Alumnus donates

James A. Frye, an alumnus of Penn State Erie, The Behrend College, and franchiser of The Italian Oven Inc. restaurant chain, has endowed the College's athletic programs with a $100,000 gift.

Frye played varsity soccer for two years at Penn State-Behrend before graduating from the University Park Campus in 1973. "I really did a lot of growing up at Behrend. The years I spent there were very formative for me," he said recently. "(Soccer coach) Herb Lauffer was one of those people who took a particular interest in me and taught me a lot of good things."

"Now that I'm able, I just want to pay back what somebody invested in me."

Quote of the week

"I'm supposed to cover guys named Tank, not Jett."

-Dave Wyman, 250-pound Denver Bronco linebacker, after getting burned on a 74-yard touchdown play by James Jett, a gold medal-winning sprinter at the 1992 Olympics.

On the ball

Rawlings, the official supplier of balls to Major League Baseball, produces each one much as it did 62 years ago. There have been only two major changes in ball production.

Major changes

In 1931, the center of the ball was switched from cork to cork covered by two layers of rubber.

In 1974, the outer covering was changed from horsehide to cowhide.

"It'll probably break toward the water."

"I know this must be hard, ma'am, but take another look. You're positive it's your husband?"

Old Blue froze in his classic point. Seconds later, the covey of flying fish flushed noisily into the steel-gray Georgia sky.
