

Book co-op approved

By JERRY MICCO
Collegian Staff Writer
The Association for Residence Hall Students last night unanimously passed a motion to sponsor a book exchange starting Spring Term.

John Arndt, chairman of the ARHS book exchange committee, said the main problem facing the co-op is a possible lack of manpower. "Manpower could definitely be a problem," Arndt said, "but all other things are really starting to fall into place now."

A budget request of about $700 will be submitted to the Associated Student Activities Budget Committee today. Arndt said, and a budget hearing will try to be set up with ASA before the end of the term.

According to Arndt, more than 50 per cent of the budget will be for security and publicity. The leftover money will go for equipment materials and supplies.

The book co-op which will be held in Walnut Building, will be operated by having students fill out two cards — an account card and a liability card. The account card will have the student's name, address, local phone number and I.D. number on it, as well as the book titles and prices for which the student wishes the book to be sold.

The students then can pick up the money for the books, if the books are bought by other students, and his leftover books at a location not confirmed yet by ARHS.

Arndt said this is the first time that all of the dormitory areas have cooperated for a book sale. In the past, the areas have run their own book sales for their areas only. This book sale will be for all University students.

Other problems that

Arndt said would have to be considered are competition with the HUB bookstore and the availability of booklists.

In other action, ARHS unanimously approved a proposed change to the Undergraduate Student Government constitution. The change will involve a three-week orientation period for new executive officers and senators after they are elected. The current constitution says that there must be only a four-day waiting period before the new officials take office.

For the proposed amendment to pass, it will need a unanimous vote of approval from the Academic Assembly and the Board of Trustees, plus two-thirds of the USG Executive Council. ARHS, OTIS and Black Caucus are the only executive council members to have passed the proposed amendment.

Flu shot ban lifted

WASHINGTON (AP) — HEW Secretary Joseph Califano lifted the moratorium on two flu vaccines yesterday. The department recommended that the elderly and people with chronic illnesses get a shot that could protect them from both the swine flu and the A-Victoria strain.

The action allows health officials to again use the combined swine flu and A-Victoria flu vaccine. It also allows the use of another vaccine intended to protect against the milder B-Hong Kong flu.

The moratorium remains in effect, however, for the swine flu-only vaccine that was widely promoted for all Americans before December.

Pennsylvania Health Secretary Leonard Bachman said yesterday he will not resume flu vaccinations in the state until he gets further information from federal doctors.

Bachman said even if the vaccinations were restarted, "it is highly unlikely that we would initiate a full-scale campaign."

"We believe we've reached a major saturation of high risk persons," Bachman said in a statement.

Spain may ok Reds

MADRID, Spain (UPI) — Premier Adolfo Suarez's government yesterday gave the supreme court control over the legalization of political groups, including the outlawed Communist party.

The Spanish, French and Italian Communist parties issued a statement saying they will hold a "Euro-Communist summit" in Madrid within two weeks.

A royal decree abolished the government's power to grant or deny legality to political parties, to suspend their activities and to levy fines on them of up to $75,000.

The action constituted a new step toward full participation in the legislative elections promised for the spring.

Warnke admits loss

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Paul C. Warnke, President Carter's controversial choice as chief U.S. arms negotiator, acknowledged yesterday his top secret copy of the Pentagon Papers found its way into the hands of Daniel Ellsberg who leaked it to the press in 1971.

But Warnke told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee he never anticipated Ellsberg would try to get the document.

Warnke went before the committee with a ringing endorsement from Carter who told a news conference he saw no conflict between his own views of arms reduction and those of Warnke.

"I think when the members of the Senate consider what Mr. Warnke stands for, he will be approved overwhelmingly," Carter said.

Black raiders strike

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP) — Black guerrillas burned and looted offices of a second Christian mission, the Rhodesian government said yesterday, while security forces searched rain-soaked bush for raiders who killed seven white missionaries Sunday.

No casualties were reported in the raid on Nyashanu mission 125 miles southeast of Salisbury near the Mozambique border. The government did not say which church operated the mission or when the attack took place. It said the attackers took about $5,400 and burned a mission workshop and office.

Three Jesuits and four Dominican nuns were lined up and shot Sunday night in an attack on St. Paul's Roman Catholic Mission in the Musami tribal area 26 miles northeast of Salisbury and about 150 miles from the Nyashanu mission.

Lifestyles studied

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The number of American men and women living together out of wedlock has more than doubled since 1970, and now tops the 1 million mark, the Census Bureau reported yesterday.

Its annual report on marriage and household lifestyles also said divorces have increased dramatically over the past decade, and young adults are waiting longer to get married.

"Fundamental changes are occurring in marriage and family living," in the 1970s, the report said.

But it is not yet clear, it said, "whether or not these changes represent only a temporary departure from past norms or the emergence of new and lasting lifestyles."
