

OPEN AIR SERVICES BY TWO PASTORS

Rev. Runyan and Rev. Hart Will Preach Out of Doors Tomorrow Evening

Although the heated weather is drawing to a close, and within a few weeks it will be cool and comfortable with in the doors, the pastor usually finds both preacher and people pretty well fagged out, and disinclined to endure the uncomfortable atmosphere of a hot Sunday evening.

Reformed Church Leaders Will Meet in Philadelphia

Leaders of the Reformed Church in the United States will meet in Philadelphia next Friday for the first session of the twenty-first annual assembly.

The storm of Thursday having wrecked the tent in which Evangelist Carmichael has been conducting services at Sixth and Schuylkill streets, the services will be discontinued until further notice.

Sees No Reason Why Sainly Folk Should Not Be Made Cool

THE REV. JOHN L. DAUGHERTY Living Example of Point Wherein Julius Caesar Didn't Hit It

"Let me have about me men that are fat, such as sleep of nights,"—Kaiser Julius. Probably this quotation is an aspersion on the Rev. John L. Daugherty, for judging by an account of his activities, calls for aid and parish calls and prohibition and civic council work, it's a wonder if he sleeps at all.

Pope Was Born Poor and Wished to Die Poor

Rome, Aug. 22.—"I was born poor, have lived poor and wish to die poor," wrote Pope Pius X in his will, which was read to-day. The late Pontiff had no patrimony and left no estate.

Cloudburst Sends Great Rivers Down Mountain Roads Near Pen Mar Park

Waynesboro, Pa., Aug. 22.—In the electrical storm that passed over Waynesboro and vicinity Friday there was a veritable cloudburst at Pen Mar Park, the severest of the many electrical storms and deluges that have visited that region.

The schoolhouse at Mont Alto, north of Waynesboro, was struck by lightning on Friday afternoon. The roof was demolished and the roof badly shattered. The bolt landed after the storm had passed and the sun was shining. D. M. Brown, postmaster at Mont Alto, stepped out of his front door at the moment the building was struck and saw the cupola knocked to pieces.

Another Storm Damages Property Near Millersburg

Millersburg, Pa., Aug. 22.—The storm on Friday afternoon, which was the most severe in this section this summer, out in the valley many cornfields have been leveled and many barns were broken. Roofs of many barns were blown off.

Lightning Strikes Telephone in Storm at Columbia

Columbia, Pa., Aug. 22.—A large new barn near this place, owned by Peter A. Gable, butcher, was struck by a cold bolt of lightning, which splintered one side of the building from the roof to the ground.

Majestic Reopened, Will Open Next Week

Miss Annette Kellermann, the well-known actress who created and plays the roll of Annette, a ravishing mermaid, in the spectacular and stupendous picture play, "Neptune's Daughter," which will be the attraction at the Majestic Theater commencing Thursday, August 27, and continuing the remainder of the week, has been proclaimed the country's greatest and most remarkable woman among the grand galaxy of stars known in the picture world to-day.

AT THE VICTORIA

To-day the feature at this house will be "The Water of Mystery," a play directed by Miss Maudie. It is a story of dual personality and spirit control and is done in four parts. Two comedies make up the rest of the bill—"The Girl," a Key-Exchange comedy in two reels, and "Sanna's New Suit," an American comedy. On Monday the attraction will be the ninth instalment of "The Million Dollar Mystery," the $10,000 prize story of the Thanahouser Company.—Advertisement.

WILLIE AT THE PHOTOPLAY

Willie is an effeminate specimen of manhood and is in love with a girl who makes him speak to father. But father simply laughs at a son, who claims he wants a man for a wife, in the law not a "Willie Boy." So Willie in despair goes to Texas ranch to forget his troubles. He does lose them for the cowboys never give the fellow a minute's rest. He has good fun to lose, so they keep things pretty lively for him. But the worm turns, and Willie's manhood is aroused so that he in turn "gets back" and pays interest for every joke that has been played on him. He becomes a man and goes back to marry the girl he loves. Episode 10 of "Perils of Pauline" will also be shown to-day.—Advertisement.

AT THE PALACE

The program for Monday at this theater includes J. Warren Kerrigan and Vera Sisson in a two reel Victor drama named "Weights and Measures." A frontier western drama, "The Mind's Awakening," is also included in the program. "Driven From Home" is a big three reel feature of sensation. All of these will be shown on Monday. Starting on Tuesday evening the great new serial from the Universal studios "The Trolley of Hearts" will be shown. This story is from the pen of Louis Vance and is heralded as being the greatest motion-picture of its kind yet produced.—Advertisement.

Back to the Source

The little town of Saloma was thriving and prosperous when the traveller first saw it. Upon inquiry he learned that the prosperity of the town was due to the water from a spring far up in the mountains. So long as the people made daily pilgrimages to the spring and gave thanks, the water supply continued.

Years after, the traveller returned and found that but a small stream trickled down the almost dry riverbed. All of the people with the exception of one friendless maiden had become indifferent to their duty. Each contented himself with the thought that if his neighbors respectively carried out their duties, it would not be necessary for him to make the pilgrimage, and the supply of water—their blessing—ceased.

Published by Charles Scribner's Sons. Synopsis "The Source" Dr. Henry van Dyke.

This little story, mythical as it may seem, holds a great lesson for us to-day. For we, a twentieth century people, are thinking less than we should about The Source.

Our Maker is the Source of our life, our pleasures, our benefits and our blessings. Through the church and her services is the way that we should be in Divine communication with Him. It is the pathway over which the Almighty intends that we should make our pilgrimage to The Source.

It little matters which church you attend—each has as its head the same Source.

We, as a people, need to get back to that Source. The way we can do it is to

OPENING BILL CLOSES

To-night marks the exit of the Orpheum's opening bill, an aggregation of Keith acts that delighted big audiences all week, despite the presence of one of the most excessive heat waves of the summer.

AT THE COLONIAL

A really clever comedy violinist, a rattling good duo of sidewalk comedians, and the Three Fountain Nymphs, combine into one of the best variety bills Colonial patrons have seen. Of moving picture interest these days is the big comedy feature called "Zu Zu, the Leader of the Band," a special feature that contains more side-splitting laughs than any film that has been at the Busy Corner for many a day.—Advertisement.
