

gave a new charm to the whole of his rich, melodious Irish accent.

"Time and events dispersed that circle. The young Porter, his law license signed, went to the Lower Mississippi; I to the Upper. And, years afterwards, we met on this floor, Senators from different parts of that vast Louisiana which was not even a part of the American Union at the time that he and I were born. We met here in the session 1832-31, high party times, and on opposite sides of the great party line; but we met as we had parted years before. We met as friends; and, though often our part to reply to each other in the ardent debate, yet never did we do it with other feelings than those with which we were wont to discuss our subjects of recreation on the banks of the Cumberland."

THE TARIFF.

A series of able articles have lately appeared in the Wilkes-Barre Advocate, under the signature of "Miffin," on the subject of the Tariff. The following extract is not without interest. The writer, after quoting the speech of the British Chancellor in 1821, promising free trade, proceeds to say:

"Twenty years have passed away, and has the British Parliament abolished her Protective System? Have they followed this pleasing, this plausible, this liberal theory of Free Trade? Oh, no. The system in all its effectiveness still exists.

"The facts I am about to state will create surprise throughout Luzerne. I confess that I was astonished on reading them.

In 1829, the duties paid, on American produce, imported into Great Britain,

|----------|--------------|
| was | $26,819,177 |
| In 1840, | 28,300,163 |

Only think of it—twenty eight Millions of Dollars, imposed by Parliament, and collected in a single year, from United States Produce imported into her ports?

Is this Free Trade, or is it imposition with a vengeance?

How can any man with an American heart beating in his bosom, after this, stand up before the American People, and oppose the Tariff? Self defence is the first law of Nature.

Whatever others may think, I avow my entire approbation of Governor Porter's message on this point, and with him I take pleasure in believing that "The policy of standing by her own interests, has been for the last half century, too deeply fixed in Pennsylvania, to be abandoned without a struggle; and again—It is idle to talk of reciprocity of trade, when England will not receive our flour under a prohibitory duty of three dollars a barrel—for us to receive her coal and iron free, or nearly so, or duty."

Let us suppose half a dozen citizens of Luzerne, desirous of obtaining Cotton, Woolen, and other Manufactures, of England, write to send out a vessel to London or Liverpool, loaded with our productions to exchange.

A. says—I will put in 100 barrels of Flour. But, let me see—how much duty—tax—or premium must I pay, before they will allow me to sell it?—Two hundred and eighty dollars! That won't do. I will sell my flour at Home, or eat it first!

B. says—I will send a thousand dollars worth of Ham or Bacon. What will they tax that? Seven hundred and fifty dollars! I can't stand that. I'll wear home-made first!

C. says—I have five hundred bushels of capital Potatoes; what will they charge me on these. Here they are worth $175 dollars!—The answer is—you must pay a tax on the 500 bushels of $160, or nearly 100 per cent. I'll boil them up for my pigs first!

D. says—I will send 100 tons of our beautiful Anthracite Coal to Baltimore, trade it for Tobacco, and take that to Liverpool—for I know they have Coal plenty and want take mine—what will they charge me on 500 dollars (American cost) of Tobacco? Answer, a thousand per cent—$5,000 dollars!!!

But why proceed? Prohibition, or the most enormous rates of duty, meet you upon every article that they can possibly supply themselves with elsewhere. And yet there are very honest, well meaning, but in our apprehension, most mistaken men, who think we should repeal our Tariff—let in British Manufactures at a low rate of duty, and let our own establishments go to destruction!

Looking to the Massachusetts Manufacturers as our Manufacturers, let us enquire if they will take the produce of Luzerne in exchange for Cotton Shirtings, Sheetings, Calicoes, Woolen Goods, &c. Yes, freely, and no duty whatever is demanded.

The Boston Atlas, of January 2, 1841, states that for 1842, there were imported into that city, Flour, 610,964 barrels.

Coal, 117,451 tons, all but 4,000 tons being from Pennsylvania.

Corn 1,510,306 bushels, of which 750,000 bushels went from the Chesapeake and Delaware waters.

It is apparent, therefore, that Massachusetts is our very best customer. And she is enabled to be so from the flourishing state of her Manufactures. These facts exhibit the great advantages of the Home market for the Farmer. But why not manufacture for ourselves, here, at Home, in Luzerne?

The clouds of prejudice and error are rapidly dispersing, and every day it is becoming more and more apparent.

That a flourishing state of Home Manufactures is the most active stimulus, and surest reward, of Agricultural Industry. Instead of being antagonistic the interests of the Farmer and Manufacturer, are intimately blended.—They act upon each other with the most beneficial influence. Long may they flourish together, and may the FARMER see the subject in its true light, and come out with candor and say so."

NEW INVENTION.—We have been shown several models of a newly invented Hinge for window shutters, which has lately been contrived by our townsman, Mr. R. B. VARDEN. They are designed to be stronger than the hinges ordinarily used, and are so constructed that when the shutter is open a small pin made for the purpose will effectually prevent the shutter from being blown about by the wind, and when shut the insertion of the same pin into the hinge prevents the shutter from being opened. Although the newly invented hinge is a little more costly than that ordinarily in use, this cost is more than compensated by the saving it effects in dispensing with the iron driver into the wall to confine back the shutter, and also with the bolt or spring used to fasten it when closed. There is also another advantage connected with this article, which is that the shutter may be fastened back without protruding the arm and body out of the window. Mr. Varden's invention has been highly approved of by several competent judges, and will, we learn, be offered to the public shortly.

NEXT DOOR TO IT.—"Have you found your dog which was stolen?" asked a gentleman on the door step of a certain provision store the other day.

"No, not exactly; but I know where they sold the sausages!" was the reply.—Piquette.

COVETOUSNESS.—Mr. John Earl, 25 Tenth street, Philadelphia, was for many years badly afflicted with the above disease (covetousness), which had continued to grow worse daily, until it became truly alarming—he was recommended to use several remedies, which he did, and not receiving any benefit from them, despaired of ever being cured until finally he was advised to try Dr. Brandreth's Pills, which he declared in a short time completely removed his complaint and soon restored him to a perfect enjoyment of health, a blessing he acknowledges he never expected to enjoy.

His certificate, guaranteeing the fact, can be seen at the office of Dr. Brandreth, 8 North Eighth st. Agents, published in another part of this paper.

Public Sale.

BY virtue of a Decree of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, will be offered at public sale, in lots to suit purchasers, at the house of Jacob Leisinger, (Bear Gap Tavern) in Shamokin township, Northumberland county, Pa., on Thursday the 22d day of February next, at 12 o'clock, at noon.

A Valuable Tract of Land.

situate in Shamokin township, Northumberland county, at the intersection of the Centre and Danville Turnpike, adjoining lands of Jacob Leisinger, William Kriehbaum, B. Tilghman, and others, containing 349 acres, 159 perches and allowances.

The above tract consists chiefly of a red shale of superior quality. It is well wooded and watered, convenient to mills, &c., and in every respect worthy the attention of persons desiring first rate farms.

ALSO—A Tract of Land situate in the same township, about a mile and a half west of the above, on both sides of the Centre Turnpike, and adjoining lands of George Stierzel, George Dimmig, B. Tilghman, and others, containing 108 acres, 43 perches and allowance. This land is of similar quality with that above described. A branch of Shamokin Creek, on which is a site for a saw mill, passes through the tract.

The terms of sale will be as follows:—one third of the purchase money cash, of which fifty dollars must be paid when the property is struck down, and the balance on the 1st of April next. Of the remaining two-thirds of the purchase money, one-half, with interest from the 1st of April, is to be paid in one year, and the balance, with interest, in two years; said two thirds to be secured by bond and warrant, and mortgage upon the property.

For further information, apply to Mr. Adam Gilger of Shamokin township, who resides adjoining the premises, and will show them to persons desirous of purchasing; or to the subscriber, at Philadelphia.

OAKLEY'S DEPURATIVE SYRUP.

THE valuable properties of Oakley's Depurative Syrup of Sarsaparilla, as a purifier of the blood, is so well known to the public generally, that it is unnecessary to occupy much space in setting forth the advantages to be derived from its use; wherever the medicine has once been introduced, it takes precedence over all others; every one that has taken it, have derived so signal beneficial results from it, that it is recommended by them with the utmost confidence. Physicians of the highest standing in the profession, prescribe it to patients under their care; containing nothing deleterious, but being composed of the most mild, yet efficacious vegetable materials, it is offered with confidence, as the cheapest and most efficient purifier of the blood now known. The use of a few bottles, especially in the spring months, will be attended with a most decided improvement in the general strength of the system, eradicating any seeds of disease that may have been generated, besides giving health and vigor to the body.—For the cure of Scrofula or Kings Evil, Rheumatism, Tetters, Pimples or eruptions of the Skin, White Swelling, Fula, Chronic Cough Asthma, &c. The numerous certificates in the possession of the subscriber and his agents, from physicians and others, are sufficient to convince the most skeptical of its superiority over all preparations of Sarsaparilla.

It is sold wholesale and retail, by the proprietor, GEORGE W. OAKLEY, North 5th street, Reading, Berks County, and to be had of the following persons:

In Northumberland County—H. B. Masser, Sunbury; Ireland & Moxell, McEwensville; D. Kraus, Milton.

In Union County—J. Geathart, Selingsgrove; A. Gutshus, Millinburg.

In Columbia County—R. W. McCay, Washington.

Reading, March 14, 1843.

MR. OAKLEY:—I believe in the duty of every one to do whatever in their power lies, for the benefit of their fellow man; and having had positive proof in my own family, of the wonderful properties of your Depurative Syrup of Sarsaparilla, I must conscientiously recommend it to the afflicted. We had the misfortune to lose two of our children, by the breaking out of ulcers, which covered the face, head and neck, although we had some of the most scientific physicians to attend them, and had tried all the known remedies, including Swaim's Panacea, without avail. Another of my children was attacked in the same manner, her face and neck was completely covered; the discharge was so offensive, and the disease at such a height, that we despaired of her life. Seeing the wonderful effects of your Depurative Syrup of Sarsaparilla, we were induced to make trial of it, as the last resort; it acted like a charm; the ulcers commenced healing immediately, a few bottles entirely restored her to her health, which she has enjoyed uninterruptedly ever since. As a purifier of the blood, I verily believe it has not its equal.

JOHN MOYER, Tailor, Walnut street, near Fourth, Reading.

Douglasville, April 19th, 1843.

MR. OAKLEY:—My son Edmund Leaf, had the scrofula in the most dreadful and distressing manner for three years, during which time he was deprived of the use of his limbs, his head and neck were covered with ulcers. We tried all the different remedies, but to no effect, until recommended by Dr. Johnson of Norristown, and also Dr. Isaac Hooper, of Reading, to use your Depurative Syrup of Sarsaparilla, of which I obtained several bottles, the use of which drove the disease entirely out of his system, the sore healed up, and the child was restored to perfect health, which he has enjoyed uninterruptedly ever since, to the astonishment of many persons who seen him during his affliction. I have thought it my duty, and send you this certificate that others who have like affliction in the family may know where to obtain so valuable a medicine.

Yours truly, AMELIA D. LEAF.
