Ayer's
SARSAPARILLA.

THE WORLD'S GREAT REMEDY FOR
Scrofulous and Rheumatic Diseases.
From "Ayer's Sarsaparilla," New York.

"I have sold large quantities of your SARSAPARILLA, but never met one butts mind filled with the idea that it was a great medicine. As far as our neighbors are concerned, they have not been medicine but a curse to our community."—Lancaster, Pa., Boston, Boston, Providence, Utica, Albany, Buffalo, and all Districts of the State.

From "Dr. Root, Boston, Medical Record."

"I only do my duty to men and the public, when I tell my relatives to you that you must take the medicine which you sell, and that it is the best."—"I have had a long time an ailing humor to my ears, and have for years, which were made to me until we took Ayer's SARSAPARILLA. She has been well for some months."

From "Mrs. J. C. Ayer, Boston, Medical Record."

"My daughter is cured for a year past with Ayer's SARSAPARILLA, which was very troublesome, finding almost no relief with any other treatment. I am anxious to know if you can furnish any information concerning the cure of her disease."—"The result of your treatment is most satisfactory."—"I am anxious to know if you can furnish any information concerning the cure of her disease."—"The result of your treatment is most satisfactory."

From "Dr. J. H. Jackson, Troy, N.Y."

"I have had several cases a very troublesome disease in my State, which your great works were instrumental in curing. I have had many cases of scrofulous affections, I found Ayer's SARSAPARILLA a great remedy, and I have just now come in contact with a case of scrofulous affection, and I am anxious to know if you can furnish any information concerning the cure of this disease."—"The result of your treatment is most satisfactory."

From "Dr. J. H. Jackson, Troy, N.Y."

"For twelve years, I had the yellow Epidemic in my State, during which time I tried all the remedies known to man, and none were of much service, excepting those which were of doubtful worth of medicines. The disease soon hid itself, so that its course became visible, and the doctors declared that my arm must be amputated. I again tried Ayer's SARSAPARILLA, and the disease disappeared in two weeks. Together with the SARSAPARILLA, I took a full dose of Quinine, and I am now well and strong and healthy, living in a public place, my name is known to every body in this country, and excite the wonder of all who see me."

From "Dr. Henry Morris, M.D., of New York."

"I have used your SARSAPARILLA in my family, and in the family of my wife, and the blood, skin, eyes, heart, & kidneys, will feel confidence in commanding it to the selected."

Dr. Anthony's Pine, Rose, Salt, Rheum, Gold Head, Bone Balsam.

From "Henry Miller, Troy, the older editor of the "Troy Journal of Health," New York."

"The only child, about three years of age, was attacked by scrofulous disease. They rapidly increased in size, and the child was continually ill, which caused his death, and eventually buried him for six months. A skilled physician applied casts of silver and other remedies, without any success. At last, however, we gathered his bones, and with them, having the same day, we gathered his hair, and except what would cover his whole head, nothing remained. We had no hope from the physician, and your SARSAPARILLA, after being given to him, he said, 'I will give you a full guarantee.' Together with the SARSAPARILLA, we had a full dose of Quinine, and we had turned around. The child is now well, and has had no trouble again, and for patient and steady and fair dealing, and for being a neighbor, presented at the child's death."

Dr. Rutherford and Mercurial Disease.

From "Dr. J. H. Jackson, Troy, N.Y."

"I had your SARSAPARILLA a more efficient remedy for the secondary symptoms of Scrofulous than any other I have ever seen. We possess a large number of specimens, and are glad to furnish them to you, or to you, or to any one who may be interested."

From "Dr. J. P. Jones, M.D., an eminent physician of Worcester, Massachusetts, in a recent issue of the "American Physician."

"Dr. Ayer's SARSAPARILLA. My dear Sir! I have found your SARSAPARILLA a great remedy for the cure of scrofulous disease, and particularly for the cure of the disease in children. In some cases, and more too, it succeeds to yield other remedies. I do not know what you can mean with your statement to the effect that it is powerfully diuretic."
