ROBERT BIRCH, 6. JOHN M. BROOMALL, 19. JAS. M. THOMPSON, 7. FRANCIS SHREDDER, 20. ISAAC FRAZIER, 8. MARK H. RICHARDS, 21. GEO. W. ANDREWS, 9. EDWARD H. GIBBS, 22. HENRY LLOYD, 10. DAVY K. SHOMAKER, 23. JOHN J. GILLESPIE, 11. DANIEL R. MILLER, 24. JAMES PATTERSON, 12. LEAND M. MORTON, 25. JOHN W. WALLACE, 13. THOMAS STORTON, 26. CHARLES C. BOYLE.

OUR DUTY.—The October election is over, and matters, as far as county and State is concerned, is settled. Another year. The duty to perform which is of the highest importance, and if we exercise good judgment, we shall gain experience to guide us in the future. We allude to the duty devolving upon us on the 5th of November next, one which no true lover of his country can shirk, in which every citizen is interested, to vote for men for President and Vice President who best protect the interests of the country. The working man and business man both are interested, and have a serious duty to perform. You have a choice for President and Vice President, and it will be your duty to judge which is best calculated to advance your interests, and those of your neighbors. On the one side you have free trade staring you in the face ready to close up your workshops, furnaces, stores and all other business, while on the other side protection to American industry is sure to receive favorable consideration. This is not the question—shall a Democrat or Republican rule this country—but the question is whether our Government shall be carried on in the interests of English capitalists, and get the wages of the working classes cut down to correspond with wages in Europe. Working men see that your ballots are cast for the party that protected your interests.

The Mahanoy Valley Record, published by John Parker, a Labor Reformer, takes the following sensible view of the matter: "Protection to the interests of American industry is a question of the most vital importance to every working man in these cold regions, and with them every business man also, and which is most to be depended on, to further, uphold, and defend this vital question, is a matter that most directly affects us, and something for us to be fully satisfied of before we cast our votes on the fifth of next month. In Horace Greeley's behalf, the two parties have been for years an advocate of protection, and one who had been affiliated with protectionists we certainly could have looked upon as the friend of American industry, but alas for his life long reputation as a protectionist! for the sake of office he has turned the weapons of the party against whatever you think is best. I will endorse. If you decide for protection, I shall gladly agree with you. If you are in favor of free trade, I shall not oppose your will. Like the potter's clay I place myself in your hands to mould me as you please. So many men, for whom who also fight so long with us for protection, who now for the love of office, take a cowardly grovel at the feet of the free trade faction. As for Brown, all know that he is an ultra Free Trader, and therefore we cannot but expect that all his influence as Vice President would be used to the detriment of the committee would be appointed of further it, and should a tie vote in the Senate render it necessary that he should decide, Dallas like, his decision would be with Free Trade.

The editor of the Democrat still clings to his friend Pat Hester. In his last issue he complains that large posters were put up denying the report that Pat Hester had been pardoned which the editor and a few of his friends were circulating throughout the county on the eve of the election, and thinks it a "shameful policy." Pat has not been pardoned, and is likely not to be, the editor and his few friends, who intended to dupe the farmers by telling them a lie to secure their votes, will find that the people in the Mahanoy are not as ignorant as they took them to be. We know a number, both Democrats and Republicans, in the German districts, who could enlighten the editor of the Democrat some, and all could teach him more honesty in politics than he ever knew.

COOL.—The editor of the Guard, in order to justify himself in regard to his attack upon the Hon. Jas. B. Packer, affects entire innocence, and wants us to point out the article in which he was defamed, and says "it is quite true, we did, and now condemn the frauds practiced at the late election." As the article against Mr. Packer appeared in the Guard the week previous to the election it is rather cool, to say the least, for the editor to say it had reference to frauds at the election.

A NUMBER of prominent gentlemen from the South who happened to meet in conference in Washington the other day to discuss the political situation, and who represent various portions of the South, reported that there was little or no discouragement in their respective sections over the result of the October elections. All but one State, possibly two, will vote for Greeley and Brown in November. The addition of New York, Indiana, Connecticut and New Hampshire is only required to make the ticket successful.—Democrat.

It is readily seen by the above that the editor of the Democrat depends upon his Ku-Klux friends in the South to elect Horace Greeley. Perhaps he has forgotten that there are more loyal men in the South now than there was then.

Our neighbor of the Democrat a few years ago, cautioned his readers not to read Horace Greeley's paper for fear, we suppose, that they might see how Horace abused the Democratic party. Now he advises Democrats to go to the polls on election day, and vote solid for Horace Greeley. Did ever anybody see such inconsistency in an editor? He says "all the old issues about which we differed are dead and gone forever." This looks as though the editor of the Democrat wanted to dictate to every Democrat, and compel them to vote just as he desired them to. He says too that "the great hosts of Liberals with their presses and influential men, will swell the ranks" in favor of Greeley. In another part of his paper he says the fee Liberal Republicans without appending the "influential." What can his readers expect to infer from such contradictions. We think that the "liberal" movement at the late election was one of the most liberal movements made for many years. Instead of receiving 10,000 to 15,000 Republican majority they were liberal enough to give us 35,000, and we shall not object to having another display of liberality to an equal extent in November next, in which case the "ranks will be swelled" to at least 50,000.

The Republican Party and Labor.

One of the strongest columns in our fair Republican edifice, says the Miners' Journal, is intelligent, thoughtful suffrage. The workmen of this country as a mass deposit ballots which are expressions of their convictions. This has been demonstrated in the great central States. The thirty-three thousand of a majority which Pennsylvania for instance, recently gave General Grant for Governor, was not so much for the candidate, although he is exceptional in the principles of which he is a representative. It was a legitimate result of conviction resulting from observation and experience on the part of the workmen of our State.

Study the history of the Republican party, from the period of its earliest inception—opposed to the extension of slavery on this continent—to the present, and it will be found that every progressive step of the party has been in the interest of labor—for its elevation and increase of its emoluments. It said to the slave master, when he would carry his "chattels" on free soil, thus far about thou go; no farther. It struck the shackles from the limbs of the slave, and made him a free man with all the rights and privileges, under the law, of a free man. It opened up the vast wilderness lying between the Missouri river and the Pacific ocean, and binding the two extremities with bands of iron, gave to labor literally free homestead.

It was contended for and given to labor adequate protection from the low labor, cheap capital and abundant machinery of Europe. A Republican Congress passed and a Republican President enforced an eight-hour law in the workshops of the nation. The sympathies of the party are with labor and its material interests and welfare. It has demonstrated, practically that true labor reform, stripped of its crudities, is advanced Republicanism. The candidates for President and Vice President, are men who have earned their bread by the sweat of the brow. Grant as a woodcuter and a tanner, and Wilson as a shoemaker. They are men who can and do sympathize with labor and its needs, and who will never turn a deaf ear to its appeals when based on justice and right.

This is the party and these the men for whom the workmen of Schuylkill county resolve to vote on the 5th of November. For in their neighbor Greeley nor Brown, O'Connor nor Adams, can they place any confidence. All are opposed to the interest of home labor and home industry, and would if they had an opportunity, strike down our industries, put out our furnace fires, and close our workshops. For the free traders say quite frankly that they can support any man. All of them in fact, on that point are satisfactory.

Let the workmen of Schuylkill county resolve to a man to go to the polls on the 5th of November and vote for Grant and Wilson. The 1500 majority which they can give in Schuylkill county will go to make up a glorious 100,000 in the State, and the moral effect upon legislation in the future in the interest of labor cannot be fully estimated. It would be immense. Consider this question well, and at the election now near at hand resolve to deposit a ballot which in its future effects will be calculated to produce results of vast importance to you and yours.

THE VICE-PRESIDENCY.—Since Tyler, Fillmore and Johnson proved traitors to the people who elected them, they have much more attention to the Vice Presidency, for it is becoming almost as important as the Presidency itself. The sudden deaths of Harrison, Taylor and Lincoln, suggest the thought that if Greeley should be elected, and should prove less capable than his political friends expected, Southern Vice President might be called to step into his shoes. What, then, are the characteristics of B. Gratz Brown? One the descendants of the F. F. V.'s—born with a silver spoon in his mouth, and in Kentucky—an old-line Democratic freetrader, he was unexpectedly elected. No more republican ranks and did good service in Missouri. Like some other ambitious men, he has changed in his feelings, and was among the first to strike hands with F. P. Blair, and under the "liberal" flag, to betray Missouri into the Rebel Democratic hands, becoming a Greenbacker and Blair going to the United States Senate. Happily, the result of that bargain and sale came in good season to warn the people against any more operations of that nature.—Shrewd, talented, cunning, he is just the man the rebels will want if H. G. could prove any more stubborn. No more Tyler or Johnsons in our cups, if you please. We had no fear of Schuyler Colfax—we have none of Henry Wilson.—Harrisburg Telegraph.

The State Election.

We give below the official vote for Governor. By this table it will be seen that Gen. Harrison's majority is now fixed at 35,927. The majorities for the remainder of the State ticket are: Allen, 38,780; Mercer, 40,443; delegates to Constitutional Convention, 47,588.

HORSE EPIDEMIC IN CANADA.

Description of the disease—its appearance in New York. The Montreal Gazette of the 17th inst. gives a description of the epidemic now prevailing among the horses in Canada, and which has also made its appearance in Buffalo. It first appeared in Toronto, and spread thence to Montreal with astonishing rapidity, and horses are being killed in the latter city at the rate of several hundred a day.

Among veterinary surgeons the disease is known as epizootic influenza, and is occasioned by atmospheric influences, opposed to have some connection with the recent heavy and frequent thunder storms. The disease is not necessarily a fatal one; so far from its being so, if properly treated at its beginning there will be few deaths. It is characterized by sore throat, slight swelling of the throat, a disposition to sneeze, hacking cough, with a discharge of brownish yellow matter from the nostrils, quick pulse, quickened respiration, great feebleness and yellowness of the eyes and mucus membrane, the latter giving indication of inflammation. In all stages a cathartic is indicated, however, as the primary effect, but the disease being a blood poison, any animal having had previous disease by which any organ or system of organs have become weakened, will at once show symptoms indicating derangement of those organs.

With this medicine given by advice of a veterinary surgeon the following treatment will hardly fail to effect a cure or prevent the progress of the disease or the taking of it. The horses quite well or slightly affected should not be taken out in wet weather, and if they have to be so, should be warmly covered. In all stages a cathartic should be given in a well ventilated stable and fed upon hot soft food easily digested, such as linseed tea, oatmeal gruel and boiled oats or barley. The appetite of invalids should be tempted by carrots, apples or any other delicacy our quadruped friend is known to have a fancy for. In all stages a cathartic disinfectant should be liberally used.

Owners of horses in this vicinity should be on their guard, as the disease may spread in this direction from Buffalo and New York city, where it already prevails to some extent.

THE STRAIGHTOUT DEMOCRATS.—The Democratic Executive Committee of this State held a meeting at the Bolton House, Harrisburg, Wednesday week, at which the following preamble and resolutions were adopted.

Whereas, the result of the October election in Pennsylvania has fully demonstrated the fact that the State can, under no circumstances, be carried for the Liberal Republican candidate for the Presidency, Horace Greeley, and there is not, as was anticipated in case of such an overwhelming majority, a disposition on the part of the Democratic leaders to have affiliated with the Cincinnati movement to return to their allegiance to the true Democracy; and

Resolved, That the Committee recommend to the delegates here assembled, that no electoral ticket be nominated, but that the honest Democratic voters of the State refrain from taking any part in the political contest, and that they abstain from the wings of the Republican party in the interest of their respective candidates, Grant and Greeley.

In accordance with the above recommendation of the State Executive Committee of Pennsylvania, the Committee here assembled, on the 25th of October, have elected for electors. A number of delegates from different sections of the State were in attendance, and numerous letters from prominent Democrats, advising the course decided upon, were read before the convention.

SIMON CAMERON.—For the first time in his long career as a political leader Simon Cameron was made one of the main issues in a bitter, thoroughly fought and malignantly pursued political canvass. His whole course as a politician, legislator and statesman, made him the target of the Liberal Republicans, but unfairly forced by his enemies. Indeed, says the State Journal, there were localities, such as Lancaster county, where it was supposed, by dragging his name into the canvass, the cause of Republicanism would be greatly injured; and that by reviving and mentioning his name uttered against this gentleman, unthinking or prejudiced people would be misled, and Republican candidates measurably injured.—Simon Cameron's friends did not go out of their regular course to take special notice of his assailants—they did not answer the slanders uttered on the stump against him, but left unnoticed the journalists who libeled him day after day. The people were left free to judge for themselves to decide upon the merits of the witnesses and the value of their statements. Surely, Simon Cameron has no cause to complain of the decision.

It has been tried an immense jury of his fellow citizens—the prosecution has been allowed every license, the witnesses against him were permitted to give their testimony in their own style, and the verdict is in favor of the defendant. Any statesman ought to be proud of such a decision. It is a vindication which none was sought, while violence and virulence prompted the prosecution. We have a right here in Harrisburg to congratulate Simon Cameron. The evening of his public and private life is thus hallowed by a splendor or which those who love him may well be proud, and believe which his name and the country will pass in admiration.

HENDRICKS ran for Governor of Indiana to defeat Morton's re-election to the United States Senate. He did not want the gubernatorial chair, but calculated by running for that office, he would change the Legislature, it would insure his election to the United States Senate. Hendricks, like some of the Liberals and Democrats in Pennsylvania, has been woefully disappointed.

The horse epidemic prevails in Rochester to an alarming extent, fully one-half of the horses in that city being reported as affected with it. The lively stables have been compelled to stop business, the railroad companies to take off some of their cars, and in a circus company recently arriving in the city from Canada, every horse is sick.

The York County Ring Frauds—Another Daring Robbery of Vouchers.

YORK, Oct. 22.—Last March soon after the Legislature appointed the retrenching committee, the court house was entered by all the vouchers stolen. Notwithstanding the check thus caused to the auditors, they succeeded in unearthing frauds to the amount of $50,000. Only last night the bold stroke was made. All the accounts for the past six years were taken, together with stubs in which is contained the record of notes issued by the county, and the most important of all, the auditor's report itself was stolen, which was to have been filed at the November court, containing evidence of most gigantic frauds.

COLORADO.

Heavy Shipments of Wheat and Cattle.

DENVER, Oct. 21.—One million pounds of Colorado wheat is being shipped to Eastern cities this fall, and buyers are here from various points in Kansas and Missouri purchasing large quantities. Heretofore Colorado has imported largely of Eastern flour and grain, but the large yield this year has turned the tables, and Colorado wheat is sought for to mix with inferior grades of Eastern spring wheat. Heavy shipments are also made of beef cattle from this city to St. Louis. The Kansas Pacific railroad is unable to supply the demand for cars for this purpose.

EXTENSIVE FIRE IN CHICAGO.—CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—A fire occurred this evening in the large barn belonging to the West Side Omnibus Company, on W. Madison street and spreading with incredible rapidity, soon burned the entire structure and contents, including fifty horses. The fire extended to the adjoining building, a three-story frame, the lower stories occupied by a market and stores, and the upper stories as residences, which was abandoned the occupants saving a portion of their furniture.

The entire loss is estimated at $50,000; insurance, $3000 in the Citizens' and Howard, of New York; $2000 in the Amazon, of Cincinnati. Eight or ten barns and stables in the rear were also burned.

EXTENSIVE PRAIRIE FIRE.—Omaha, Nebraska, Oct. 21.—The weather has been extremely dry in this vicinity and prairie fires unusually frequent and destructive. The country within an area of thirty miles from this city has been mostly burned over, and enormous quantities of hay and grain destroyed, beside many houses and fences. Yesterday a prairie fire started two miles west of this city, destroying most of the barns and buildings at the race track and fair grounds. The soldiers at the barracks here were out all last night and to-day fighting the flames to prevent the destruction of the barracks, and have succeeded checking the fire in that quarter.
