

made a speech, in which his remarks were not tempered by much moderation. He was very severe, and at times personal and sarcastic. Such a war must certainly be injurious to the party to which both Mr. Haywood and Hannegan belong.

By the news brought by the last arrival, 4 days later, you will see that different views are entertained in England on the giving of the notice. While the Times believes that the giving of the notice will have a tendency to bring the Oregon question to a settlement, the Chronicle assumes a different position, and says it will be the cause of bringing the two governments in collision. Its article, was, however, intended for the consumption of this market.

The President gave another levee on the night of the 4th of March, just one year since his inauguration. A report was circulated it was to be his last one, which congregated more persons in the White House than would have gone, had it been otherwise.

The "Columbia Fountain," a new daily temperance paper started here, does, occasionally, give it to the members "right and left,"—particularly those who are not subscribers to the "Fountain." It took occasion, a few days since, to bring McConnell to an account, for some misconduct. McC., not considering it just, rose in place, with dignity that would have done honor to a priest, and said he should take the liberty of drinking a glass whenever he chose, as he looked upon it as a "constitutional right." Well, since Mr. Gough considers anything right, constitutional, certainly McConnell cannot be wrong when enjoying a "constitutional right."

It was with feelings of pleasure that I read the spirited resolutions passed by a convention of the Democracy of old Northumberland. Such sentiments, as are contained in those resolutions, do honor to the sterling integrity and democracy of your country. They are not the sentiments of your county alone, but those of a majority of the people of the Keystone State. It gives me increased pleasure, however, to see the handsome and merited compliment, paid to the Hon. SIMON CAMERON, through one of the resolutions passed by that convention. He is not, I can assure you, insensible of the honor done him by this evidence of "confidence in his moral character and political principles," and the democracy of old Northumberland, whose genuineness has never yet been disputed but by a few corrupt demagogues lurking on the borders of Whiggery, will find, from the future course of Gen. Cameron, that she has not placed it in one unworthy of it. His course, as a Senator, will prove to be as brilliant as it is successful, notwithstanding the scurrilous attacks of the "Lancaster Intelligencer" and kindred prints.

I see, by the Pennsylvania papers, that Judge Woodward has come out in a letter in vindication of his character—political and judicial. Such a step as this, is as unwise as it is impolitic. The Judge, with all due deference for his great wisdom, has, in this course, proven himself rather indiscreet. He has evidently been led to take this step by a small faction of disappointed office seekers. The less he has to do with this faction, the better for him.

THE GREAT PATENT CASE.—The Supreme Court of the United States adjourned sine die on Monday. Before the adjournment there was a decision upon the great patent case as well as several others of minor importance. The Court have decided in favor of Wilson in the patent case, and they have decided that administrators may take out an extension of the patents; that assignees are only protected like grantees in the use of machines actually bought and in use, and not in any exclusive right or rights to make and vend; that they have no right to the extension passed under the covenants between Woodworth & Strong, and Emmons, Twogood & Tyack. These are only some of the important points. The Court were unanimous for Wilson; the Judges McLane and Woodbury dissented from one or two of minor importance.

PROFANITY REBUKED.—The lodge of Odd Fellows in Bridgewater, Mass., have passed the following resolution:—

"That profane swearing is a wanton and unprovoked vice, not induced by any temptation of honor or gain, a breach of common decency and courtesy in the common intercourse of man with man, and recommend that a brother who is habituated to the disgraceful practice, be brought to a trial therefor."

ANTICIPATING A STORM BY THE MAGNETIC TELEGRAPH.—The various uses that will be found for the Magnetic Telegraph, will not be fully ascertained till it comes fairly into operation. The knowledge of a few facts, however, enables the public to form an idea of some of the useful ends it may serve. The Toledo (Ohio) Blade points out how it may be the means of guarding against disaster on the coast, and instances the snow storm of the 4th and 15th February, which began at Toledo on Saturday, at 4 P. M., at Buffalo at 8 P. M., and at Boston at about 5 o'clock on Sunday morning. The Blade proposes to save our coasts from shipwreck by means of the telegraph, a plan that is established, that at Toledo will be able to give us fifteen or sixteen hours notice of the approach of a northeasterly storm, and vessels will have time to provide for their safety.

DEATH OF THE "FAIR OF AVA."—We see it announced in the Baltimore papers, that Mr. Rahab Marchall, well known throughout the country, as the "Fair of Ava," died at Louisville on Tuesday last, of dropsy in the chest.

Reported Intercourse in Cuba.

The following appears in the Boston Advertiser of the 7th inst:—

"The following parts of a letter from Cuba are published in the Chronotype of yesterday. The letter purports to be addressed to the editor of the Aurora, which the Chronotype says is 'a Spanish newspaper, published in this city, devoted to the dissemination of liberal principles in the Spanish Americas.' We give the letter—from which it will be perceived that the parts likely to have given it credit are omitted—for what it may be worth:—

"Gents—An insurrection is at the point of being declared in this city, all minds being worried out with the continued renewal of vexations by the infamous robber, who has been sent to us by decrepit Spain. The intrepid sons of Cuba, Don—, Don—, Don—, Don—, and that noble republican, Don—, have arranged a plan which will be terrible to our Spanish aggressors.

"Senor—possesses many of the secrets of the government, a fact which will render the success of our scheme certain, which is no other than to liberate our unfortunate Cuba from the tyrannical yoke which oppresses her, and annex ourselves to the classic land of liberty. * * * Please to publish this article over my own signature, since I desire that in all coming time it may be known that I was one of the first to announce, through you, to the world, this glorious revolution, which will have been accomplished, without fail, at the coming carnival, (the past week, from the 23d of February to the 2d of March) or at an earlier day. You may be certain that, before this announcement can possibly reach here in return, the glorious flag, the symbol of our independence, which my own daughters and those of our noble friend, Don—, are now secretly engaged in embroidering, will wave in triumph over all our forts and castles. I remain, &c.

The Chronotype says that this letter has been in the city about three days, and it adds that "the plan involves the complete abolition of slavery in the islands of Cuba and Porto Rico, after the example of Bolivar and the South American countries."—Boston Ad. March 7.

DEATH OF A SPORTING CLEVERMAN.—The Rev. Hardy M. Cryer, of Sumner County, Tenn., died on the 8th instant. He was buried with full Masonic honors. The deceased was a good man, but very eccentric. He is well known in the West for his connection with blooded horses, about which he wrote much and well. In England, he would have been a keen sporting parson, fond of fox-hunting and race horses. A characteristic anecdote is told of him.

"He owned a fine race horse in conjunction with a celebrated and successful turfman and trainer, and when the fact was made known to his parishioners, they made inquiry as to its truth and the charge was brought home to him. At a meeting of the elders, the reverend gentleman was called before them to expiate himself from the heinous offence of running a horse in a race. Feeling that it would be idle to put his defence upon the rational ground of the morality and utility of racing—a defence which he was very competent to make with ingenuity and force—he made up his mind to 'confess and avoid,' as the lawyers say. Accordingly he addressed them thus:—'It's true, gentlemen, Tom Watson and I do own Jake Creach together—and he's not a bad horse either—when he starts he wins. Old man Watson trains and runs him at his own expense—I get half his winnings, because I allow my half of the horse to run when Col. Tom's half goes. If you will provide a way for my half to remain in the stable during the race, I am perfectly willing to retire from the turf. Whether the elders were convinced by this logic, or were mollified by his having named the horse after the Rev. Jacob Creach, a celebrated preacher, we know not; but he was not dismissed from his charge."

BRANDRETH'S PILLS cure all affections, simply because they make the blood pure—abstract out of it those qualities which produce disease, and give to it those qualities which produce health.

Now every solid part of the human frame is made from the blood, and the food we eat is converted into blood to supply the waste our bodies are continually sustaining. So in the ordinary course of nature we manufacture our entire bodies in about nine years, from the food taken into our stomachs. Suppose the air we have lived in for some time has been loaded with matters detrimental to health, or our food for a long period has been of an unwholesome kind, or that the mind has been much troubled—for grief, anxiety, or great attention to any particular point is sure to occasion bad effects in the blood. Any of these causes existing, good blood cannot be supplied to the body.

But let Brandreth's Pills be used daily under these circumstances, in doses of from two to six pills, or as the case shall determine. What is their effect? It is to carry off the impure matters from the blood, leaving only the good to renew every part of the body. What was unsound now becomes sound, and the stomach soon gets into so healthy a condition that even bad air or unwholesome food for a time are unable to injure the health materially.
