

The Lovers.

There was a candle man And he was very old. For it was thirty years or more Since he began to mould.

His business on his face was wrote, As plain as though on paper ; His long nose running to a point, You sure would call a tuper.

And flamelike glowed his jolly fip, For drinking hard and stuffing And made it red, and candle like, It brighter grew by anuffing.

A daughter fair he had, but he Was went to beat and starve her ; Said she, "I'm sorry he's my pa, But wish that he was farther."

And Cupid in her tender heart An arrow dared to throw ! As that alone would be no use. He gave her, too, a beau

But when her lover claimed her haud, The father did dispute ; Said he, "Your ashes I would take, But I reject your suit."

So when the shades of night were spread, He round the house would hover ; And though he was no warrior, yet He was a nightly lover.

My father's coming," cried the maid; "Oh! lover, wee betide you-For he will cane you, I'm afraid; But come with me, I'll hide you."

So in the boiler he was crammed, His legs all cramped and bent; Cried he, "I have the copper got, Though he has not the scent,"

And there he passed the sleepless hours Of that eventful night; The time it passed so heavily, He wished that it was light.

At early dawn to light his fire The cress old fellow came; Alas ! for lover's constancy-He felt another flame.

Oh! maiden, maiden, could you now Your lover's plight but see, Your pa, for lover's sake you'd hate, For pa-boiled he will be.

Oh! now within that boiler hot, His every limb seemed frying ; His situation you will say, Indeed must have been trying Now from his seat he starts and scared The old man not a little ; Recover first yourself, old man, Re-cover then your kettle.

And speeding through the garden walks,

Isane Platt, Esq., Editor of the Pokeepsie Eagle. one of the most influential journals in the state of New York, states under the authority of his own name, that a young lady, a relative of his, of very delicate constitution, was attacked in Feb. 1842. with severe cold, which immediately produced spitting of blood, cough, fever, and other dangerous and alarming symptoms. Through medical treatment and care she partially recovered during summer. But on the return of winter she was attacked more vidently than at first, she became scatcely able to walk and was troubled with cough, chills and fover bland, is so well known to the public generally. every day, and appeared to be going rapidly with that it is unnecessary to occupy much space in setconsumption ; at this time, when there was no sign of improvement, Mr. Platt procured a bottle of ting forth the advantages to be derived from its WINTAU'S BALSAN OF WILD CREERT, which she use; wherever the medicine has once been introtook, and it seemingly restored her. RINGWORMS, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, AND OTHER CUTANEOUS ERUPTIONS.

g The following certificate describes one of the extraordinary oures ever effected by any application.

PRILADELPHIA, February 10, 1938. OR twenty years I was severely afflicted with TETTER on the Face and Head: the disease commenced when I was seventeen years old, and continued until the Fall of 1836, varying in violence, but without ever disappearing. During most of the time, great part of my face was covered with the eruption, frequently attended with violent itching; my head swelled at times until it felt as if it would burst-the swelling war so great, that I could scarcely get my hat on. During the long period that I was afflicted with the disease, I used a great many sy plications, (among them several celebrated preparations) as well as taking inward remedies, including a number of bottles of Swaim's Panacea, Extract of Sursapurilla, &c. In fact, it would be mpossible to enumerate all the medicines I used. I was also under the care of two of the most distinguished physicians of this city, but without receiving much benefit, and I despaired of ever being cured. In the full of 18:56, the disease at the time being very violent, 1 commenced using the Rore Ointment, (prepared by Vaughan & Davis.) In a few applications the violent itching ceased, the swelling abated, the crustion began to disappear, and before I had used a jar the disease was entirely cured. It has now been nearly a year and a half since, and there is not a vestige of the disease remaining, except the scars from the deep pits formed by the disease. It is impossible for me to describe in a certificate the severity of the disease and my suffering, but I will be pleased to give a fuller sccount to any person wanting further satisfaction. who will call on me. At the time I commenced using the Rose Ointment I would have given hundreds of dollars to be rid of the disease. Since using it, I have recommended it to several persons, (among them my mother, who had the disease badly on her arm.) who were all cured by it.

Rose Ointment, for Tetter. A PROOF OF ITS EFFICACY.

PHILADELPHIA, May 27th, 1839. HIS is to certify that I was severely afflicted with Tetter in the hands and feet for upwards of forty years; the disease was attended generally with violent itching and swelling. I applied to a number of physicians, and used a great many applications without effecting a cure. About a year since, I applied the Rose Ointment, which entirely stopped the itching, and a few applications immediately cured the disease, which there has been no return of, although I had never been rid of it at any time for forty years.
