It's a grade school! Behrend and Diehl in Adopt-a-school program

by Gary Johnson

As part of the Adopt-A-School Program, Behrend is sponsoring nature stations to celebrate Earth Day at Diehl Elementary School today.

"There will be between 15 and 20 Behrend volunteers present," said Mari Trenkle, Academic Support Programs Coordinator.

The agenda for the day entails rotation between four "nature stations."

Groups of elementary students will see a Pennsylvania Game Commission exhibit, sponsored by the ODK Honor Society; an Erie Zoological Society small mammal exhibit by Scott Mitchell, a Behrend alumnus; a Recycling Craft Activity, making airplane mobiles out of recycled egg cartons, sponsored by the Behrend College Honors Program Center.

They will also plant trees donated by K-Mart West, ODK Honor Society, and trees purchased by Diehl.

"This is the last official event associated with Diehl Elementary School this year. Next week will be the last week of tutoring, and between 50 and 60 Behrend students have participated in the volunteer tutoring program at Diehl. Our students have done a wonderful job and I believe that we have really done a lot for the Diehl students," said Trenkle.

David Stuntz, the music department at Behrend, has also worked with Trenkle to bring the Logan Wintergarden Series musicians to Diehl during the past year.

"Our students have done a wonderful job and I believe that we have really done a lot for the Diehl students."
