PENROSE TALKS TO MANY WORKERS

In the Beaver Valley He Shows the Hold-up of the Automobile License Funds

Good roads and the tariff were discussed in the Beaver Valley by Senator Boies Penrose yesterday, and everywhere the Senator was splendidly received. The reports submitted to him were of the most gratifying kind. Senator Penrose emphasized the note of "bad business," told his auditors that even worse times were ahead and that only the Republican party could bring back prosperity.

and gave out a statement on the road situation. Auditor General Powell and the party of Flinn were held responsible for delays while wagon springs were being broken, motorcars wrecked throughout Pennsylvania and farmers kept from nearby markets by wretched roads. Among the towns visited were Ambridge, Rochester, New Brighton, Wampum, Switzley and settlements en route. The largest crowd to greet the Senator, until he met the members of the Good Roads Association at dinner, was in Beaver Falls, where he made two speeches, one in the dining-room of the Grand Hotel and the other from the hotel steps. While he was speaking a colored political club came up and lustily cheered him. In his address at Woodlawn, Senator Penrose said that the $2,500,000 derived from auto licenses and held up by the Auditor General he had no doubt would soon be available for road purposes, as an immediate hearing will be asked if appeal is made to the Supreme Court, and he believed the State would win its contention for the use of this fund.

State aid highways, $500,000," said the Senator. "The Legislature also applied the receipts derived from automobile licenses for two years, some $2,500,000, to the Highway Department. Of the amounts directly appropriated nearly $1,000,000 was applied to contracts now in force and being proceeded undid in the different parts of the State. This appropriation includes all the work done from June 1, 1913. This expenditure covers, of course, the work contracted for from the beginning of the fiscal year, June 1, 1913, down to the present time. Of course, this amount is increased by the pro rata contributions of counties and townships under recent acts of the Legislature.

BAUM, MAIL CLERK, GETS 3 YEARS IN PEN

Man Who Stole $20,000 Tells Judge He Acted on Sudden Impulse

One moment's sudden yielding to temptation cost William R. Baum, a former United States postal clerk, just three years in the Eastern Penitentiary at Philadelphia. Baum, whose sensational theft of $20,000 in two $10,000 packages from a Government mail bag somewhere between Pittsburgh and this city the evening of July 4, 1912, pleaded guilty before Federal Judge C. B. Witmer in United States Court yesterday afternoon and was sentenced to three years and to pay a fine of $100.

The Federal grand jury considered Baum's case for half an hour and upon the return of the indictment United States District Attorney Rogers L. Burtnett called Baum for sentence. The Government attorney and Senator E. E. Beidleman and Captain Frank Ziegler, counsel for the defense, conferred with Judge Witmer. Then the Federal attorney explained the circumstances as Baum himself had told them to his counsel. The only witness was Chief Inspector Cortelyou. In reply to the Court's queries Mr. Cortelyou told how the money was missed when the mail bag in question reached New York. The register showed that it marked "111" until after the bag left Pittsburgh. It wasn't opened until it reached New York; there it registered No. "112." Every time these bags are unlocked they register another number. It was not until the latter part of April, in fact, twenty Government sleuths trailed the thief; it cost Uncle Sam something like $20,000. Baum's own extravagances, his purchase of an automobile, his expensive vacation trips, his stock speculations—all helped point the finger of suspicion. His confession followed soon after his arrest. He has made a restitution to the extent of nearly $11,000, sold his farm and all his personal property and is now penniless. His story in brief was to the effect that on the memorable Fourth of July night he was the only man awake in his crew. A lurch of the train threw him against the mail bag and at the same time exposed a key. In a sudden field of temptation Baum said he unlocked the bag. In imposing sentence Judge Witmer talked to the black-headed, pale-faced man, much like a father—or, rather an older brother. Then a Deputy United States Marshal tapped Baum on the shoulder.

Oldest School Teacher in Lancaster County Is Dead

Special to The Telegraph. Marietta, Pa., May 5.—Francis M. Lennox, the oldest educational instructor in this part of the State, died yesterday at his home in Georgetown, a few miles below Lancaster. He was 91 years old and was born in Ireland, coming to this country when fifteen years old. He landed at New York city and from there went to different points in Pennsylvania. He attended Millersville State Normal school and also the old Marietta Academy, which has been out of existence many years. He was a teacher in the Marietta High school in 1850 and a year later was teaching at Christian, Lancaster county, during serious riots there in 1851. He was an important witness in the trials which followed.
