OF BEAVER COUNTY.

For Surveyer General, ROBERT B. BEATH, OF SCHUYLKILL COUNTY.

THE MINERS AND THE LATE STRIEE.-Now that the miners have resumed work again in the mines, it would be well if the men engaged in the late strike would examine how and where they were benefitted. While our sympathies lie with the laboring classes, and we are willing at all times to elevate labor, we could not see the policy or benefit that would accrue from their course taken within the last six months, as we were convinced that the strikes indulged in were ill-advised, imprudent, impracticable, and when reviewed from any tenable grounds of political economy, fearfully suicidal. As soon as labor and capital come into direct conflict, the suffering of the former is ever of a fatal character. The man who solely depends on the efforts of his hands for support, and has no other resource, is surely not in a condition to come in collision with men whose wealth force at a disadvantage. It is only the rash and impetuous, seeking personal glory, who are ready to lead in such attacks, indifferent as to who suffer so that they make their point of power. So with a majority of the strikes into which mechanics and laboring men are too frequently shoved. A few demagogues and mischief makers, always alert for agitation, foment strife in a avenge a personal insult. Now that those engaged in the strikes have time for reflection, and to look over the field calmly and take into consideration the time lost and the money misspent, the suffering of families, they will at once admit that they would be better off, in more comfortable circumstances to-day, had they not suspended operations and allowed themselves to be led away by a few designing men, who were living off the little they possessed, and which they required of them to pay their expenses. It will take several years to recover their lost ground in credit, and to pay their debts. The leaders of these strikes are nothing but intriguers and schemers, who have no regard for the welfare of their fellow workmen, and who are always willing to urge them on as long as a hard carned dollar can be had, regardless of the results, only so that they can be feasting and indulge in riotous living and debauchery. This has been the result in the late strike, and the suffering by those who were led on will be felt for several years to come. We hope that the lesson may be a salutary one.

THE Senate of the United States adourned on Saturday last, after having performed the work for which it was called together, by ratifying the treaty of Washington without amendment. The treaty provides for the appointment of three diferent commissions, and possibly of four. The first of these is the so-called Tribunal of Arbitration. Its function is to deal with the Alabama claims, and it has five members. One of them is to be appointed by the President, one by Queen Victoria, one by the King of Italy, one by the President of Switzerland, and one by the Emperor of Brazil. This tribunal is to meet at Geneva within two months after the ratification of the treaty; and eight months are assigned for the preparation and argument of the cases on each side. But the time within which the award must be made is not limited. This award may be of a sum in gross to be paid by Great Britain; but if the tribunal does not make such an award, a Board of Assessors is to be appointed to act upon each individual claim for damages. One member of this Board of Assessors is to be appointed by the President, one by the Queen, and one by the Italian Minister at Washington. It is to sit in Washington, New York, or Boston; but the time of its meeting and the duration of its sessions are not fixed.

The second Commission is that to settle American claims against England, and the claims of British subjects against the United States, arising out of acts against per-sons or property committed between April armed women. There were thirty-seven men left in the mine, and all have been brought out. Twenty-one of them were brought up alive and sixteen dead. It is thought that the deaths were caused by suffocation, although some assert that two or three of them were drowned. The men were found in the exreme western portion of the mine as far back as they could get. Their suffering must have been terrible.

Mr. Wm.
