

Over the past year SGA has made a turn around for the good and now we want to make it better. By seeking reelection, we feel it would be better for an experienced president and new vice-president to again lead SGA. Many of you express confidence in us, and those of you who are unsure, we hope that you would check us out before you vote.

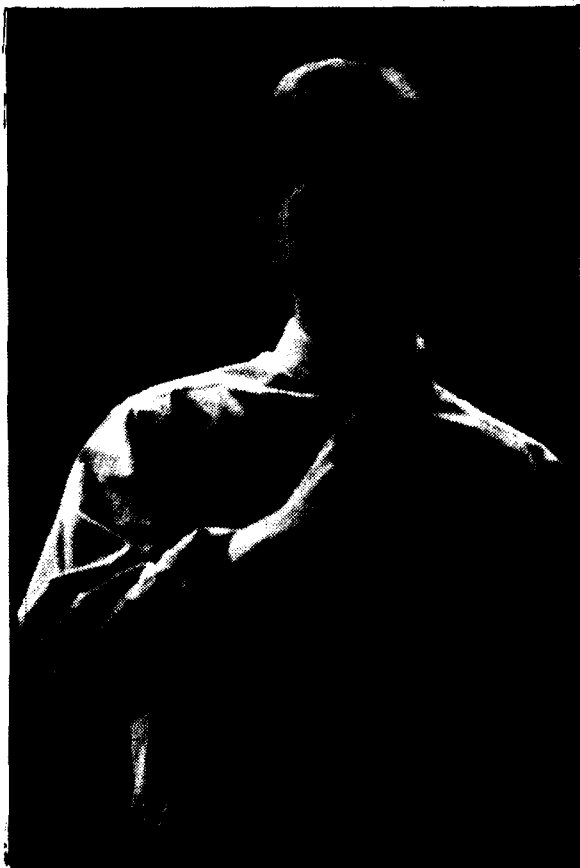

Joseph Mycka
SGA President

Jason DeMarte
SGA Vice-President

Good leadership means good government. Combined, we have three years experience on SGA and have been on the executive boards of six organizations. We have seen apathy diminish among senators. We want the chance to put our leadership experience to work for SGA. In short, change breeds progress.

James D. Ruhlman
SGA President

Michael Brenneman
SGA Vice-President

My goal for the following year is to enhance Behrend's weekend activities on campus. The key to successful activities is offering unique events sporadically in accordance with student body interests. Our best event this year, in which this is evident, is the Coffee House, which was a huge success. In terms of service, I plan to repeat the book sale which made $2000.00 for the student body. And this is just the beginning of the huge success which will happen next year.

To be the most essential thing for Behrend is change. Right now most University sponsored events are either redundant, poorly planned or just plain lame. I want the JRC to be more available to resident requests and interests and try to generate a little more excitement for campus events by making them more unique and more broadly appealing.
