can't help it.' 'Last Saturday, at breakfast, 'said Squills, 'she was smiling as a bundle of chips.'

'Are your chops done to your liking, Squills, dear ? 'Delicious, my love.'

'I broiled them myself, dear.' 'I knew it was going to be cold,' said Squills, 'and when I got into the hall to leave Mrs. Squille was there with my hat in the market. For in one hand and my overcoat in the other.'

'Squills, dear,' she began. 'I thought it time to pitch in here, 'said Squills, 'so I said, 'How much, Mrs. Sqills? Out with it, my love.

'Mr. Squills.' said she, 'don't be unmanly. sir, I beg; not to say ridiculous. Gussy wants a new silk dress to go to church in; the poor child really isn't decent-'you are very sorry; well, so you ought to be, 'Let SOUR STOMACH, her say her prayers at home.' No, Mr. Squills, she shan't stay at home, and she shan't say her prayers; and Mr. Squills, you're enough to aggravate a saint, and your conduct is disgusting, and is enough to drive a woman to bolt right off to Chicago and get a divorce.'

'I thought this was a good time to fire off my pet joke," said Squills; 'so I said, 'Mrs. Squills, a bolt is always in order.' Then I bolted myself, for Mrs. Squills comes of a fighting family.'

'When I went home at night, Gussy, dear child, played all my pet Offenback NERVOUS music, and I knew I was in for the dress, only I wanted to hold out till morning, just for the look of the thing."

'For five years after we were married,' said Squills, 'Mrs. S. would persist in looking under the bed for a man. It's the same man every woman looks for, I spose, because they all do it. Well, failing to find the man, Mrs. Squills finally gave him up in disgust, and took to something else, I spose,' said Squills; 'they all take to something else after they can't find the man under the bed. Mrs. Squills' weakness is bolting the door. 'Mr. Squills, have you bolted the door ?' is always the last thing No other Bitters in the universe can equal them. at night.

A MASSACHUSETTS farmer says : My cattle will follow me until I leave the lot, and on the way up to the barn yard in the evening stop and call for a lock of hay. Smithson says there is nothing at all remarkable about that. He went into a barn yard in the country one day last week, where he had not the slightest acquaintance with the cattle, and an old bull not only followed him until he left the lot, but took the gate off the hinges and raced with him to the house in the most familiar way possible. Smithson says he has no doubt that the old fellow would have called for something if he had waited a little while, but he didn't want to keep the folks waiting for dinner, so he hung one tail of his coat and a piece of his pants on the buil's horns and went into the house.

WHILE Company 'N' of the Twentyeighth Pennsylvania Volunteers was doing picket duty on the Potomac, John Moy, not many years from old Ireland, was placed as sentinel, with orders to examine all 'passes.' gar Bitters are a purely Vegetable preparation, made chiefly from the native herbs found on the lower ranges of the Sierra Nevada mountains of California, the medicinal properties of which are extracted therefrom without the use of Alcohol. The question is almost daily asked, "What is the cause of the unparalleled success of VINEGAR BITTERS?" Our answer is, that they remove the cause of disease, and the patient recovers his health. They are the great blood purifier and a life-giving principle, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the system. Never before in the history of the world has a medicine been compounded possessing the remarkable qualities of VINEGAR BITTERS in healing the sick of every disease man is heir to. They are a gentle Purgative as well as a Tonie, relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver and Visceral Organs in Bilious

All pass Sunbury daily except Sunday.

A GRAND GIFT CONCERT will be given at Sunbury, Pa., by the Independent WASHINGTON STEAM FIRE COMPANY, On MONDAY, JULY 13, 1874. e tickets are all sold before that time, due notice will be given of the time, A full Drawing Certain. Owing to the Panic, and in order to meet the genera wish and expectation of the public and the ticket-holders for the full payment of the Gifts announced, the man-agement have determined to postpone the Concert and Drawing to the date above stated.

Drawing to the date above stated.

The object of this enterprise is for the purpose of securing a Steam Fire Engine, which will be an advantage to all neighboring towns accessible by rail, from the fact that it will be an Independent Company. And as we have never failed to discharge our duty when called upon, we certainly will be able to accomplish more good with the aid of a steamer. There is no less than nineteen large and small towns within thirty miles of Sunbury, all of which can be reached by railroad, thus affording the facility of assisting any of those places in less than an hour's time; while at the same time our town will not be unprotected. Our project being a laudable one, we be unprotected. Our project being a laudable one, w feel confident that all the tickets will be disposed of by

THE FOLLOWING IS A LIST OF GIFTS: NE GRAND GIFT OF. 1,857 Total .. This enterprise is no individual speculation, such as houses, lots and furniture put up at fabulous prices. The holder of a successful ticket will receive hs GIFT in CASH.

CURING CLOVER HAY .- A correspondent of the Germantown Telegraph gives the following as his plan for curing and using clover hay. He says: "The most common way is to salt plentifully when putting away, but as sometimes stock On and after Sunday, December 1st, 1873, the Trains on the Philadelphia & Eric Rail Road Diviways. The first is to lime, where barn room is not plenty, after this manner: Put down the 12.55 p m hay over the mow loosely about eighteen inches 5.05 p m in depth, and setter over air-slacked lime, say 9.20 p m about one-half peck to each ten feet square of 8.50 a m surface. Tramp down while laying ; then an-10.30 p m other eighteen inches, and so until completed. 3.05 a m | Clover put up in this way requires as much sun-7.30 a m shine as possible, and as little breaking of the 10.05 a m leaves; but it can be put away quite as green by 7.20 pm salting. > 7.35 p m lowing plan : Cut the clover in the morning and 8.25 a m afternoon, lay it loosely over the scaffolds and 12.55 p m floors two feet or more thick, but never pack 3.10 p m away. If not burried fork it over two or three days and mow away. I can put up in my barn 3.25 p m about an acre a day. It is a slow way in this fast age, but when one sees the hay in February 4.50 a m and March he must acknowledge it a good way. 9.10 a m "My way of feeding clover hay is principally 11.20 a m to milch cows; and we can always have good 9.55 p m yellow butter when the cows are fed once a day 11.10 p m on clover hay. in its best estate.-Journal of Chemistry. FOOD FOR Pigs .- There is no doubt in our mind of the benefit from feeding crude carbonaceous matter to swine, when they are kept in close pens. The avidity with which hogs eat rotten wood is well known. Charcoal is but another form of carbon. Bituminous coal is still another form. The utility of feeding wood and coal has long been recognized. We some years since substituted the ordinary western stone coal with the best results, where from 200 to 500 hogs were kept in close pens and fed on the refuse of city hotels. Something of the kind seems as necessary to them as salt to strictly herbivorous animals. We have known them to consume a pound in the course of a day, and again they would not seek the coal for some time. Just what the particular use coal is in the animal economy, is not so easy to answer. Swine are especially liable to scrofulous and inflammatory diseases. Carbon, in the shape of coal, is an antiseptic, and the probability is that it acts in this way in purifying the blood .- Western Rural. RAW TURNIPS .- Some one writes the Herald of Health :- "I have always let my children eat as many raw turnips as they like. I heard a city woman say the other day they were not healthy, and I believe they don't burt anybedy. Will you please settle this dispute for us?" The editor answers:-Generally children are fond of raw turnips of the flat, white, strap leafed variety, if taken fresh from the field before very old and tough. If they are scraped with a kulfe they will not harm healthy, active children. If simply chewed they are not easily digested. As a rule country children have better appetites and more waste and more want, hence the same rule will not apply to both classes." CHICKEN CHOLERA.—It appears that a correscondent of the Country Gentleman at last found the remedy for chicken cholera. He says: I lost some thirty-five the past season out of a flock of one hundred, before I could bring my mind to try a remedy that had been suggested. After trying everything else that I could hear of without avail, I did try it, and stopped the remedy at once. This remedy consisted in pouring a little kerosene oil on their corn, and then mixing it through the corn with the hand. I first tried t with some that were very sick, and the next day they were well. I then fed it to the flock, and have not lost a chicken since; and they all look much more brilliant in plumage than be-

WHAT IS IN THE BEDROOM .- The importance of ventilating bedrooms is a fact in which everybody is vitally interested, and which few properly appreciate. If two men are to occupy a bedroom during a night, let them step upon weighing-scales as they retire, and then again in the morning, and they will find that their actual weight is at least a pound less in the morning. Frequently there will be a loss of one or two pounds, and the average loss throughout the year will be more than one pound; that is during the night there is a loss of a pound of matter, which has gone off from their bodies, partly from the lungs and partly through the pores of the skin. The escaped material is carbonic acid

CUTTING potatoes for planting is a fertile source of weakness. The potato is a perennial plant, propagated from the eyes or buds of the tuber is not a part of the root, but rather of the top. The whole object of its formation, as far as nature is concerned, is for the purpose of perpetuating itself. The roots, leaves, stalks, and all parts of the plant, are there in embryo, and grow only proves its great natural vigor. Try this practice upon the apple, peach, pear, plum or any other fleshy germs, and see if you can continue to grow them. The skin of the tuber is almost impervious to fluids, and protects the stered-up food from injury antil the plant gets a start. Cutting it opens the way to injury from water, and causes the seed to rot, dwarfs the plant when it does grow, and deprives it of the materials which nature placed within it for the sustenance of the plant while young. If we would restore it, we must cultivate it upon high lands, cease stimulating it with animal manure and feculent matter to grow large crops,-give it Instead mineral manures, more room, and stronger powers of digestion than city children.
