

Inside Features

SGA Elections
pages 9-12

Inside Entertainment

Pointless Point
page 16

Inside Sports

Senior Farewell
page 19

The Collegian

Thursday
March 25, 1993

Volume XLI
No. 20

Traffic jam

Silvis & Co. solve parking problem

by Gary Johnson
News Editor

"We've been trying to get control of this whole parking mess for awhile now," said Larry Silvis, Director of Police & Safety, of the confusion over parking permits and fines.

Larry Silvis encountered several problems when he first came here, including students' confusion of where visitors can park, where to pay for fines, where to get permits, and how to keep track of it all.

"The permit money goes to University Park, and we have to account for all of the money due and the permits sold."

Silvis masterminded a new program, which enables students to get a permit at the same time they pay for it, all at the Finance Office.

"Students can pay and appeal fines at the Finance Office instead of walking all the way over to Police & Safety," commented Silvis.

The new program, which began March 15, establishes that students must pay their fines in the Finance Office during normal office hours, or have them charged to their student accounts by reporting to the Finance Office or the Office of Police & Safety.

"Permit changes will not be implemented until summer school--only the changes involved with the payment and appeal of fines will be dealt with this spring semester," said Silvis.

"We've been trying to get control of this whole parking mess for a while now."

--Larry Silvis, Director
Police & Safety

"We implemented the plan on March 15 so that we can get the bugs worked out of it before the end of the year."

Silvis mentioned that "all permits will be on hanging tags next year. The actual permit will be a sticker which will be affixed to the tag. Students can use the permit on any vehicle they want."

All the details aren't released, but Silvis said that they will be available closer to the end of the semester.

Amel Balcita/Collegian Photo Coordinator

One score and five years ago: Dr. John M. Lilley, Dean and Provost of Behrend College, honors Robert MacDonald, Bookstore Manager, and Dr. Edwin C. Masteller, Professor of Biology, for twenty-five years of service to the Behrend community.

Sweating for charity

Sororities aerobicize for cancer

by Rob Moffett
Collegian Staff

If watching a room-full of girls dance and sweat sounds like fun to you, or you want to help our campus and community, then you should show up and support Behrend Panhellenic's Aerobic-A-Thon.

Behrend's Panhellenic Council will be sponsoring an Aerobic-A-Thon to benefit the Health and Wellness Center and the Cancer Rehabilitation Center.

"We modeled the Aerobic-A-Thon after another school which was very successful, raising over $4000," said Panhellenic Philanthropic Committee Chairperson Tracee Fultz.

The Panhellenic Council is represented by Alpha

"We expect to raise $1500 to $2000, with probably 120-150 people participating over eight hours."

--Tracee Fultz

Sigma Alpha, Delta Phi Epsilon, and Alpha Sigma Tau sororities. Members of these groups will be collecting the sponsors needed to make the Aerobic-A-Thon a success.

"We expect to raise between $1500 and $2000, with probably 120-150 people participating over eight hours," said Fultz.

The event will take place on Saturday, March 27 in Erie Hall from noon until 8 p.m. It will be a non-stop workout choreographed by two aerobics instructors.

Sponsor sheets will be available outside the Wintergreen Cafe today between 11 a.m. and 3 p.m.

Around 1 p.m. Jet FM

see AERO on page 2