

Humorous Sketches.
HOW THE WOMEN ORGANIZE.—It is a sad thing to see ten or twelve women get together and attempt to organize a 'society to aid the poor.' They tried it in Ninth avenue the other afternoon, after having talked up the matter for three or four weeks. Thirteen or fourteen of them met by appointment, and after some skirmishing one of them called the meeting to order and said that the first duty would be to elect a President.
A sharp-faced woman got up and said that she would not accept the office, but if it was the wish of the meeting she would take it; why, she asked. There was a painful pause, and a fat woman arose and said that she had considerable experience with such societies, and that she thought she could render greater personal aid if made President. There was another painful pause, and a little woman rose up and squeaked: 'I move to lay the subject on the table.'
The other woman looked at her in a freezing way, and it was suggested that a ballot be taken. All readily agreed to this, and ballots were prepared and a ballot passed around. When the votes were counted it was found that each woman had put in at least one for herself and three of them had put in two or three. The President, then, looked very grave as she stood up and remarked:
'Ladies, I trust that this error may not occur again.'
'I do, however, or at least each one cast a vote for herself, but on the third ballot a choice was made and the lucky woman took her seat, smoothed out the folds of her dress, and remarked:
'The next thing in order is the next thing.'
A woman with a wart on her nose, then made a speech, saying that she had been treasurer of several similar associations, and that if it was the wish of the convention she would accept the office. It didn't seem to be the wish however.
'I move to adjourn,' solemnly exclaimed a woman with a large back-cloth.
'The motion is in order or in order replied a woman across the room.'
'Am I in the chair or you?' demanded the President.
'I move to resign the motion,' squeaked the little woman.
'I support the question,' put in the fat woman.
The President wiped her spectacles, rapped on the stove pipe, and replied:
'Ladies and gentlemen, there is no motion before the house, and the question to adjourn is out of order.'
'Not much!' exclaimed a woman nearly six feet high, drawing herself up. 'I've seen more meetings of this kind than the President ever heard of, and I know that an order to adjourn is always in motion!'
'So is your tongue!' said one of the league and the President knocked on the stove-pipe and said:
'The chair believes she knows her business as well as any other woman wearing plated jewelry, or as well as if she had a wart on her nose! We will now proceed to elect a Secretary and Treasurer. May shall they be elected?'
'Viver voce!' cried one.
'I motion by ballot' added a second.
'By exclamation!' shouted a third.
'You mean exclamation,' explained the President, looking at the last speaker.
'I don't wear an Alaska diamond,' was the reply, but I know as much as some folks that do!
'Least joun!' shouted a female who was born in 1810.
'I move the previous motion,' put in the fat woman.
'Will some one nominate a candidate?' asked the President.
A painful silence ensued.
The fat of a pin falling over onto a stove-burner. Each hoped to have some one else nominate her, and all, therefore, breathed hard and kept silence.
'I nominate Mrs. —,' finally said the President, seeing there was a dead-lock.
'You can't nominate and put the question too!' squeaked an old lady with beauteous features.
'I order the previous motion,' said a woman with a red shawl.
'And I'm going hum!' added the fat woman.
'Soam I!'
'Soam I!'
And they stalked out, leaving the President tying up her left shoe, and her eyes flashing wild cats. All this while Detroit hasn't another 'Society to Aid the Deserving Poor.'—Detroit Free Press.
'IS YOU A FRIEND OF DE CULLED MARY?'—Here's your nice roast chicken! cried an aged colored man as the cars stopped at a North Carolina railway station. 'Here's your nice roast chicken! taters, all nice and hot!' holding up his plate and walking the platform.
'Where did you get that chicken, Uncle P?' asked a passenger.
Uncle looked at the intruder sharply and then turned away, crying: 'Here's yer nice roast chicken! gittin' 'n' all hot; needn't go in the house for dat!' 'Where did you get that chicken?' repeated the inquisitive passenger.
'Look-a-ye!' said Uncle, speaking privately: 'is you from de Norf?'
'Yes!'
'Is yer a friend of de culled man?' 'I hope I am!'
'Don't you no better ask me where I got dat chicken again! Here's yer nice roast chicken!'—all hot!
'MAY I leave a few tracks?' asked a medical missionary of a lady who responded to his knock. 'Leave some tracks?' 'Certainly you may,' said she, looking at him benignly over her specs. 'Leave them with the heels toward the house, if you please.'
'A PARENT, with fifteen daughters, has positioned his dog, taken the locks off the doors, and hung rope-ladders over his doorway fence by the dozen, and still his provision bill is as large as ever.
'An Englishman dining in a Chinese village was enjoying a savory dish, and would have expressed his pleasure to the waiter, who, however, understood nothing of English, nor could our friend utter a word of Chinese. The smacking of lips indicated satisfaction; and then came the question, ingeniously put. Pointing the portion of meat in the dish, and which he supposed to be duck, the Englishman, with an inquiring look, said: 'Quack, quack, quack?' The waiter, gravely shaking his head, as much as to say, 'No,' replied, 'Box, wow, wow?'
'To preserve the teeth—lock 'em up in the safe.'
AT twilight every man becomes a rooster. The way to kill time—Shoot every day. The end of everything—The letter 'g'. A PAIR of tights—Two drummers. FAMILY ties—Apron strings. THE cod which all like to come—A dividend.

VINEGAR BITTERS

Dr. J. Walker's California Vinegar Bitters are a purely vegetable preparation, made chiefly from the native herbs found in the lower ranges of the Sierra Nevada mountains of California, the medicinal properties of which are extracted therefrom without the use of Alcohol. They are the great blood purifier and a life-giving principle, a perfect Restorative and Invigorator of the system. Never before in the history of the world has a medicine been compounded possessing the remarkable qualities of VINEGAR BITTERS in healing the sick of every disease man is heir to.
