The great topic of conversation, every-where, is now the great suspensions of the past week. The financial panic unequalled since '57 it created, is now subsiding, and the worst is over. Its results have not been so disastrous here as in New York, owing to the substantial and staid transactions of our Banks. The commercial interest have not been affected, it being a stock panic, and the loss fell upon the Railroad Interests chiefly. The sympathy of the public has been very greatly towards Jay Cooke & Co., and the hope is freely expressed that very soon they may resume. No one will loose by them is confidently believed, and the people and nation owe them a debt that now in their distress should not be forgotten. There has been but one Bank suspension so far, and it caused by the foolishness of depositors. It does seem at such times as if people lost and will continue two weeks.

This fact proves something. It proves that the genuine trade of the country, that upon which the real prosperity of the nation rests, was never in a healthier, stronger condition than it is to-day. We can recall no other time of financial disaster at all approaching in appearances of general ruin this last crisis, in which commerce, manu-factures and agriculture did not share in the misfortures of finance. But is this tas. the misfortunes of finance. But in this panic, finance alone was hurt, all other branches standing firm as a rock.

All that there is to do now is to clear away the debris and to understand clearly the causes which led to the great crash. Having done that, let the dead bury the dead, and let the living press forward to fill the places that the panie has left vacant. The late money panic will, we believe, result beneficially, and render the government still stronger, while it teaches a severe lesson to banks and to the speculators. It has shown to banks the danger of the principle of certification where there may be any doubts of the making good of the accounts. timely resort to this standard preparation, as has been proved by the hundreds of testimonials received by the proprietors. It is acknowledged by many prominent physicians to be the most reliable preparation ever introduced for the relief and cure of all Lung complaints, and is offered to the public, sanctioned by the experience of over forty years. When resorted to in season it seldom fails to effect a speedy cure in the most severe cases of Coughs, Bronchitis, Croup, Whooping Cough, Influenza, Asthma, Colds, Sore Throat, Pains or Soreness in the Chest and Side, Liver Complaint, Bleeding at the Lungs, &c. Wistar's Balsam does not dry up a Cough, and leave the cause behind, as is the case with most preparations, but it loosens and cleanses the lungs, and allays irritation, thus removing the cause of the complaint.
