

The Herald.

CARLISLE, PA.

Wednesday, June 1, 1859.

PEOPLE'S STATE CONVENTION.

The Citizens of Philadelphia and of the several States of this Commonwealth, attached to the PEOPLE'S PARTY, and all voters of the United States, are requested to send DELEGATES to the PEOPLE'S STATE CONVENTION to be held at CARLISLE, PENNSYLVANIA, on the 8th, 9th, 10th, 11th, 12th, 13th, 14th, 15th, 16th, 17th, 18th, 19th, 20th, 21st, 22nd, 23rd, 24th, 25th, 26th, 27th, 28th, 29th, 30th, and 31st of July, 1859. The Convention will be held at Carlisle, Pa., on the 8th of July, 1859. The Convention will be held at Carlisle, Pa., on the 8th of July, 1859. The Convention will be held at Carlisle, Pa., on the 8th of July, 1859.

Contents of the Herald.

The Herald this week, exhibits a variety of which we hope will be acceptable to our numerous readers. The political article "White Day-today let us work," and "Memory," were selected by two of our fair correspondents, to whom we are under many obligations for the interest they manifest in the Herald. No. 6, of the series of letters by Prof. Bennett, gives us an interesting sketch of the late W. H. Prescott. Mr. Bennett is a writer whose rich poetic fancy, lends a charm to every subject he touches. Ida Glenwood, whose contributions always tend towards the purest moral teachings, gives us, this week, an essay on "Love."

Our Far West Territories, selected by a friend, for publication, embodies much information to the general reader, as well as to farmers.

A Romantic Story, contains the experience of a young lady of Cleveland, Ohio, who spent three years alone on a desolate island in Lake Superior, which fully entitles her to notice, as a female Robinson Crusoe.

"Growing Old," will find a response from many hearts. "Fairly Represented," from Harper's Magazine for May, is a "robust-second thought" in relation to the late Catholic excitement in the common school of Boston.

An article on Physical Education, and an amusing item for our Firemen fills up our first page. On the inside will be found News, Politics, Locals, and a number of new advertisements, to which last, we call special attention.

BLACK REPUBLICANISM.

Under this head, the Democratic papers, are endeavoring to make political capital out of the fact, that an amendment has been introduced into the constitution of Massachusetts, requiring all foreign born citizens to reside in that State, two years after naturalization, before they have a right to vote or hold office. This article provides that:

"No person of foreign birth shall be entitled to vote, or shall be eligible to office, unless he shall have resided within the jurisdiction of the United States for two years subsequent to his naturalization, and shall have been qualified according to the Constitution and laws of this Commonwealth: Provided, That this amendment shall not affect the right which any person of foreign birth possessed at the time of the adoption thereof. Provided further, That it shall not affect the rights of any child of a citizen of the United States born during the temporary absence of the parents therefrom."

This amendment is regarded as a party measure, it has a qualifying towards Americanism, rather than an amendment, but, so far as can be ascertained, it was not made a party question; nearly the whole Republican vote was thrown against it, while the American and Loco-focoes of Massachusetts, combined together, and thus secured its passage. However we do not consider this provision of the Constitution of Massachusetts, so very odious after all certainly, not more so, than those laws which compel a native born citizen of Pennsylvania to reside from one to two years in another State, before he can exercise the right of suffrage.

But if it were even true, that the Republicans of Massachusetts advocated and passed the amendment, what have we in Pennsylvania to do with it? We hold, that every State has the right to declare who, and when, her citizens shall be entitled to vote, and it would be as silly to charge the Republican party of Pennsylvania, with this law of Massachusetts, as it would be to charge the Democrats of Pennsylvania, with the property qualification of democratic Virginia. If the Democrats are really desirous of amendments over this provision of the Massachusetts constitution, where are all the tears they shed when Mr. Buchanan attempted to disfranchise the people of Kansas.

THE NEXT SENATE.

If our friends pursue a prudent course during the ensuing political campaign, we may confidently expect to carry the Senate. The Senators holding over are equally divided; eleven Republicans to eleven Democrats; of those whose term expired with the last session, six were Democrats, Wright and Randall of Philadelphia; Pettey of the District; Brewer of Franklin and Adams; Steele of Luzerne; and Creswell of Blair. Five were Republicans—Gazzam of Allegheny; Coffey of Indiana; Myer of Bradford; Scofield of Warren; and Harris of Butler. We shall not lose any "right side up, with care," in Philadelphia we shall certainly gain one perhaps two. In the Franklin and Adams districts, Col. A. K. McClure is likely to be the candidate, and if so, will undoubtedly be elected; and the Blair district can also be carried, if the opposition unite their forces.

In our district, taking the vote of last year as a basis for calculation, a small blanklet will probably be sufficient to cover both the candidates. From the official returns, we find the vote of the four counties on the Supreme Judge and Canal Commissioner, to be as follows:

County	Head	Porter	Fenn	Prosser
Cumberland	268	281	115	280
Franklin	1210	1215	1379	1284
Blair	1466	1122	1794	1128
Ferris	1791	1628	1794	1688
Total	4764	4770	6882	6880

We repeat, that if the PEOPLE go into this campaign, in a conciliatory spirit, with an earnest desire to do right, regardless of unimportant outside issues, we may expect to see a Republican majority "hang up their hats," in the Senate chamber next session.

THEATRICAL.—We notice from our exchanges that a portion of the company attached to the Arch Street Theatre, among whom are Mrs. John Drew, J. S. Clark and other eminent performers, are making a summer excursion to this section of the country, and were to open at Chambersburg on Monday last, under the management of Mr. Geo. W. G. They were to perform at Harrisburg, Gettysburg, Lancaster and other large towns, perhaps they could be induced to spend a week at Carlisle.

Rev. B. H. Nadal D. D. of Washington city is to deliver an address at the dedication of the Mount Olive Cemetery at Hanover, Pennsylvania.

Straight American Convention.

The Harrisburg Telegraph gives an account of a "Straight American" State Convention, which was held in that place on the 26th of the morning session was held in the Hall of the House of Representatives, and was composed of two delegates, Mr. Colton, of Philadelphia, and J. J. Herron, Esq., of Newville. In the afternoon, fifteen delegates assembled to represent the counties of Philadelphia, Westmoreland, Armstrong, Washington, Green, Crawford, Fayette, Allegheny, Dauphin, and Cumberland. J. J. Herron, of Cumberland, was appointed Chairman, and T. P. Wilson, of Allegheny, Secretary. After an interchange of opinion, they adopted a preamble declaring it inexpedient to take any action in regard to the State election; resolved that they were still Straight Americans, and authorized the chairman to appoint a State committee.

The Telegraph now says in reply to a statement in the Pittsburg Gazette, that 40 delegates were in attendance, that "there was but seven actual delegates at Harrisburg, and but fourteen persons were in the Hall of the House of Representatives at the time the resolutions were passed. We have made diligent search for the names of those who were here, and can find but three, F. B. Colton of Philadelphia, Thos. F. Wilson of Pittsburg, and J. J. Herron of Newville."

On Thursday last, the season at this delightful watering place was formally opened, by an excursion given to the members of the press, and other invited guests, by the President and Directors of the Camden and Atlantic City Railroad Company. We acknowledge the honor of an invitation to join the excursion referred to, and regret that engagements elsewhere, deprived us of that pleasure.

We learn that on the arrival of the train at the sea-shore, the party embarked on board of a large schooner and enjoyed a pleasant sail on the ocean. On their return they sat down to a sumptuous dinner at the United States Hotel, to which the guests did ample justice, and after the removal of the cloth, speeches were made by Morton McMichael, Mayor Yaux, Gen. Cameron and others.

Atlantic City, is one of the most popular, as it is said to be the safest watering place on the coast, streets have been laid out and graded, trees planted, boarding houses and cottages erected, and many other improvements made to render the place agreeable and attractive. Persons from this section of the country about to visit the sea-shore, will find Atlantic City very accessible also, as trains leave Philadelphia for that point morning and evening.

Becher's Risk Practice.

A certain minister once preached an affecting sermon, by which the entire congregation were melted to tears, with the exception of one man, who sat under it all the time, "palm" in his summer morning. On being asked why he did not weep? "Oh," said he, "I belong to another congregation."

It is not to be presumed, therefore, that any one in this community, will consider himself exempt from the obligation of attending church, by the following discharge, (from the Rev. Henry Wald Becher, "celestialist" Gen.)

"In a recent sermon, Mr. Becher said:— 'There is sitting before me in this congregation now two hundred men, who stuff their Sundays full of what they call religion, and who do not attend to their souls. They are brought by the throat, saying: 'Pay me that thou owest; it's Monday now, and you needn't think that because we sat crying together yesterday, over our Savior's suffering and love, that I am going to let you off from that debt, if it does ruin you to pay it now.'"

A MIXED EXTRIC.—A correspondent of the Knickerbocker, has been describing to the editor of that Journal, a "hundred-fisted nightmare," which haunts him in the shape of Rail Road posters. Wherever he goes he sees nothing but Illinois Central Railroad, Michigan Central, Chicago and Alton, New York and Erie, Pennsylvania Central, &c., &c., staring in large type, until they have become mixed in his common thoughts, so that he is often dreaming, as he went to sleep he muttered, in a half somnolent way:—"Now I lay me down the 'Broad Gauge' to sleep."

I pray 'Great Western Route' to keep, If the 'Central' busts before I wake, I pray the 'Air Line' my trunk to take!"

THE STORM ON FRIDAY.

The severe storm which swept over our county on last Friday afternoon, was very destructive in some of the lower counties, very little fall fell in this neighborhood, but the wind was high and the rain fell in torrents. The storm passed over Carlisle about two hours, as the Gazette of that city says:

"Last evening, (Friday) shortly before 6 o'clock, we had a violent hail storm, accompanied by a high wind, and thunder and lightning. For about five minutes, the hail-stones fell in great profusion, and rattled against the window panes with such force as to threaten to shiver them to atoms. In the Methodist Church, on Fourth street, nearly all the glass in the windows looking toward the North, were broken, and we learn that the windows of a number of private dwellings exposed to the fury of the storm, suffered in a similar manner."

On the same day, a terrific tornado passed over part of Illinois, as we learn by the following telegraphic dispatch.

"Chicago May 28.—The Jacksonville correspondent of the Springfield Register says that a most terrific tornado occurred twelve miles south of that city yesterday. The violence of the whirlwind is described as exceeding anything of the kind ever witnessed in this country, and could only be compared to a West India hurricane. Sixteen persons are reported to have been killed and many others seriously injured. Houses and barns were demolished and blown to atoms. The names of the killed have not been ascertained."

CAPT. E. W. H. Schenley, who some years ago, eloped with Miss Croghan the Pittsburg heiress, from a New York boarding school and married her, has recently been elected a member of the British Parliament, as an opponent of the present Derby Administration. Capt. Schenley resided near Pittsburg, until about two years ago, when he removed, with his family, to England.

THE VIRGINIA ELECTION.—The result of the election in Virginia, is still doubtful. The Democracy who expected an easy victory, have been taken by surprise.

A dispatch from Richmond dated May 29 states the following as the latest news.

Returns have now been received from ninety counties, showing an electoral majority for Mr. Letcher, for Governor, of 428. Forty-eight counties are yet to be heard from, which, at last Governor's election gave Gov. Wise a majority of 2047, the average gain of Mr. Goggins, the opposition candidate, in the counties heard from has been 78. If the counties to be heard from show the same average of gain for the Opposition, Mr. Goggins would be elected by a majority of about 1200.

Washington, May 29.—A private dispatch from a reliable Whig source, dated Richmond, this evening, says that returns from 111 counties make Letcher's majority 385. The 87 remaining counties gave Gov. Wise a majority of 1480.

Don't forget to read the new advertisements.

Correspondence of the Playmate

A Fatal Duel.

DATTLE FORT, MOBILE, May 17, 1859.

As announced to you yesterday, by telegram, two young gentlemen, Mr. Stith and Mr. Vick, came over to this city to-day, from New Orleans, to settle an "affair of honor," the result of which has been the death of Judge Lettice, their original destination was Pass Christian, but circumstances brought them here. They were attended by two seconds and a surgeon each.

The meeting took place at 11 o'clock A. M., at the old race course, (Basscomb's) The weapons were common Mississippi rifles; distance, forty-five paces. They fought on the inside of the course—some eighty yards from the inclosure, and under the open sky. Coolness and gallantry marked each antagonist, as he walked in his position, unshaken, until the tragical denouement. Mr. Vick won the choice of position; Mr. Stith won the "word."

All preliminaries being arranged, and the weapons placed in the hands of theelligent ones, the usual commencing was given. Each gentleman answered, audibly, "ready." At the word "fire!" Mr. Vick brought his weapon down discharged, and Mr. Stith, who was standing on the left, and raising upward, passed into the death death Judge Lettice, their original destination was Pass Christian, but circumstances brought them here. They were attended by two seconds and a surgeon each.

The meeting took place at 11 o'clock A. M., at the old race course, (Basscomb's) The weapons were common Mississippi rifles; distance, forty-five paces. They fought on the inside of the course—some eighty yards from the inclosure, and under the open sky. Coolness and gallantry marked each antagonist, as he walked in his position, unshaken, until the tragical denouement. Mr. Vick won the choice of position; Mr. Stith won the "word."

All preliminaries being arranged, and the weapons placed in the hands of theelligent ones, the usual commencing was given. Each gentleman answered, audibly, "ready." At the word "fire!" Mr. Vick brought his weapon down discharged, and Mr. Stith, who was standing on the left, and raising upward, passed into the death death Judge Lettice, their original destination was Pass Christian, but circumstances brought them here. They were attended by two seconds and a surgeon each.

The meeting took place at 11 o'clock A. M., at the old race course, (Basscomb's) The weapons were common Mississippi rifles; distance, forty-five paces. They fought on the inside of the course—some eighty yards from the inclosure, and under the open sky. Coolness and gallantry marked each antagonist, as he walked in his position, unshaken, until the tragical denouement. Mr. Vick won the choice of position; Mr. Stith won the "word."

All preliminaries being arranged, and the weapons placed in the hands of theelligent ones, the usual commencing was given. Each gentleman answered, audibly, "ready." At the word "fire!" Mr. Vick brought his weapon down discharged, and Mr. Stith, who was standing on the left, and raising upward, passed into the death death Judge Lettice, their original destination was Pass Christian, but circumstances brought them here. They were attended by two seconds and a surgeon each.

The meeting took place at 11 o'clock A. M., at the old race course, (Basscomb's) The weapons were common Mississippi rifles; distance, forty-five paces. They fought on the inside of the course—some eighty yards from the inclosure, and under the open sky. Coolness and gallantry marked each antagonist, as he walked in his position, unshaken, until the tragical denouement. Mr. Vick won the choice of position; Mr. Stith won the "word."

All preliminaries being arranged, and the weapons placed in the hands of theelligent ones, the usual commencing was given. Each gentleman answered, audibly, "ready." At the word "fire!" Mr. Vick brought his weapon down discharged, and Mr. Stith, who was standing on the left, and raising upward, passed into the death death Judge Lettice, their original destination was Pass Christian, but circumstances brought them here. They were attended by two seconds and a surgeon each.

The meeting took place at 11 o'clock A. M., at the old race course, (Basscomb's) The weapons were common Mississippi rifles; distance, forty-five paces. They fought on the inside of the course—some eighty yards from the inclosure, and under the open sky. Coolness and gallantry marked each antagonist, as he walked in his position, unshaken, until the tragical denouement. Mr. Vick won the choice of position; Mr. Stith won the "word."

All preliminaries being arranged, and the weapons placed in the hands of theelligent ones, the usual commencing was given. Each gentleman answered, audibly, "ready." At the word "fire!" Mr. Vick brought his weapon down discharged, and Mr. Stith, who was standing on the left, and raising upward, passed into the death death Judge Lettice, their original destination was Pass Christian, but circumstances brought them here. They were attended by two seconds and a surgeon each.

The meeting took place at 11 o'clock A. M., at the old race course, (Basscomb's) The weapons were common Mississippi rifles; distance, forty-five paces. They fought on the inside of the course—some eighty yards from the inclosure, and under the open sky. Coolness and gallantry marked each antagonist, as he walked in his position, unshaken, until the tragical denouement. Mr. Vick won the choice of position; Mr. Stith won the "word."

All preliminaries being arranged, and the weapons placed in the hands of theelligent ones, the usual commencing was given. Each gentleman answered, audibly, "ready." At the word "fire!" Mr. Vick brought his weapon down discharged, and Mr. Stith, who was standing on the left, and raising upward, passed into the death death Judge Lettice, their original destination was Pass Christian, but circumstances brought them here. They were attended by two seconds and a surgeon each.

The meeting took place at 11 o'clock A. M., at the old race course, (Basscomb's) The weapons were common Mississippi rifles; distance, forty-five paces. They fought on the inside of the course—some eighty yards from the inclosure, and under the open sky. Coolness and gallantry marked each antagonist, as he walked in his position, unshaken, until the tragical denouement. Mr. Vick won the choice of position; Mr. Stith won the "word."

All preliminaries being arranged, and the weapons placed in the hands of theelligent ones, the usual commencing was given. Each gentleman answered, audibly, "ready." At the word "fire!" Mr. Vick brought his weapon down discharged, and Mr. Stith, who was standing on the left, and raising upward, passed into the death death Judge Lettice, their original destination was Pass Christian, but circumstances brought them here. They were attended by two seconds and a surgeon each.

The meeting took place at 11 o'clock A. M., at the old race course, (Basscomb's) The weapons were common Mississippi rifles; distance, forty-five paces. They fought on the inside of the course—some eighty yards from the inclosure, and under the open sky. Coolness and gallantry marked each antagonist, as he walked in his position, unshaken, until the tragical denouement. Mr. Vick won the choice of position; Mr. Stith won the "word."

All preliminaries being arranged, and the weapons placed in the hands of theelligent ones, the usual commencing was given. Each gentleman answered, audibly, "ready." At the word "fire!" Mr. Vick brought his weapon down discharged, and Mr. Stith, who was standing on the left, and raising upward, passed into the death death Judge Lettice, their original destination was Pass Christian, but circumstances brought them here. They were attended by two seconds and a surgeon each.

The meeting took place at 11 o'clock A. M., at the old race course, (Basscomb's) The weapons were common Mississippi rifles; distance, forty-five paces. They fought on the inside of the course—some eighty yards from the inclosure, and under the open sky. Coolness and gallantry marked each antagonist, as he walked in his position, unshaken, until the tragical denouement. Mr. Vick won the choice of position; Mr. Stith won the "word."

All preliminaries being arranged, and the weapons placed in the hands of theelligent ones, the usual commencing was given. Each gentleman answered, audibly, "ready." At the word "fire!" Mr. Vick brought his weapon down discharged, and Mr. Stith, who was standing on the left, and raising upward, passed into the death death Judge Lettice, their original destination was Pass Christian, but circumstances brought them here. They were attended by two seconds and a surgeon each.

The meeting took place at 11 o'clock A. M., at the old race course, (Basscomb's) The weapons were common Mississippi rifles; distance, forty-five paces. They fought on the inside of the course—some eighty yards from the inclosure, and under the open sky. Coolness and gallantry marked each antagonist, as he walked in his position, unshaken, until the tragical denouement. Mr. Vick won the choice of position; Mr. Stith won the "word."

All preliminaries being arranged, and the weapons placed in the hands of theelligent ones, the usual commencing was given. Each gentleman answered, audibly, "ready." At the word "fire!" Mr. Vick brought his weapon down discharged, and Mr. Stith, who was standing on the left, and raising upward, passed into the death death Judge Lettice, their original destination was Pass Christian, but circumstances brought them here. They were attended by two seconds and a surgeon each.

The meeting took place at 11 o'clock A. M., at the old race course, (Basscomb's) The weapons were common Mississippi rifles; distance, forty-five paces. They fought on the inside of the course—some eighty yards from the inclosure, and under the open sky. Coolness and gallantry marked each antagonist, as he walked in his position, unshaken, until the tragical denouement. Mr. Vick won the choice of position; Mr. Stith won the "word."

All preliminaries being arranged, and the weapons placed in the hands of theelligent ones, the usual commencing was given. Each gentleman answered, audibly, "ready." At the word "fire!" Mr. Vick brought his weapon down discharged, and Mr. Stith, who was standing on the left, and raising upward, passed into the death death Judge Lettice, their original destination was Pass Christian, but circumstances brought them here. They were attended by two seconds and a surgeon each.

The meeting took place at 11 o'clock A. M., at the old race course, (Basscomb's) The weapons were common Mississippi rifles; distance, forty-five paces. They fought on the inside of the course—some eighty yards from the inclosure, and under the open sky. Coolness and gallantry marked each antagonist, as he walked in his position, unshaken, until the tragical denouement. Mr. Vick won the choice of position; Mr. Stith won the "word."

All preliminaries being arranged, and the weapons placed in the hands of theelligent ones, the usual commencing was given. Each gentleman answered, audibly, "ready." At the word "fire!" Mr. Vick brought his weapon down discharged, and Mr. Stith, who was standing on the left, and raising upward, passed into the death death Judge Lettice, their original destination was Pass Christian, but circumstances brought them here. They were attended by two seconds and a surgeon each.

The meeting took place at 11 o'clock A. M., at the old race course, (Basscomb's) The weapons were common Mississippi rifles; distance, forty-five paces. They fought on the inside of the course—some eighty yards from the inclosure, and under the open sky. Coolness and gallantry marked each antagonist, as he walked in his position, unshaken, until the tragical denouement. Mr. Vick won the choice of position; Mr. Stith won the "word."

All preliminaries being arranged, and the weapons placed in the hands of theelligent ones, the usual commencing was given. Each gentleman answered, audibly, "ready." At the word "fire!" Mr. Vick brought his weapon down discharged, and Mr. Stith, who was standing on the left, and raising upward, passed into the death death Judge Lettice, their original destination was Pass Christian, but circumstances brought them here. They were attended by two seconds and a surgeon each.

The meeting took place at 11 o'clock A. M., at the old race course, (Basscomb's) The weapons were common Mississippi rifles; distance, forty-five paces. They fought on the inside of the course—some eighty yards from the inclosure, and under the open sky. Coolness and gallantry marked each antagonist, as he walked in his position, unshaken, until the tragical denouement. Mr. Vick won the choice of position; Mr. Stith won the "word."

All preliminaries being arranged, and the weapons placed in the hands of theelligent ones, the usual commencing was given. Each gentleman answered, audibly, "ready." At the word "fire!" Mr. Vick brought his weapon down discharged, and Mr. Stith, who was standing on the left, and raising upward, passed into the death death Judge Lettice, their original destination was Pass Christian, but circumstances brought them here. They were attended by two seconds and a surgeon each.

The meeting took place at 11 o'clock A. M., at the old race course, (Basscomb's) The weapons were common Mississippi rifles; distance, forty-five paces. They fought on the inside of the course—some eighty yards from the inclosure, and under the open sky. Coolness and gallantry marked each antagonist, as he walked in his position, unshaken, until the tragical denouement. Mr. Vick won the choice of position; Mr. Stith won the "word."

All preliminaries being arranged, and the weapons placed in the hands of theelligent ones, the usual commencing was given. Each gentleman answered, audibly, "ready." At the word "fire!" Mr. Vick brought his weapon down discharged, and Mr. Stith, who was standing on the left, and raising upward, passed into the death death Judge Lettice, their original destination was Pass Christian, but circumstances brought them here. They were attended by two seconds and a surgeon each.

The meeting took place at 11 o'clock A. M., at the old race course, (Basscomb's) The weapons were common Mississippi rifles; distance, forty-five paces. They fought on the inside of the course—some eighty yards from the inclosure, and under the open sky. Coolness and gallantry marked each antagonist, as he walked in his position, unshaken, until the tragical denouement. Mr. Vick won the choice of position; Mr. Stith won the "word."

All preliminaries being arranged, and the weapons placed in the hands of theelligent ones, the usual commencing was given. Each gentleman answered, audibly, "ready." At the word "fire!" Mr. Vick brought his weapon down discharged, and Mr. Stith, who was standing on the left, and raising upward, passed into the death death Judge Lettice, their original destination was Pass Christian, but circumstances brought them here. They were attended by two seconds and a surgeon each.

The meeting took place at 11 o'clock A. M., at the old race course, (Basscomb's) The weapons were common Mississippi rifles; distance, forty-five paces. They fought on the inside of the course—some eighty yards from the inclosure, and under the open sky. Coolness and gallantry marked each antagonist, as he walked in his position, unshaken, until the tragical denouement. Mr. Vick won the choice of position; Mr. Stith won the "word."

All preliminaries being arranged, and the weapons placed in the hands of theelligent ones, the usual commencing was given. Each gentleman answered, audibly, "ready." At the word "fire!" Mr. Vick brought his weapon down discharged, and Mr. Stith, who was standing on the left, and raising upward, passed into the death death Judge Lettice, their original destination was Pass Christian, but circumstances brought them here. They were attended by two seconds and a surgeon each.

The meeting took place at 11 o'clock A. M., at the old race course, (Basscomb's) The weapons were common Mississippi rifles; distance, forty-five paces. They fought on the inside of the course—some eighty yards from the inclosure, and under the open sky. Coolness and gallantry marked each antagonist, as he walked in his position, unshaken, until the tragical denouement. Mr. Vick won the choice of position; Mr. Stith won the "word."

All preliminaries being arranged, and the weapons placed in the hands of theelligent ones, the usual commencing was given. Each gentleman answered, audibly, "ready." At the word "fire!" Mr. Vick brought his weapon down discharged, and Mr. Stith, who was standing on the left, and raising upward, passed into the death death Judge Lettice, their original destination was Pass Christian, but circumstances brought them here. They were attended by two seconds and a surgeon each.

The meeting took place at 11 o'clock A. M., at the old race course, (Basscomb's) The weapons were common Mississippi rifles; distance, forty-five paces. They fought on the inside of the course—some eighty yards from the inclosure, and under the open sky. Coolness and gallantry marked each antagonist, as he walked in his position, unshaken, until the tragical denouement. Mr. Vick won the choice of position; Mr. Stith won the "word."

All preliminaries being arranged, and the weapons placed in the hands of theelligent ones, the usual commencing was given. Each gentleman answered, audibly, "ready." At the word "fire!" Mr. Vick brought his weapon down discharged, and Mr. Stith, who was standing on the left, and raising upward, passed into the death death Judge Lettice, their original destination was Pass Christian, but circumstances brought them here. They were attended by two seconds and a surgeon each.

The meeting took place at 11 o'clock A. M., at the old race course, (Basscomb's) The weapons were common Mississippi rifles; distance, forty-five paces. They fought on the inside of the course—some eighty yards from the inclosure, and under the open sky. Coolness and gallantry marked each antagonist, as he walked in his position, unshaken, until the tragical denouement. Mr. Vick won the choice of position; Mr. Stith won the "word."

All preliminaries being arranged, and the weapons placed in the hands of theelligent ones, the usual commencing was given. Each gentleman answered, audibly, "ready." At the word "fire!" Mr. Vick brought his weapon down discharged, and Mr. Stith, who was standing on the left, and raising upward, passed into the death death Judge Lettice, their original destination was Pass Christian, but circumstances brought them here. They were attended by two seconds and a surgeon each.

The meeting took place at 11 o'clock A. M., at the old race course, (Basscomb's) The weapons were common Mississippi rifles; distance, forty-five paces. They fought on the inside of the course—some eighty yards from the inclosure, and under the open sky. Coolness and gallantry marked each antagonist, as he walked in his position, unshaken, until the tragical denouement. Mr. Vick won the choice of position; Mr. Stith won the "word."

Colon and County Matters.

Meteorological Register for the Week ending May 30th, 1859.

Day	Thermometer	Rain	Remarks
Tuesday	68 00	—	—
Wednesday	66 00	—	—
Thursday	72 00	80	Thun. Shower
Friday	70 00	00	—
Saturday	69 00	—	—
Sunday	67 00	5	Rain.
Monday	62 00	70	Rain.
Weekly Mean	66 00	1 65	—

The degree of heat in the above register is the daily average of three observations.

THE CIRCUS.—We had S. B. Lent's

Circus company, in town on last Friday, who pitched their tent at the "Poplar Lot," but very few people were in from the country, compared with what has been seen on other occasions. Before the afternoon performance had concluded, a violent rain storm came up, which threatened to bring the canvas down on actors and audience; a general stampede took place, and it is said there was a much more interesting exhibition of "ground and lively tumbling," outside of the pavilion than had been given in the ring. The rain came steadily on, and the water flooded the ground and pathways. In the rush to get out, dresses were torn, bonnets soiled, hoops and crinolines were very inconvenient; skeleton skirts were totally unmanageable, and in some cases were left to hang and sway in girdle around, to the horror of all modest male spectators. Gaiters were engulfed, slippers were nowhere, and hose—well everything outside of the cuticle of bifurcated femininity was thoroughly drenched.

At night, as we learn, there was a large crowd in attendance; but it was a somewhat sorry one, that has been making its periodical visits for the last twenty years, on the same stupid routine of ring performance, the same acrobatic feats; the same dull clown, dressed in the same motley, using the same stale jokes, and retaining all the vulgarity of the clown of former years, except the wit to make it palatable.

The town was unusually quiet, until about 11 o'clock, when a quarrel arose among some persons in the square, which might have resulted in a serious fight, but constable Bretz interfered, and restored order.

MARCH OF RECRUITS.—On Wednesday

last, 100 recruits for the 2d Dragoons and 38 for the 1st Cavalry, left Carlisle, Pa., under the command of Lieut. Ransom 1st Cavalry, accompanied by Lieut. Green and Armstrong of the 2d Dragoons. Part of the recruits are destined for Texas; Lieut. Ransom joins his company at Fort Riley, Arkansas. There are still about 230 men at the Barracks; these, 110 are expected to be ordered off, about the 6th of July, leaving a permanent Company of 120 men to garrison the Post.

Lieut. Ransom, who has resided here, for several months, has made many friends in Carlisle, who will watch his future course with interest, and hail his return with pleasure, whenever duty shall again call him to this station.

ARTILLERY ASSOCIATION.—It will be seen by the proceedings of the meeting on last Saturday evening, that an adjourned meeting will be held at the Court House, next Saturday (June 4th) in which the citizens of the borough are invited to participate.

As this meeting is called for the purpose of making arrangements for an appropriate celebration of the 4th of July, it is desired that the members of the Association and the citizens generally will attend. Let us have a regular old-fashioned, patriotic celebration, exempt from political questions or party affinities.

TROUT FISHING.—According to the Harrisburg Telegraph, two gentlemen of that place on Saturday last, made a foray on one of the trout streams in this county, and caught sixty trout, some of which measured six inches!

When one of our fishermen accidentally hooks a trout less than 12 inches, he usually throws it back into the stream or, into his basket. If he was caught carrying home trout six inches long, he would be indicted for malicious mischief.

DAILY FREIGHT FROM PHILADELPHIA.