

SHOCKING OCCURRENCES ON THE POTTSVILLE RAILROAD.—The Miners' Journal mentions two shocking occurrences on the Pottsville Railroad last week. One was the death of a son of Mr. Millens, of Schuylkill Haven, who was killed while talking to his mother, in consequence of the lack of the train. The other was a more lamentable affair, involving probably the lives of three persons. We copy the occurrence from the Pottsville Journal:—

"On Thursday, as a coal train was going down, a coupling broke and the train became detached. After the engine and part of the train passed through the first bridge above Port Clinton, the watchman, supposing the whole train had passed, went to examine whether any sparks had fallen in the bridge, according to his usual custom. One of his children followed him, and also his wife. After they were on the bridge some distance, they observed the balance of the train approaching, when both parents rushed to save the child—but unfortunately too late to make their escape—the cars passed over all three, completely severing the head from the child, cutting off the leg of the man and the arm of the woman. The child, of course, was killed instantaneously. We have not learned the names of the sufferers.

HORRIBLE AFFAIR IN OHIO BETWEEN SOME NEGRO HUNTERS AND ABOLITIONISTS.—A slip from the Georgetown (Ohio) Telegraph gives an account of a desperate and deadly affair which occurred on Monday last between some Kentucky negro hunters and a number of abolitionists residing in the Red Oak Settlement.

Some run-away slaves, belonging to Col. E. Towser, of Mason county, Ky., had run off and concealed themselves in the house of Robert Miller and Absalom King. Two of them were discovered in King's house, and Miller while attempting to aid in the escape, was repeatedly stabbed and died of his wounds. Four or five armed men, friends of King, declared their determination to resist any search of the house. Both parties being well armed, a most horrible conflict ensued. A son of Col. Towser was killed immediately. King, while reloading some of the fire-arms in the house, was shot by some one through a window in the back part of the house, and was not expected to survive. The Sheriff and his posse arrived and checked the riot, and the ring-leaders of each party were arrested and escorted under a strong guard to Georgetown.

Another band of Kentuckians arrived and recommenced the war. They hung out of the slaves on the spot for resistance, burnt down Miller and King's houses, beat a Mr. Alexander Gillard, and left him for dead, and committed other outrages. The last intelligenence given by the Telegraph shows the excited state of the community. It says:—

"The number of the Kentuckians is increasing hourly, and the whole neighborhood is up in arms. The Sheriff is actively engaged in attempting to quell the riot."

MOVEMENTS AT WARSAW.—The Quincy (Illinois) Whig of the 4th inst. says, on the authority of a gentleman from Warsaw, that

"On the Thursday evening previous, Gen. Denning, the Sheriff of Hancock, came to Warsaw with writs for the purpose of apprehending Messrs. Sharpe, Grover, Williams, Aldrick and others, against whom indictments were found at the late term of the Hancock Court for killing the Smiths. The accused, however, kept out of the way of the officers, and the arrests were not made. During the night of Thursday, while Denning was in town, some thirty or forty Mormons were observed in Warsaw, it is believed with the private understanding of Denning, to aid him in making the arrests. Denning left the next morning, with the intention, as he declared, of returning with sufficient force to search every house in Warsaw. It is supposed if he attempts to carry his threats into execution, the consequences will be serious."

The authorities seem to meet with much trouble and difficulty in their attempts to arrest the individuals accused of being concerned in this outrage.

ANOTHER AND INTERESTING APPLICATION OF THE TELEGRAPH.—The National Intelligencer says:—

"The parental anxieties of a gentleman of the Post office Department here were yesterday relieved by a telegraphic despatch at one o'clock, P. M., announcing that his daughter-in-law, now in Baltimore, had then, within five minutes, happily made him grandfather to a fine boy. 'Mother and son doing well.' The grand parents return thanks to Mr. Morse for his instantaneous and polite communication of a joyful event that otherwise might not have reached them for many hours by the slow process of the railroad mail coming at a rate not much over twenty miles an hour!"

The N. Y. Evening Mirror states that not long since a young lawyer canvassing for a political party, was dogged by three persons of an opposite party so severely, that he was for some time obliged to keep his bed. When he recovered he went to a meeting of the Club to which the assailants were attached—demanded a hearing and insisted upon having a ring, and two, one at a time. His request was acceded to, and he gave each of the fellows a handsome dressing.

The N. York Herald has been shown an old Queen Anne musket, which was picked up by some fishermen on the south side of Long Island, a few days since, in about 25 feet of water. It was entirely encrusted with gravel, pebbles, oyster shells, and such like marine productions about two inches thick; the barrel and lock was completely eaten away, but the stock remained almost as perfect as the first day it fell in the water.

LESSON OF A PEACH SKIN.—We once saw a young lady (and a beautiful young lady she was too) step out of her way upon the sidewalk in Broadway, to do what the Cincinnati Quaker did, as mentioned in a paragraph in the American, lately—namely, to brush from the walk a piece of orange-peel, upon which a gentleman walking before her, had nearly fell down. It was a thoughtful, womanly act, and we blessed her unawares for it. 'A bit of peach-skin or orange-peel upon the sidewalk would seem to be a very trifling matter,' said a friend, on reading the paragraph to which we have referred; 'but it may prove of very serious consequence, I was walking down Broadway,' said he 'one bright June morning, when I met a young friend whom I had not seen before for a couple of months, walking with some difficulty between two other friends. He stopped me to exchange salutations, and I was at once struck with the change in his appearance. 'You seem ill, H.' said I; 'what has been the matter?' 'Haven't you heard of my accident?' said he. 'Not a word.' He opened his frock-coat, and exposed to view the cause of all his suffering. 'Two months ago,' said he, 'I was walking in the street, when I stepped upon a piece of orange-peel, slid forward suddenly and fell. I experienced a dreadful wrench of my limbs, and the next day a soft substance began to exude from the upper joint of the thigh-bone. It was a source of great annoyance, but not of serious apprehension, until at length the substance began to ossify, which it has continued to do until it has reached the size you see.' (The mass, judging from its apparent size, must have been eight or ten inches in circumference.) 'I am going,' said he, 'to have an operation performed for its removal, to-morrow, with every hope of complete success.' I expressed a fervent hope that his expectations might be realized. Two days after, passing his store in Broadway, near Cortland st., I saw that the shutters were up, and that there was a note wafted upon the door—'In consequence of the death of Mr. H. this store will be closed until Monday.' The young husband and father had died under a surgical operation—a victim to a piece of orange peel, thoughtlessly thrown upon the sidewalk.

IMPORTANT TO THE LADIES.—The Parisian modistes are about getting up a style of female dress, which will send all our belles back to first principles—in plain English, bustles and other extras are to be entirely dispensed with.

Residents in Fever and Ague districts should never be without it. The subscriber will forfeit FIFTY DOLLARS where his medicine fails to perform a cure in the most obstinate case.

Cantrell's Aque Mixture, or Tonic Medicament, For the cure of all Bilious affections, if taken according to directions.

It is a never failing remedy which no family ought to be without, especially in low marshy countries.

As this medicine is put up under the proprietor's immediate inspection on the most scientific principles, being Purely Vegetable, and having tried its efficacy on thousands, by the reports of 12 years, and his knowledge when taken strictly according to directions, there has not been one failure. Under such circumstances I recommend it to the public, adding a certificate in support of my assertion.

I, John Burns, do certify that I was in the ship Tobacco Plant of Philadelphia, Capt. Reed, in June, 1827, bound to Liverpool; took the fever and ague and laid in Liverpool some time under the doctor's hands, went from there to Baltimore, lay in the Infirmary for four or five weeks—from thence to Philadelphia; was six months under Dr. Coats; from thence to New York—went to the Hospital, remained there about four weeks without any relief—tried every thing without any benefit, for five years. Hearing of Cantrell's Aque Mixture from a friend, I went to his store, told him how I was afflicted, and got a bottle of his mixture and used it according to directions. It made a perfect cure, and I have not had the least return since. I do with confidence recommend it to the public.

JOHN BURNS. Medicated Syrup of Sarsaparilla. Philadelphia, April 10th, 1844.

Mr. JOHN A. CANTRELL. DEAR SIR,—Having been afflicted for upwards of two years with ulceration of the throat, destroying the whole of the soft palate, then through the upper part of my mouth into my nose, from which several pieces of bone came out, which partially destroyed my speech, through a kind Providence and your Medicated Syrup of Sarsaparilla, I am now restored to perfect health, and my sight, which was so much impaired, is as strong as when a boy.

I thought it a duty I owed you and those similarly affected, to make it public. Yours, Respectfully, SAMUEL KIRK. Corner of Fourth and Cornes Streets.

I, Gabriel Johnston, No. 6 R-Ress Street, do certify that my wife, Jane, was afflicted for two years with Rheumatism, and at last was entirely disabled, so that she was obliged to be confined to bed; learning of Cantrell's Medicated Syrup of Sarsaparilla, or Anti-Scorbutic Syrup, I procured four bottles, which completely removed all her pains and stiffness, from her limbs; two more bottles made a perfect cure. She is now able to attend to her household duties as usual. GABRIEL JOHNSTON. Philadelphia, Jan. 22d, 1844.

The following is one among a number of certificates received in relation to the success of this medicine:—

LANCASTER Co, March 18. DR. GEORGE W. ALLEN. DEAR SIR.—It is with great pleasure that I inform you of the success attending your Dyspeptic Mixture, while employed in my practice. From past experience, I firmly believe that in eight cases out of ten, the Dyspeptic, by the use of your medicine
