A REPUBLICAN MEETING AT MILTON .-- A grand Republican torch-light procession took place at Milton on Tuesday evening last. After the parade, a meeting was held in the market house which was ably addressed by Mahlon Chance, Esq., of Ohio, and Mr. Vangeser of Lewisburg. The meeting was attended by at least five hun-

On Thursday evening a large and enthusiastic Republican meeting was held at Watsontown. Large delegations from this place, Northumberland, Lewisburg, Milton, Turbutville, and Mc'-Ewennsville were present. An imposing torchlight procession took place previous to the meeting. The republicans of the upper end are wide awake, and we may look for large gains on the other side of the river.

REPUBLICAN moetings have been held in the coal regions on every evening during the past week with good effect. The miners, who are directly interested in this campaign, do not intend to allow free traders to get into power to put their wages down to rates corresponding with the pauper labor of Europe. The working classes in that region are too intelligent to be deceived. Many have had practical experience, and will not be gulled by political tricksters, which would result in great injury to themselves and families.

A Lange Poster announcing that the original Signor Blitz would give three of his entertainments in this place on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings, were put up last week. These posters announced too that a number of gifts would be given away to the audience. This created a little suspicion on the part of many as Signore Biltz is well and favorably known to our entizens, and none could be convinced that the original Signor would condescend to deal in gift enterprises. On Tuesday the Signor made his appearance, but not the original Signor Blitz known to our people. He turned out to be a too. dle of a Frenchman who it is presumed is coveting the laurels of the renowned Signor Biltz.

A meeting of the Grant, Wilson & Hartranft Club, was advertised in their club room on Tuesday evening last when a torch light procession took place. On entering the room it was found too small, when they adjourned to the Court House, when Hou. W L Helfenstine delivered an House, when Hon. W. L. Helfenstine delivered an able speech upon the present issues. The meeting was very enthusiastic.

THE AGRICULTURAL FAIR at this place closed on Friday last. On Friday forenoon an agricultural address was delivered by the Hon. John B. Packer, which was listened to with great luterest. There was a large number of farmers and others present who pronounced the address able and well calculated to give encouragement to our agricultural friends to further improve their pur-19:30 p m | suits. He referred to the changes having taken place in this county within the last quarter of a century, and the vast improvements made by the farmers in the county. After concluding his remarks Mr. Packer introduced his friend General Joseph M. Wilson, of Philadelphia, who made a brief but clear and comprehensive speech, setting forth the claims of agriculture in glowing colors, showing that we could be preeminently useful by giving all manner of aid and encouragement to the farmer of our grand old Commonwealth. He entertained his hearers and enforced his views with several well-timed flustrations, and was listened to with profound attention, and closed amid the calls of "go on" from his audience. Mr. Wilson evidently understands the gift of public speaking, as he pithily remarked that brief speeches were the best, as audiences had rights which speakers were bound to respect.

DEDICATION OF AN ODD-FELLOWS HALL .- The new Hall of Stone Valley Lodge, No. 564, I. O. of O. F., located at Georgetown, was dedicated on Saturday last. The ceremonies of dedication were performed with open doors in the presence of a number of the fraternity from Berrysburg, Uniontown and other lodges. The dedicatory ceremonies were performed by the following members of the Order acting as Grand Lodge officers :

WASHINGTON, D. C., September 30, 1873. Friend Wilvert :-The deepest interest is manifested here in the The deepest interest is manifested here in the coming contest in Pennsylvania, and in the hotels, in front of them, on the corners, and in all public places you will find groups of men carnestly discussing Pennsylvania politics; in fact, "Pennsylvania," "Hartrant" and "Buckalew," appear to be all that is spoken of at present. The Republicans are very confident, and the majority counted on by them for Hartrant is 15,000, and for the balance of the ticket at least 20,000. The rebels. Democrats, and liberals, or in other words. for the balance of the ticket at least 20,000. The rebels, Democrats, and liberals, or, in other words the "mongrel crow-caters," would like very much to make it sppear that they too feel confident; as blowers they are a success, but they go very light on their pockets to back up what they profess to believe. When Curtin's letter first came out it gave considerable encouragement to the rebel friends of Buckalew in this city, and no doubt they did feel very sure of his election at that time; but now, that they have had time to see that it has produced very little if any good for their side, they do not seem to be quite as sure, and are singing the old song of money, fraud and corruption, which is a very sure sign that they expect to be beaten. The Republicans will have to be wide awake if they expect to have any show at all with the Democrats in ballot-box stuffing, which they have almost reduced to box stuffing, which they have almost reduced to Governor Curtin will find before he gets through with this business that he has under-taken too great a task for a sick man. He, no doubt, found it a very easy matter to surrender himself to the enemy, but to carry the Republi-can party, or any portion of it, with him into can party, or any portion of it, with him into the Democratic camp is a different thing entirely. Such men as Silfer and Coffee. By have to be told by their master how to vote, but the great Republican party of Pennsylvania needs no ad-vice in this matter; its members have their course marked out, and they will "fight it out on this line" until the 8th of October, and again until the 5th of November; and, instead of being the Republican party, he will find that he is only one of the 370,000 men of which it is composed: one of the 370,000 men of which it is composed and he will find that it is much easier to lead men in the right than in the wrong direction, especially when they do not feel inclined to go wrong, as is the case with the Republicans of Pennsylvania just now. It will be remembered by the Republi-cans of our State that this is not the first time that Andrew G. Curtin came to the rescue of the aristocrat who "felt humiliated" when he heard aristocrat who "feit humilated" when he heard that Abraham Lincoln, the "Rail-Splitter," had been elected President of the United Stat R. Buckalew. In the winter of 1865, when the President needed the firm and undivided support of Congress in his efforts to suppress the Democratic rebellion, Governor Curtin allowed the State to be disgraced by permitting the Legisla-ture to go through the farce of an election for United States Senator under the muzzle of the pistols of Bill McMullin and his New York and Philadelphia cut-throats. It is well known that Buckalew would not have been elected had each member of the Legislature been allowed to vote the neatest finished in the county. It is well arranged with every convenience to make members comfortable.

Manager & Byrnes' fine ladies and misses and the Democrats had but one majority on joint ballot, a change of that one vote would have elected Simon Cameron, who was the Republican candidate; but this was objectionable to Governor Curtin, so he allowed Bill McMullin and his roughs to elect a Senator instead of the Legisla-ture, and the result was that Buckalew was chosen to misrepresent the people of Pennsylvania in the Senate of the United States; and it is a well-established fact that no man in Congress > war will be honored by the State in time of peace.

> It is well known to the readers of the American that the Pennsylvania Republican Association of Washington city was not favorable to the nomination of General Hartranft, and that the Association indersed Hon. John B. Packer, and instructed its delegates to the Convention at Harrisburg to use all honorable means to secure his nomination. After General Hartranft was nominated, however, the members of the Asso-ciation considered it their duty as Republicans to support him, and out of the eight or nine hundred voters that will go to the State from here on or before the 8th of October, it is generally conceded that there will not be a Buckalow me

> Among the many ardent Republicans from our State temporarily residing here none have made themselves more useful to the party in the pre-sent campaign than Col. A. A.
