale. NOTICE is hereby given that the undersigned, as Administrator of the estate of Silas Reister, late of Lower Augusta township, Northumberland county, deceased, has taken in execution, and to be sold as the property of the said estate, the following real estate, to-wit: A certain lot of ground, situated in the Borough of Sunbury, County of Northumberland, containing one acre and one-half, bounded as follows: On the north by the street, on the east by the street, on the south by the street, and on the west by the street.

Notice of Sale. NOTICE is hereby given that the undersigned, as Administrator of the estate of Silas Reister, late of Lower Augusta township, Northumberland county, deceased, has taken in execution, and to be sold as the property of the said estate, the following real estate, to-wit: A certain lot of ground, situated in the Borough of Sunbury, County of Northumberland, containing one acre and one-half, bounded as follows: On the north by the street, on the east by the street, on the south by the street, and on the west by the street.

Notice of Sale. NOTICE is hereby given that the undersigned, as Administrator of the estate of Silas Reister, late of Lower Augusta township, Northumberland county, deceased, has taken in execution, and to be sold as the property of the said estate, the following real estate, to-wit: A certain lot of ground, situated in the Borough of Sunbury, County of Northumberland, containing one acre and one-half, bounded as follows: On the north by the street, on the east by the street, on the south by the street, and on the west by the street.

Notice of Sale. NOTICE is hereby given that the undersigned, as Administrator of the estate of Silas Reister, late of Lower Augusta township, Northumberland county, deceased, has taken in execution, and to be sold as the property of the said estate, the following real estate, to-wit: A certain lot of ground, situated in the Borough of Sunbury, County of Northumberland, containing one acre and one-half, bounded as follows: On the north by the street, on the east by the street, on the south by the street, and on the west by the street.

Notice of Sale. NOTICE is hereby given that the undersigned, as Administrator of the estate of Silas Reister