

delphia to Trenton, and walk half a dozen times round the race course.

In the midst of this, Mesmerism broke out, and Dixon, like the Magi of Egypt, did also, and not only wrought seeming miracles, by putting folks to sleep—the first time, we suspect, he ever let any one sleep in his active presence—but he performed the real miracle, as set forth in the first paragraph of biographical sketch—he made converts of many physicians. Who shall say, then, that Dixon has not achieved greatness as well as notoriety.

TEXAS GOLD.—The following article, relative to the mineral wealth of that country, we clip from a late paper Red Lander:

"A party were recently conducted to the silver mines situated between the streams of Llano and San Saba, on the Llano. One of the party, Mr. Holden, discovered and brought away specimens of ore of gold, found in small particles through a gage of white quartz.—They were led to a place by an old Indian, who states that he was with a party who massacred the Spaniards who formerly worked these silver mines; as evidences of which latter, were seen three old furnaces.

"Mr. Holden has visited the gold region of Georgia, and expresses a belief that the country from which he fairly returned is far more prolific than any portion of that State. The old man says, there are two large veins of pure silver in the bed of a small stream whose Llano, and has offered to guide a party through it, and it appears they are about to set out on the trip. The silver, it is said, is here seen projecting above the rocks, and so soft as to yield to a knife like wood."

Large Pews.

The New York Commercial Advertiser thus notices what is called the pride and vanity of the world, on the other side of the Atlantic:

"We ourselves have seen in England, pews exhibiting not only the dimensions, but the appointments of a drawing-room. One in particular we remember, that was fifteen feet square and most elegantly furnished, with carpet, fire-place, tables, chairs, book-cases, pictures, mantel lamps, foot-stools, ottomans, and a sofa. In fact it was a room, not a pew, and was divided from the rest of the church by a high screen, over which the occupants could see the Parson, but could not themselves be seen by the rest of the congregation. To be sure the owner of this elegant worshippers place was the lord of the manor, and had given a new organ and peal of bells to the Church."

We have recently seen a much worse display of space, in the way of "worshipping room," than that mentioned by our contemporary, though we never crossed the Atlantic on such discoveries.

We were civilly invited to worship with a friend, into whose neighborhood we had gone, and took into a space partitioned off from one much larger than the rest. It had a fire-place, table, chair, one picture, no carpet, and no sofa, but in their place a bed, absolutely a bed. The occupants were so far separated from the "Parson," that they not only could not see him, but they could not hear him; and the owner of the enclosure had absolutely set up for himself and led off the service quite loud, so that he might easily be heard around the enclosure, certainly above it, though the aristocratic family could not be seen by the rest of the congregation, if any had assembled.

We were told that this custom is becoming rather fashionable in our country, though in fact the room to which we refer, was not a pew, but a "shanty," and to be sure, the owner of the elegant worshippers place was liege, lord, and landlord, and had built his church, and begotten most of the little worshippers.—U. S. Gaz.

A SINGULAR CIRCUMSTANCE took place in Fish-bike township, Me., a short time since. The facts are given by the Portland American as follows:—A married female beyond the meridian life, and whose name is Ann Wrath, had been ill for some time, and on Thursday, the 4th ult., her friends and family assembled around her, and took their last mournful farewell. She appeared to expire about 5 o'clock that afternoon. The ceremonies of laying out the dead were duly performed, the bandages were placed beneath her chin to her head, and every preparation was made for the solemn rite of the burial ground. The sexton tolled his bell; but at half past 6 o'clock, some minutes before his work was accomplished, she reared her head in astonishment, and was amazed to find that she was able to partake of the refreshments for her funeral!

THE DIFFERENCE.—Box tried hard enough, when in this country, to procure an international copy right law. He was disappointed. He went home, and wrote a book, which was sold in London for five dollars a copy.—It was reprinted in this country, and sold at twelve and a half cents. A pretty commentary he has made on his own text.—U. S. Gaz.

AN EXORCISMS EEL.—The Tyne Mercury mentions a monstrous eel, caught in the river Tyne, weighing thirty-six and a half pounds, and measuring five feet seven inches in length, and twenty inches in girth at the thickest part. This "great-giant of his tribe," was sent to Perth, where it was visited by crowds (of "awe-struck and admiring spectators!")

TO AVOID DISEASE AND ATTAIN HEALTH is now in the power of every one.—Dr. Benjamin Brandreth's Vegetable Universal Pills, introduced into the United States 18th May, 1835.—There has never been an instance of these celebrated Vegetable Universal Pills not giving relief; and preservation in old, obstinate cases, is sure of making a cure, provided nature is not entirely exhausted. In consequence of the pleasantness of their operation, they are universally used in every section of this wide extended country where they are made known, and are fast superseding every other preparation of professed similar import. Upwards of fourteen thousand cases have been certified as cured, solely from their use, since the introduction of them into the United States—thus establishing the fact, beyond all doubt, that the Brandreth Vegetable Universal Pills cure the (apparently) most opposite diseases, by the simple act of continually evacuating the bowels with them, until the disease gives way; therefore, whatever may be said of the theory, the utility of the practice is now beyond all doubt.

W. M. MILLMAN & CO.,
Commission & Forwarding Merchants, Foot of Willow Street Rail Road, ON THE DELAWARE.
HAVING associated with them Joseph Barret, late of Easton, Pa., respectfully inform their friends and the public generally, that they have taken a large and well known store and wharf at foot of Willow Street Railroad, lately occupied by Jacob Martin, where they propose doing a General Commission and Forwarding Business, and from the local advantages of the place being connected with the public improvements that have their outlet in the city, they flatter themselves they will be able to do business as well as give better advantages, and upon as reasonable terms as any other establishment; and they assure their friends that every exertion will be made to meet their strict attention, and no exertions spared to give entire satisfaction.
They are also prepared to receive and forward goods to any point on the Delaware and Lehigh rivers, between Mouch Church, Easton and Philadelphia, via Delaware Division and Lehigh Canals; also to any point in the Juniata River, or North and West Branches of the Susquehanna via Schuylk, 4th and Union, or the Chesapeake and Potomac Rivers.

For the accommodation of those coming or going via Schuylk and Union Canals, a Steamer will be kept expressly for towing boats from the Schuylk around to the Delaware and back, which will enable merchants to have their produce delivered on the Delaware, and their goods shipped at a saving of 50 to 75 per cent, on the price for a sailing steamer, with these advantages they respectfully solicit a share of public patronage.

MERCHANTS HOUSE,

No. 237, North Third, above Callowhill St., PHILADELPHIA.
THE subscribers take pleasure in acquainting their friends and the public in general, that they have taken the large and commodious Hotel, recently built by the Messrs. Hart, on the same site occupied by the old established Hotel known as the Bull's Head, in Third Street above Callowhill.

This Hotel is finished in the very best possible manner, and of the best materials. Its location is very desirable, particularly for country merchants. The arrangements for heating and ventilating each room is such as to secure any temperature. The bedrooms are all light and airy, all furnished in a neat style, so as to insure comfort.
The receiving parlors are also furnished in a simple style, the windows are on the French style, forming an entrance to a balcony in front, which makes a pleasant recess. Part
