STATE SENATE, HON. W. WALLACE, of Clearfield Co ASSEMBLY, HON. T. J. McCULLOUGH, of Clearfield county.

Democratic County Ticket, SHERIFF, JACOB McCAULEY, of Fox twp. COMMISSIONER, H. S. BELNAP, of Ridgway twp. AUDITOR, C. A. WILCOX, of Herton twp.

AN ANCIENT RADICAL. Somewhere in ancient history we are told that one of Rome's emperors, was in the habit, after a battle had ceased and the dead become putrid, of going over the field to gratify his olfactory organs by sniffing the stench which was emitted from the putrid bodies of the slain.

The Radical leaders of the present day afford a fitting parallel to the conduct of Tiberius. Of course not in a strict sense, but in such a sense as is applicable to their course. Like their prototype, Tiberius, the Radicals smelled the battle afar off, but when the carnage had ceased, and danger had sped, then they were on the field, Tiberius to gratify a bestial appetite, and the Radicals to show their loyalty.

These same men, for the purpose of avoiding the live issues of the day, are now engaged in a systematic effort to harrow up feelings of animosity against the Southern people. They hypocritical, cry, "Think of the thousands of Union prisoners who were starved at Andersonville!" They forget, that the truth of history is that the suffering was occasioned by Grant and Stanton refusing in the language of the latter Jacobite, "to exchange good fighting men for skeletons."

But their deception will not avail them. The time when they could deceive has passed. The people know that their continuance in power will still further blight our national prosperity, and have resolved to oust them from the positions which they have used only to enrich themselves. Tiberius was assassinated for his crimes and because he stunk so as not to be fit company for humanity, and the Radical party are as sure to meet the same fate as that to-morrow's sun will rise

RADICAL RECONSTRUCTION.

The State of Tennessee just now furnishes a good illustration of the practical working of the Radical policy of reconstruction. Tennessee was the first State "restored" to the Union under Radical auspices, and having had three years of experience and opportunity, ought to exhibit in its true light, the effects of the Radical attempt to rebuild her fallen prosperity. The effect of disfranchising the intelligent white voters of the State, and giving suffrage without restriction to the Negro, was to place in power a class of men without experience, with little or no knowledge of public affairs, and wholly unprepared and incompetent to conduct the government of a State in times like these, when a community is endeavoring to pass from a state of war and violence to one of peace.

The fruits of this arrangement are now manifest in the present condition of the State, which has already reached the position of bankruptcy, and is on the very verge of a new civil commotion. The State is without funds, and unable to pay the interest on its public debts, a feeling of discontent prevails throughout the entire population, and the legislature under Brownlow's instigation is now organizing a negro militia and providing them with arms, preparatory to carrying the coming election by force and violence.

And this is the boasted reconstruction of the Radicals. This is the peace they promise the country—the peace invoked by Grant, the "peace" of despotism and the sword and negro domination. To us this presents an aspect that promises any thing but peace. The Saxon race will not make quiet slaves, and they who attempt to subject them to negro rule, will some day be awakened to a retribution that will startle the world. The blind recklessness of the Radicals in the support of their policy, is truly astonishing. The end towards which they are tending is apparent to all the world but themselves. The patient forbearance of the people thus far has only encouraged them to new and further usurpations, while it is clear that the truly loyal of the nation have only been waiting the coming opportunity at the ballot-box, to wipe out in a peaceful manner, the long list of grievances under which the country suffers. This they intend to do, nor do they propose to permit the Radicals to defeat the popular will by force of arms or negro votes.

A SOUND DEMOCRAT.—The people in the 17th Congressional district, (composed of the counties of Cambria, Blair, Huntingdon and Mifflin,) are waging a vigorous campaign. The Democrats have, with great unanimity, presented Col. John P. Linton as their candidate. Mr. Linton was the Democratic nominee for Surveyor General three years ago, and has since served two years in the Legislature from Cambria county. He is a great favorite with "the boys in blue," and will no de elected over D. J. Morrell, the present "loyal" member who during the war remained at home, playing the coward and sneak, and who, since has been in the Rump, has given all his time and talent to the nigger, and belabored "tariff" "tariff" "tariff" until he has become hoarse. His record would seem as though there were but two things worthy the attention of this stay at home Wide-awake Representative—nigger and iron mongers. The election of Colonel Linton will give the white people of that district a Representative, and secure to the Union and President Seymour a warm friend and an able defender.—Clearfield Republican.

A REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE OUTFOR SEYMOUR.—John Eichelberger, Esq., the Radical nominee for County Surveyor of York county, not only declines to run on that ticket, but comes out openly in denunciation of the foul party and declares his intention to vote for Seymour and Blair. This is an evidence of the way the tide is running in Pennsylvania. Look out for thunder in October, and!!! Under peals in No.

KEEP IT BEFORE THE PEOPLE.

Keep it before the people, that, according to the official statement of the Secretary of the Treasury, the exports of the North did not pay last year for one third of the goods imported into the United States during that year; and the productions exported from the South paid for more than two thirds of those imports!

Keep it before the people, that before the war and after the war, the productions of the North will fall short of the value of our imports by many millions of dollars, and that we must depend upon the reduced exports from the South to escape ruinous indebtedness to Europe!

Keep it before the people, that when the exports of the Southern products shall cease, the amount of our imports will be reduced by two-thirds and our Custom House duties by one hundred millions of dollars, which amount must be collected by the internal revenue or by direct taxation.

Keep it before the people, that the reconstruction measures of Congress rapidly demoralizing the blacks of the South, unfitting them for labor, and that in another year they will be more likely to starve for want of the common necessities of life than to contribute by their labor to the Southern staples for exportation, and that consequently, the balance of trade against the North will be so enormous as to lead to inevitable bankruptcy.

Keep it before the people, that the insane demagogues at Washington, disregarding the voice of an indignant people at the late elections, still persist in their infamous policy of negro supremacy, and that they have already shown, that "whom the gods wish to destroy, they first make mad."

THE VERMONT ELECTION.

Vermont has always been most stubborn in its opposition to the Democratic party, and it is less liable to political changes than any other State in the Union. That it would maintain and even increase its Radical majority on a full vote was expected. No one anticipated any other result. It is not to New England that the Democratic party looks for aid in the present contest against fanaticism and corruption. The Yankees have ruled Congress ever since the Republican party came in power. The demands of New England were invariably acceded to. When that section asked for a repeal of the taxes on its manufactures it was carried, and the law was so arranged that the monopolist could add the amount of the reduction to their profits, without benefiting the customer to the extent of a single penny. The policy of New England is the policy of Congress, and the policy of Congress is the policy of the Republican party. The great West and the Middle States have a diversity of interests, all of which are disastrously affected by the Yankee policy. Their people feel the necessity for a change, and they are resolved to effect it. They are sick and tired of being taxed to death for the benefit of the grasping monopolists of New England.

The Wellsboro Democrat says it is not all wonderful that Joe Brown, of Georgia, is welcomed by the supporters of Grant. Thus wrote Ulysses to General Butler, whilst our prisoners were languishing in the prison pens of Brown's dominions:

"No exchange," said Grant, the heartless as he smothered in his tent, whilst at Andersonville and Millen, the brave men who had fought to save him from defeat and shame were stretching their thin hands across the dead line for a drop of water to cool their fevered lips, until the three guards, who recently were pardoned by the Radical Congress, shot them down by way of amusement, Joe meanwhile looking calmly on from the gubernatorial chair of Georgia. Oh! glorious candidate, supported by a glorious party.

THE DEBT.—The August statement of the "national blessing" vouchsafed to us by the loyalists, has been published. The debt has been increased since the June statement was published, thirteen million two hundred and eighty thousand dollars. The Radical party is as unfit to manage the national finances as the inmates of a lunatic asylum. They have several regiments in the field assessing property and gathering taxes, yet the debt is increasing every month. Under such mal administration total bankruptcy must soon overtake us.
