LIFE IN DEATH.—The cedar is most useful when dead. It is the most productive when its place knows it no more. There is no timber like it. Firm in the grain, and capable of the finest polish, the tooth of no insect will touch it, and Time itself can hardly destroy it. Diffusing a perpetual fragrance worm will not corrode the book which it protects, nor the moth book which it protects, nor the moth corrupt the garment which it guards; and all but immortal itself, it transfuses its amaranthine qualities to objects around it. Every Christian is useful in his life, but the goodly cedars are the most useful after-wards. Luther is dead; but the Reforma-tion lives. Knox, Melville and Henderson are dead, but Scotland still retains a Sabcorrupt the garment which it guards; and are dead, but Scotland still retains a Sau-bath and a Christian peasantry, a Bible in every house, and a school in every parish. Bunyan is dead, but his bright spirit still walks the injits "Pilgrim's Progress." Baxter is dead, but souls are quickened by

CURES FOR BLOATED CATTLE.—The discussion with regard to bloated cattle has called forth several letters ; the following are some of the remedies suggested. J. A. Ladd, of Belmont, N. H., said a neighbor had a bloated steer. I advised him to dis-solve three or four tablespoonfuls of cook-ing soda in water, which, when turned in-to the steer, gave instant relief. In less ing soda in water, which, which turned in to the steer, gave instant relief. In less than an hour he was chewing his cud. I HENRY T. HELMBOLD'S IMPROVED ROSE WASH than an hour he was chewing his cud. I knew a good horse cured of the same trou-ble by the same remedy. Henry Turner, of Pulaski, Michigan, wrote : For thirty bree years I have lived in this county of inceason on the same farm, and cured all the cattle about me, and horses too, of ho-veu or bloat, and dry belly-ache or colle, by giving two quarts of lime or ashes and wa ter, and in no case failed once. Draw the tongue and pour slowly. In fifteen or wenty minutes they will be well. I have cored hundreds in this way. If you try it i have had a good many cattle in the last fifteen years troubled with bloat, but never host one with it. For each minual take from one pint to a quart of sour milk or butternik; add a good handful of salt; pat in a bottle and shake well; then gives two tablespoonfuls of salaratus, dissolved in warm water, and given as a drench, has aveed a number of horses for me. Mar wolff said he had used this salaratus cure for thirty years, upon human and dumb minuals, and could recommend it.
