From the N. O. Picayune, 9th inst. Important from Mexico-Revolution at inst !-- Warlike,

By the Mexican schooner Jusquina. Martinez, master, which left Tampico on the 1st inst. we have late and important intelligence from Mexico. The rumors which have been for some weeks in circulation, that Gen. Paredes had at last declared against the Government, appear at length likely to be verified by the course be is pursuing. A revolution is now on foot, or has already been consumated. This crossed the line into Florida, where the presidarrival being from Tampico, we have not our usual files, so as to be able to give a continuous narrative of events; but from the extracts of newspapers and placards before us, we are enabled to form some opinion of what is going on the 1st Dec. when the British steamer left for Havanna. It was a fortnight after that, sing him!

that things reached a crisis. On the 14th Dec. the Commandant General of the Department, D. Luis Potosi the superior and other officers of the force of the country are well pointed out, but grave political evils are assigned to excuse themselves for the act they are about to com-

The manifesto alleges that the existing Administration, from which a year since all hoped so well, had conducted the government to the very brink of a pricipice ; that it had established the most preposterous theories upon which to administer internal affairs; that it sought to get rid of a war, necessary and glorious in itself by concessions injurious to the national dignity, and which were the sole barrier to the perficious; that it had proposed a law of which the strocity was without example, by which to arm the vile and ignorant, those having the least stake in the country, and thus to find a that it had repeatedly thwarted the purpose of the army to move upon Texas, and at the same sioner with whom it was endeavoring to arrange for the lose of the integrity of the Republic; demanded an immediate remedy, and that the perty are all a mockery. Administration confessed its toatal incompetency and powerlessness-considering that it had lost all respectability so necessary to a Government, and had allowed a Plenipotentiary of the United States to set foot in the country and reside in the Capital with a view to bargain for to the heat they revived. They are said to reside of the line during the early part of the day, but left before the trial closed. A motion was now put to deliver the prisoner into the hands of the constituted authorities of Florida. This was decided in the negative by an almost unanimous vote. A vote was then taken as to what punishment should be inflicted. This was decided to be DEATH ! by a vote of about six to one, and the time of execution fixed at 12 o'cl'k on the following day. The assemblage now ing officer pronounced the solemn sentence of death. Yoermans fell, when he heard the sentence, as though he had been shot, but soon recovered, and asked the presiding officer to pray for him He called upon a preacher of the Gospel three or four of whom were present par-

On the 21st Gen. Parrodi addressed a circu-

The revolution in progress commenced with ticipating in the proceedings, to pray for the the 'Army of Reserve' stationed at San Luis prisoner ; and strange to say, every man pre-Potosi. The agitation and ferment preliminary sent knelt upon the ground, and joined in a most to an outbreak, probably gave occasion to the solemn and impressive prayer to God, that He rumor which was in circulation in Vera Cruz would grant the wretched criminal that mercy which they themselves were in the act of refu-

A guard of twenty-five armed men was placed in charge of the prisoner, and the assem-Manuel Romero, invited to his residence at San blage then dispersed to meet again on the following day, and enact the last scene of this sad Army of Reserve, as well as of the garrison of tragedy. Our informant left on Friday morning. the Department. Being there assembled, Gen. and met a large number of persons who were Romero read to them a manifesto prepared for going to witness the execution, which undoubtthe occasion, in which the duties of the armed edly took place according to the sentence. Thus we have given a plain statement of facts, which it is painful to record. However guilty Yoermans may have been, or however worthy of death, the deliberate refusal to given him a trial in the regularly constituted Court, before an impartial Judge and jury of his country, when the laws were capable of reaching and punishing his crimes, was a fearful steb at the Constitution and laws of the country, which are the only sure guaranty of social order and individual security. A Justice of the Peace participated in the trial and condemuation. Had he forgotten his oath to sup port the Constitution, and to faithfully administer the laws ?-Had the preachers forgotten that they were professed ministers of peace ? Did those persons who occupy high places in sosubstitute for the army which opposed its views; ciety, reflect that the principle to which they were then giving the sanction of their acts. would, if carried out, unsettle the very foundatime allowed to be villified for its inaction by official journals; that it had admitted a commis- that they held dear or sacred, to the capricious will of an excited multitude ?

Let every good citizen remember that if such that it had reduced the country almost to a State lawless violence is to be tolerated in our counof anarchy, in the milst of which it existed ity, the bloodbought freedom of our fathers, the without revenue, without power and almost protection of our Constitution and laws, and without will; and, considering that these evils the sacred rights of individual liberty and pro-

So fur as we can learn from verbal intelligence and letters received here, no act of violence whatever occurred. The plans of Paredes had been so fully matured, and the dissatisfaction with the Government was so general and unanimous, that there were none to oppose the revolt.
