GENERAL TAYLOR.

As there is a general desire to learn something of the history, character and qualifications of General Taylor, who now stands so conspicuously before the whole country as the commander of the army of occupation, we extract from one of our exchange the following sketch. It will be interesting:

"Gen. Zachary Taylor entered the army in 1808, immediately efter the attack on the Chesapeake, and has been in the service of his country from that time to the present. Having entered the army as a lieutenant of infantry he had risen to the command of a company at the beginning of the last war.

For his gellant defence of Fort Harrison on the 5th September, 1812, President Medison 'conferred upon him the brevet rank of Major, and he is now the oldest brevet in the army.

In 1832, he became the Colonel of the 6th infantry: with this regiment he went to Florida in 1836, were he was always foremost in danger.

On the 25th December, 1836, Col. Taylor, at the head of a detachment of about 500 men. composed of parts of the 1st, 4th and 6th regi- by mutual consent. ments of United States Infantry and some Mis souri volunteers, met sbout 700 Indians, under Alligator, Sam Jones, and Coa-coo-chee, on the banks of the O-ke-cho-bee. This battle was cought by the Indians, for the day before the engagement, Col. Taylor received a challenge from Alligator, telling him where to find him, and bantering him to come on. Col. Taylor desired nothing better, immediately pushed on at a rapid march to the expected battle ground. fearful that the wily Indian might change his purpose. The Indians had a strong position in a thick swamp, covered in front by a small stream, whose quicksands rendered it almost impassable, but he pushed through the quicksands and swamps, in the face of a deadly fire from a concaled foe, driving the Indians before

The action was long and severe. The Indians yielding the ground inch by inch, and then only at the point of the bayonet. After three hours of bloody contest, the Indians were routed and pursued with great slaughter, until night. This was the laststand they ever made, in a large body, and the only instance in which they volunturily gave battle. - Though Col. Taylor | township, containing forty-three acres more or less, won the day, it was at the expense of 139 killed and wounded-more than one fourth of his whole force. Two colonels, (Colonel Thompson of the 5th infantry, and Colone! Gentry of the Missouri volunteers,) fell at the head of the troops, Capt. Van Swearingen and Lieuts. Brooke and Carter, also fell in the engage-

During the whole of the engagement, Col. Taylor remained on horseback, passing from point to point, cheering his men to the conflict, and exposed to the Indian rifle at every mo-

For this battle, Mr. Poinsett, Secretary of War, rendered merited praise to all engaged, in his communication to Congress. The brevet ter General was conferred on Col Taylor, and he was given the chief command in Florids, which he tesigned in 1840, after four or five years orduous and indefatigable service in the swamps and hammocks of Florida.

After retirement from Fiorida, he was assigned the command of the 1st department of the army, including the States of Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, &c., with his head quarters at Fort Jessup, Louisiana.

"army of occupation," but the usage of the service would have justified the Government in general officers of the regular army, whose rank is higher than his.

But it may be fairly presumed that the high character, gallant services and great experience of Gen. To saide from his geographical position, pointed him out as the appropriate commander of an army, which was to plant our SELINSGROVE, PENN'A. flag upon the banks of the Rio del Norte.

Gen. Taylor is about 56 years of age; is a man of much general information, and an excellent and tried soldier; a prudent and skilful commander, whose traits of character are a wise precaution in providing for the hour of trial, and a fearless, reckless courage in battle.

He is a Kentuckian by birth, and all that word implies. He is an American in heart, and stamped with all the elements of a hero, by na-
