Ohh, you poor thing. Quit being such a baby. This paper (as usual) is a joke except that in this case we meant it to be. Just read the paper and chuckle. We hope you didn't offend anyone.

Dean Lilley may cancel classes for today in the former building but, "Conditions are not bad enough, yet."

While an unidentified Police and Safety officer took time out to read The Collision thieves took off with the new Plastics and Technology lab. This incident is under investigation.
