

From the New Orleans Picayune.
Song of the Ripple.

Purl! am I not a joyous thing?
Purl, Purl! I daily sing!
I came from the mountains far away,
I crept through a rock that was old and gray,
And I danced to see the light of day
As I leaped from the mountain spring.

Purl, Purl! it is bright to be
A wave of the ocean, wild and free!
Adown the mountain I dart and slide,
Around the pebble I curl and ride,
Singing my song to the dancing tide,
And speeding away to the sea.

Purl! O many long years ago—
Too full of pleasure to note or know—
I bore on my bosom a floating chip,
As I sought the plains for a seaward ship,
And I sighted to toss the ocean ship
On my foaming breast of snow!

Over the prairies many a mile,
Purling, purling all the while!
I was once but a drop of the mountain snow,
But I ride and swell as away I go,
Brighter and larger the older I grow
'Neath the golden Summer's smile.

Purl! O! no death know I;
The buffaloes oft chase me nigh;
But as they bend upon the brink,
The charist ripple's curl to drink,
I dart away or swiftly sink,
And upon my journey fly.

Onward! onward to the sea!
O, the ocean wild for me!
My purl shall change to a whistling song,
When I mount the midnight clouds among,
And I'll leap the watery desert along,
As wild as the wind and free.

Purl, purl! O long I've been
Purling through the prairie green!
And now the Father of waters sings,
Calling together the ripples and springs,
While afar the roar of the Ocean rings
To welcome us there I ween.

On we flow! on we flow!
Purling all as on we go!
Speeding away to the briny main,
The ripples are leaving the prairie plain,
And we never will see our home again,
Hey for the Ocean! Ho!

What a pity it is he drinks!
Do you know the nice young man
That lives across the way?
The accomplished lady, Julia Van,
He's courting her they say;
Yes, he's a noble fellow,
So every body thinks,
But then he will get mellow,
What a pity it is he drinks!

He's a man of gifted mind,
His heart's an earthly heaven;
And every feeling is refined,
That God to him has given;
No intellect is quicker,
In every thing he thinks;
But, ah! he loves the liquor,
What a pity it is he drinks!

I am told that Julia now,
Is jealous of the youth;
Not jealous of his solemn vow,
For he's a man of truth;
But jealous of his thurattle,
For every body thinks
He loves the brandy bottle,
What a pity it is he drinks!

He's a very moral man,
And honest too, they say;
He's very generous when he can
Give any thing away;
But then at church he's noddy,
And every person thinks
He takes too much of toddy,
What a pity it is he drinks!

AFFECTING INSTANCE OF ATTACHMENT IN A DOG.—A little girl, the only and beloved child of her parents, who are residents of Brooklyn, Long Island, died a few weeks since, and was interred in the private family burying ground. A large Newfoundland dog, the private companion and playmate of the child, was frequently missing from the house after the funeral. When seen, he was observed to be crest-fallen and drooping, he refused his food, moped and lost flesh day by day. These circumstances exciting curiosity, the animal was watched and followed in his stealthy excursions, and at length appeared that he went daily to the grave of his former friend and playmate, deposited, at each visit, some of the child's playthings obtained secretly from the house, on the grassy mound that covered her remains, in the vain hope of alluring her to his side again, and then lay down, and passed hour after hour, moaning and whining piteously. His master was obliged finally to chain up the animal to put an end to his melancholy vigils, the continuance of which would have cost the faithful mourner his existence. A more touching instance of devotion and attachment has rarely fallen beneath our notice.—Phila. Daily Sun.

THE MOSQUITO.—An exchange paper says, an infallible preventive against the attacks of these dreaded insects is the oil of penny-royal; one drop of which applied to the clothing, or the hair, will keep them at bay the whole night. Persons already suffering under mosquito bites, will find relief from the application of balsam to the wounds.

WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY.
A Compound Balsamic Preparation from Wild Cherry Bark and Tea Tree Oil.

The best remedy known to the world for the cure of coughs, colds, asthma, croup, bleeding of the lungs, whooping cough, bronchitis, influenza, shortness of breath, pain and weakness in the breast or side, liver complaint, and the first stages of CONSUMPTION.

We will not assert that this BALSAM will cure Consumption in its worst form, but it has cured many after all other means of relief had been tried in vain.—And why not? It seems that the WILD CHERRY was destined by Nature to be our PAIN-AKING for the various diseases of this class. Let not the despairing invalid waste his money and lose TIME, to him as all important, in experimenting with the trashy nostrums of the day, but use at once a medicine that will cure, if a cure be possible—a medicine that science approves, and many years of experience have demonstrated that it always relieves.

—There is no such thing as a fall!— in the history of this wonderful BALSAM. Evidence the most convincing—eye for eye that no one can doubt, fully establish this fact. For the sake of brevity we select the following from thousands.

Isaac Platt, Esq., Editor of the Pottsville Eagle, one of the most influential journals in the State of New York, states under the authority of his own name, that a young lady, a relative of his, of very delicate constitution, was attacked in Feb. 1842 with severe cold, which immediately produced spitting of blood, cough, fever, and other dangerous and alarming symptoms. Through medical treatment and care she partially recovered during summer. But on the return of winter she was attacked more violently than at first, she became scarcely able to walk and was troubled with cough, chills and fever every day, and appeared to be going rapidly with consumption; at this time, when there was no sign of improvement, Mr. Platt procured a bottle of WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY, which she took, and it seemingly restored her. She got a second, and before it was half taken she was restored to perfect health, which she has enjoyed to the present time, without the slightest symptom of her former disease.

Mr. Platt says: "The cure was under my own observation and I cannot be mistaken as to the facts."

EXTRACT OF A LETTER FROM A MASTER DATED
PAINBROOK, Washington Co., Me., Apr. 29, 1844.

MR. ISAAC BUTTS.—Dear Sir: At the request of many of my friends in this place and vicinity who are afflicted with consumption and liver complaint, I take the liberty of asking you to appoint some one in this county as agent to sell WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY, and to send him a few dozen as there is none of it for sale within 200 miles from this. I have no doubt that it would meet with a ready sale if it were where it could be procured without too much expense and delay.

My wife was attacked about six months since with what the physicians called the first stage of consumption—a complaint very prevalent in this section of country. Having seen the Balsam advertised in August.

200 MILES FROM HERE,
I took the pains to send there for a bottle of it, which she took, and which helped her so much that I sent for two bottles more, which she has also taken, and she now says she has not felt so well for six years as she does at this time. All those who have inquired of me and associated what effect the Balsam had, are anxious to have some for sale in the vicinity, which is the cause of my writing you. Please inform me by return of mail whether you conclude to send some, and if so to whom, in order that it may be known where it can be had.

I am with respect yours, etc.

A TRULY WONDERFUL CURE.
WATERVILLE, Ochsola Co., N. Y., Sept. 15, 1843.

Dear Sir—I owe it to the afflicted to inform you that in January last I was attacked by a very violent cold, caused by walking in the water, which settled on my chest. It was accompanied by a severe pain in my breast and sides, and also a distressing cough. I had in attendance all the best medical aid in my village; but after exhausting all their skill, and all they pronounced my disease a confirmed consumption, and they one and all gave me up to die. After much persuasion I got the consent of my physician to use the BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY prepared by Dr. WISTAR. I procured of the Agent in our place one bottle, before using half of which I began to gain strength, and it was very evident my cough was much better and my symptoms in every way improving. I have now used three bottles, and am restored to perfect health. The result is all according to the use of DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY. I take this method of giving you the information, partly to pay you the debt of gratitude I owe you, and partly that other similarly afflicted may know where to apply for relief.

Very truly yours,
MR. PALMER, Druggist, under date of Waterville, Sept. 24th, 1843, writes:

The statement given you by Mr. James Sage is well known to be true by this whole community. It certainly was a most remarkable cure. The sale of the Balsam is very good, and its success in cures truly flattering. Yours respectfully,
D. D. PALMER.

THE MOST REMARKABLE CURE EVER RECORDED.
HADDONFIELD, N. J., April 20, 1843.

On or about the 13th day of October, 1841, I was taken with a violent pain in the side near the liver, which continued for about five days, and was followed by the breaking of an ulcer, or abscess, inwardly, which relieved the pain, but soon returned to throw up a great quantity of offensive matter and also much blood. Being greatly alarmed at this, I applied to a physician, but he said he thought he would do but little for me except give me some Mercury Pills, which I refused to take, feeling satisfied that they could do me no good; many other remedies were then prescribed by my wife and friends, but none did me any good—and the discharge of blood and corruption still continued every few days and at last became so offensive that I could scarcely breathe. I was also seized with a violent cough, which at times caused me to raise much more blood than I had done before—and my disease continued in this way, still growing worse, until February, when all hope of my recovery was given up, and my friends all thought I would die of a Gallstone Consumption. At this moment, when my life was apparently drawing near its close, I heard of DR. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY, and got a bottle which relieved me immediately; and by the use of only three bottles of this medicine, all my pains were removed—my cough and spitting of blood and corruption entirely stopped, and in a few weeks my health was so far restored as to enable me to work at my trade, (which is a carpenter,) and up to this time I have enjoyed good health.

THOMAS COZENS,
GLOUCESTER COUNTY, N. J., &c.

Personally came before me, the subscriber, one of the Justice of the Peace in and for the said county, Thomas Cozens, and being duly affirmed according to law, with the above statement is in all things true.

Affirmed before me, on the 20th of April, 1843,
J. CLEMENT, J. P.

Such is the unprecedented success of this BALSAM.

"NATURE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION,"
a prescription conveyed to our wants, as it is prepared from chemical extracts from substances which the author of nature has placed in our own land for wise purposes, that many who know nothing of the mode of its preparation are endeavoring to reap pecuniary benefits by selling an article similar in name, or in appearance, or by representing their own trash as superior to this BALSAM, or by putting up a mixture and solemnly asserting that it is imported from a foreign country, which is not the case.
