These ports have a fureign commerce of $5.00,000,000, and an enormous domestic trade, beside which we have the immense internal commerce of the Empire, radiating from these points, through its cample and navigable rivers. The cable being hind, this Company propuses creeking land hors, and establishing a speedy and fundworthy means of communication, which must command there, as everywhere else, the communications of the Government, of husiness, and of social life, especially in China. She has no postal system, and her only means now of communication proposed system, and be only means now of communication water. The Western World knows that China is a very large ing purposes by the local magistrates make her copulation. FOUR HUNDRED AND FOURTEEN MILLIONS, and this is more likely to be under than over the actual aggregate. Nearly all of these, who are over ten years old, not only can but do read and write, Her evilization is peculiar, but her literature is as extensive as that of foreign. China is a land of teachers and tradets; and the latter are exceedingly quick to avail themselves of every profered facility for procuring ently information. It is observed in California that the Chinese make great use of the telegraph, though it there transitis messages in Eragins alone. To day great numbers of fleet steamers anowned by Chinese metchants, and used by them exclusively for the transmission of early intelligence. If the telegraph we propose, connecting all their great scaperts, were now in existance, it is believed that its lanshess would pay the cost within the first two years of its, successful operation, and would steadily increase thereafter. No enterprise commends itself as in a greater dagree temmerative to capitalists, and to our whole people. It is of a vast mational importance enumeraily, politically, and evangelicolically.
