Opinion of a War with America. But after all it would be the very weakness of folly and pugnacity for two such countries as England and the United States to waste their strength and energies and means in fighting about a distant, bleak, and barren country, which an amicable arrangement could so divide between them as to find ample room and to spare for all the settlers whom they can send into it for generations to come.

Demographic Review.

THE PRICE OF THE DEMOCRATIC REVIEW has heretofore been too high—not for the size, cost and character, but for the means of tens of thousands of readers who would be glad to receive it, and among whom it is highly desirable that it should circulate. For the purpose, therefore, of wide and a range of its usefulness, and of multiplying the numbers of those to whom it may be accessible it has been determined, simultaneously with the great reduction in the expense of the postage, to reduce its subscription price also, from FIVE to only THREE dollars; and when several unite in subscription, to as low as $2.50, or even $2.30 per annum. This very large reduction in the receipts (accompanied with but a comparatively small diminution of its expenses) involves, of course, an entire sacrifice of profit upon it, unless compensated by a vast multiplication of subscribers—There will be at the outset only a small reduction in its number of pages; soon to be restored to its old number, without increase of price, when the anticipated success of the experiment shall justify it. THE PORTRAITS OF DISTINGUISHED DEMOCRATS will be continued—engraved in better and more costly style than heretofore. THE PUBLICATION will hereafter, for any distance, be only five and a half cents; it has heretofore been, for 100 miles, eighteen cents. We look for an extension of circulation to be secured by tens of thousands, as the result and emanation of the great reduction of price.—Every friend of the work, and of the Democratic principle and cause, is cordially appealed to, to exert himself with an active interest to procure its subscribers; both to extend its usefulness, and to carry it successfully through the crisis of this great reduction of its price. Those who have paid in advance for the coming year, will receive it, at a reduced rate, for a year and a half. TERMS HEREOFORWARD. (ISSUED BY THE ADVANCE.) Single copy $3 00 Eight copies, $20 00 Four copies, 11 00 Thirteen " 20 00 It will be seen that when thirteen copies are ordered at once, the price is brought down to about $2.30 each. For six months, half these rates. These rates afford high inducements to agents and others to interest themselves to procure subscribers. The cash system and payment in advance must be unconditionally adhered to. The past relaxation of it has caused an accumulation of not for far $20,000 of debts due to the work. Hereafter this must be wholly reformed, nor must either the most eminent political friend, or the most intimate personal one, be displeased on experiencing its application, in the stoppage of their numbers, if they neglect this rule, the vital necessity of which, at the present crisis, must be obvious to all. No communication will be taken from the Post office and sent free of postage. All communications, both on editorial and publishing business, must be addressed heretoforeward to the old address. Those relating to the settlement of the past debt due the work will be still addressed to Mr. H. G. LANGLEY 8 Astor House, the past arrangements with whom, as publisher have reached their termination. J. L. O'SULLIVAN, July, 1845, 146 Nassau street, N. York. LAST LIKENESS OF GEN. JACKSON. The admirable Daguerreotype of Gen. Jackson, taken by Anthony, Edwards & Co., a few weeks before his death, has been purchased by the Editor of the Democratic Review. It is in the hands of the artist, and will be engraven in the finest style of mezz-tint, on copper. It is a most beautiful and interesting work, declared by Mr. Van Buren and others to give a more perfect idea of the great and good old man than any other likeness; and ought to be possessed by every man who loves and reveres his memory.—Those who subscribe early will receive it as one of the regular series of Portraits.
