

THE LATE CONGRESS.—The work of the late Congress was completed on Tuesday of last week at 12 o'clock, and its record is now before the country for the approval or disapproval, by their constituents of the actions of its members. A great deal of time has been uselessly expended in special legislation—in ministering to the growth of corporate monopolies. But with all this legislation, valuable to the general interests of the country, the public must be satisfied that the Republican majority are not afraid of investigation, and desire to bring to light the transactions of public men. There has been no effort to condone wrong-doing, or to cover up things needing exposure. This fact is much to the credit of the party majority in the late Congress. The greatest advantage likely to result from protracted and repeated investigations is the conviction it will produce among those who are in public service that they must labor with clean hands, and neither accept or give bribes. They must be satisfied with the honors and rewards that legitimately fall to their lot, and not make merchandise of their labors for personal gain.

The greatest mistake committed during the late session is that of passing a bill giving to each member five thousand dollars additional compensation. Party lines were obliterated in this proceeding. The members whose labors closed with this session had no fear of a popular verdict before their eyes. They, with some exceptions, rallied to the support of this act. There were those who believed that the compensation of members should be equalized by the repeal of the iniquitous mileage arrangement, and who were not unwilling to provide for such an increase as would result from this equalization and the cutting out of allowances for stationery, newspapers, &c. This would have been eminently proper. Had the pay of members of the next Congress been raised to six thousand dollars, without the allowances named, the popular verdict would have been one of approval. We were in the House at the time the bill was voted on, and felt rejoiced to see our efficient member, the Hon. John B. Packer, vote steadily against all increase of salary. This act speaks volumes for the member of the 44th District, and shows that he prefers legislation for the interests of the people instead of his pocket. Although the argument was strongly used in favor of an increase, that the expensiveness of living in Washington in conformity with its customs demanded it, he proved willing to forego the extravagance of the city of "magnificence and fashion" which simply amounts to injuries self gratification. Mr. Packer, in this instance, has served the interests of his constituents and the nation at large instead of grasping for the coveted price, which the majority of the members, irrespective of party, willingly seize and pocket.

Among the prominent acts of the late session may be mentioned the repeal of the banking privilege, the revision of the pension laws, the reduction of the internal revenue force, the fishery bill, and the postal reform bill.

THE CENTENAL.—The proposition by members of the Legislature to vote the Centennial Finance Committee $500,000, in installments, will meet with more favor than the original demand for a million dollars at once. The money is to be expended in the erection of a central building in Fairmount Park, which will remain as a permanent National Art Gallery, and Industrial Institute. The money will not be given away. There will be an equivalent for it. It will be a store-house for the products of American genius. The project depends upon the liberality of the people of the State to make the Centennial celebration a grand success. We see that the city of Philadelphia has already contributed $500,000, and its citizens $700,000 more, with subscriptions still pouring in. The railroad companies of this State have pledged through Hon. J. Edgar Thompson, a subscription of $500,000, and with the $500,000 more by the State, the buildings will be commenced. It is certain that Pennsylvania must lead off if she desires the honors of having the Centennial Anniversary of American Independence celebrated upon her soil.

THE COMPLEXION.—Arsenic is eaten it is said, to make the complexion pale. A young lady in one of the lower counties tried it, and it made her pale enough. The coroner's jury gave in as a verdict: "died from eating arsenic."

NEW HAMPSHIRE ELECTION.—The election held in New Hampshire on Tuesday last, resulted in a close vote. There will be no choice for Governor, and the question will be decided by the new Legislature. The Republicans have probably a fair working majority in the Senate and House.

THE DEMOCRACY, as usual, are endeavoring to force the Republican party to assume the entire responsibility of the odious measure increasing the pay of government employees. This won't do. The vote in the House stood 102 to 95. Of the year 52 Democrats and Liberals. Thus it will be seen that a majority of the negative votes were Republican. Of the 102 years 55 are members no longer.

HERE is the way they do things in Cincinnati. A hospital wagon started off for the public burying ground with two coffins, each containing the remains of a dead person. The Cincinnati Commercial may tell the balance:

It seems the driver had occasion, for some reason not yet explained, to stop the wagon, and leave the horses standing in the road, during his absence the animals became frightened and started down Ohio avenue at full speed. Arriving at a certain point in the road, they turned to the right and started in the direction of the bluff at the head of the street, when the horses were over, dragging the wagon after them. The vehicle was dashed to pieces in an instant, the coffins thrown out and broken to atoms, after which their ghastly contents, half rotted in the habiliments of a grave, were rolling and bounding from point to point as they reached the bottom of the hill, in the rear of the brewer's, and stopped on a pile of rocks with a thud.

The Bellefonte Republicans has the following: The engineers of the Continental R. Co., of which Wm. F. McManus, of this place, is a member, are at present making a survey along Beach Creek. The eastern terminus of the road is at Elizabeth City, N. J. It will tap the Susquehanna river at Selingsgrove, thence up White Deer Creek and down Fishing Creek through Sugar Valley to Washington Furnace. Gary Thomas, of Nittany Valley, through Mill Hill, Beach Creek and into the coal fields of Clinton and Centre counties.

A MAINE man has succeeded in making a very fair artificial oyster out of flour paste, potato, salt and water. The inventor places these in second-hand oyster shells, which are carefully blued around the edges, and when a half-intoxicated customer calls for "a dozen raw on the half-shell," he gets them fresh from the shop. Somebody said a dealer in human hair in New York had a number of hair balls and buttons from the head of a small-pox patient, and the dealer took the disease and died.

California Salmon in the Susquehanna.

At a meeting of a number of prominent gentlemen from the different States, interested in the culture of salmon, shad, trout and other fish, held in the city of New York, last fall, Col. James Worrall, our active and energetic Fish Commissioner, succeeded in securing the quota of young California salmon, intended for Pennsylvania. The plan which was adopted by the Commissioners at Washington, was to have the fish from the head waters of the Sacramento, in California, and hatched at the establishment of Dr. J. Hamilton Shick, Bloomington, N. J. The first season, now three months old, and from one inch to one inch and three-quarters in length. Six thousand nine hundred were started from Dr. Shick's establishment, yesterday morning, in charge of Mr. J. P. Creveling. They were placed in three large iron cans, and supplied with fresh water, en route to Harrisburg, and arrived here at 4 P. M., via the Alleghenue route. About five hundred perished in the transit. The remainder, over six thousand, were placed in a wagon belonging to Jacob H. Eby, and taken up town and put in the river at the south corner of the wharf at the water house, by Mr. Creveling, in the presence of Col. Worrall, D. W. Selzer, Esq., and a number of ladies and a crowd of lookers on. The little strangers jumped and leaped and floundered about, and in a short time hid themselves—every fish as lively as a cricket under the lamp shade.

ELECTION FRAUDS IN LAZERNE COUNTY.—After the October election we stated that monstrous election frauds had been committed in Luzerne county on behalf of the Democrats; that on a registry of 800 votes, a Democratic majority of FIFTEEN hundred had been returned. The evidence was so abundant, so clear, so conclusive, that about 1800 votes polled only 407 were actually registered.

THE LAW VINDICATED.

A VERDICT OF $119,726 53 FOR THE COMMONWEALTH.

The jury in the case of the Commonwealth vs. George O. Evans, this morning returned a verdict of $119,726 53 in favor of the Commonwealth. This settles the question so far as the Commonwealth is concerned, and justifies the officers fully in having the matter judicially tried. Mr. Evans seemed to be well satisfied with the verdict, and to have accepted of the Court, it is understood that it is only a common debt. If he has no visible proof the judgment is worthless; and it seems extremely doubtful whether he has much left of the money withdrawn from the State. If he considers the extraordinary expense incurred by his defense, he has lived in the city of New York ever since the commencement of investigation, with almost a half dozen counsel engaged for the past two years, and the expenses thus incurred, with the large amount paid to outside parties, such as six thousand dollars to the Forneys, would soon deplete his pile.

A Murder for Love.

SALISBURY, Md., March 9.—On Friday afternoon, March 7, George Hall, aged 18, willfully shot and killed Amelia Shockey, aged 14. The young lady was on her way home from school, accompanied by other children. It appears that Hall had been trying to court the young lady, and had written her a letter, which she had failed to answer, stating to him, just before the fatal deed, that she had not had time to answer. It is reported that he had lain in wait for her the day previous, but, she being accompanied by her brother on that day, he desisted. Both are of respectable families living in Wienoock county, a short distance from Salisbury. The murderer is still at large. Diligent search was made at once, and is still kept up.

EXECUTIVE MANSION, } WASHINGTON, March 4, 1873. } MY DEAR MR. COLFAX: Allow me to say that I sympathize with you in the recent Congressional investigations; that I have watched them closely, and I am as satisfied now, as I ever have been, of your integrity, patriotism, freedom from the charges imputed as if I knew of your own knowledge of your innocence. Our official relations have been so pleasant that I would like to keep up the personal relations through life. Affectionately, yours, U. S. GRANT.

CONDITION OF THE SUSQUEHANNA.

WILLIAMSPORT, March 12.—The river has risen five feet and is still rising slowly. No damage has been done here as yet, and no is apprehended.

PORT DEPOSIT, Md., March 12.—The river is very muddy and is cutting channels in the gorge and working it away. Everything is now favorable.

COLUMBIA, March 12.—The ice gorge has not moved. The river only rose six inches during the night. It is still rising slowly.

CHICKES, Pa., March 12.—The river rose about fourteen inches last night. No damage.

The following bills passed the House of Representatives at Harrisburg on Tuesday: To repeal the act, entitled An act giving bounty on fox, mink and pole-cat skins, in the county of Northumberland, so far as the same relates to pole-cat scalps. Passed. To repeal an act approved the second day of April, A. D. 1872, authorizing the supervisors of Millin township, in the county of Dauphin, and Lower Mahanoy township, in the county of Northumberland, to build a foot bridge across the Mahanoy creek. Passed.

GOVERNOR HARRISMAN has vetoed a bill repealing the cumulative voting act, so far as it relates to the borough of Connellysville, Fayette county, on the ground that such legislation is special, for if the law is wrong in its application to one place, it is wrong for all other districts where it is in force, and ought therefore to be repealed. A number of similar bills were before the Legislature. This veto disposes of them.

NEW ORLEANS.

ALI-QUOT—COMPROMISE PROPOSED.

NEW ORLEANS, March 9.—All quiet, is the report to-night. The street streets are quiet. Wednesday is almost forgotten, but it is not probable that such a scene will again be enacted, at least for considerable time. The feeling upon the people has changed considerably since the light, and many who this day week supported the McENERY or Fusionist cause are now opposed to it. Efforts are making to effect a compromise, but the prospects of success are not bright. The plan which meets with favor among the Fusionists is that Kellogg be allowed to keep the gubernatorial chair, and that the Legislature be reorganized. The tax remitting scheme proposed by the Fusionists will come to nothing.

A FASHIONABLE young lady of Philadelphia dropped one of her false eyebrows in a church pew, and badly frightened a young man next to her, who thought it was his moustache.

WOODRUFF and CLAFIN have certainly been doing a noble work, and deserves honor if they will give up the medals which have not been so numerous for many years. Wouldn't it be a good thing for all the happy couples to draw up a memorial of thanks, and send it to these two estimable (? ladies?)—Money Lanyards.

THE stockholders of the Lewisburg and Millburg Turnpike Company have elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President—Geo. F. Miller. Managers—William Cameron, Solomon Ritter, John W. Simonton, Martin Dreisbach.

Miscellaneous News Items.

THE Public Debt has been reduced over five millions of dollars during the month of February. The estate of Horace Greeley has been appraised, and his personal property amounts to $30,000.

GOV. HARRISMAN'S veto is highly commended by the press of the State, without distinction of party. GEN. JOHN McALLA, formerly one of the Auditors of the United States Treasury, died in Washington on last Saturday.

HON. A. H. STEPHENS has been elected to Congress from the Eighth district of Georgia, to fill a vacancy, without opposition.

THE vote on the local option question, so far as received from twenty-seven counties of this State, shows a majority of about 8,000 against license.
