

Natasha's Stars

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Your intuition is a valuable asset in business. Either you or a partner has a tendency toward financial extravagance. A friend may have his or her feet out in the aisle this week, causing you some awkward moments.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) You could get carried away when shopping for the home. Guard against unnecessary purchases. Tact will be needed in your business dealings, especially where higher-ups are concerned.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) A tendency to let things slide on the job needs watching this week. You may not see eye to eye with an adviser either. Guard against being too much of a loner. Those you shun now could be helpful to you soon.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) You and a partner are on the same wavelength. However, you may be at odds with a friend. While this friend seems to be taking advantage of you, it would be a good idea to try to overlook this for now.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Don't go overboard in your efforts to impress bigwigs on the job. Though your judgment will be keen, you may find yourself dealing with a combative type on the job. Don't let this throw you. It's only jealousy.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) A person you'll be dealing with this week tends to exaggerate and a situation at work could irk you. Don't give in to the temptation to let your temper fly. Instead, count to ten and start over again.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Spending could easily get out of hand and a romantic interest or dependent could be especially touchy this week. You swing into a homebody phase and will prefer the domestic scene.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) It's important that you don't forget to fulfill a promise you made to a close tie. This person is counting on you. A matter relating to home may upset you, but partners are in synch.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) After letting things slide a bit, you'll rush to catch up this week. Be careful about this since this is when you'll be apt to make careless mistakes. Try to keep on an even keel where your work is concerned.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) A friend who likes to hear himself or herself talk will bend your ear. While you may not be in any mood for this right now, try to be patient. Shopping on impulse turns out to be a mistake. The weekend favors romance and leisure.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) If you're short-tempered with someone close to you, make sure you kiss and make up. You have a tendency to be obstinate and should make an effort to see the other side. Accent practicality in business.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Keep your mind on what you're doing and you'll prevent a careless oversight this week. A supervisor is watching you closely which means a promotion may soon be in the offing. Be sure to pay attention to traffic rules.

"Timecop:" A blast to the future

by John Hafner
Collegian Staff

The muscle-bound action and adventure superstar with the unmistakable French accent has done it again. Of course, I am referring to Jean-Claude Van Damme.

His latest movie, "Timecop," is a must-see for those who crave the fast-pace action and intense combat characteristic of his films.

Van Damme plays Max Walker, a well-respected and no-nonsense cop with a reputation for always getting his man. As a member of the Time Enforcement Commission (TEC), an elite and futuristic police force, Walker's job is to bring to justice those people who abuse the future's newest invention--time travel.

Although the thought of going back in time to correct past mistakes sounds appealing, it becomes obvious from the start that time travel has the potential for social chaos.

Changing even the slightest detail of the past can result in disastrous consequences.

Nonetheless, there are many who see time travel as a means of personal profit and financial gain, and it is Walker who puts an end to their selfish ambitions in his usual brutal fashion.

Time travel does prove to have at least one good quality; it allows Walker to go back and prevent his wife's death.

"Timecop" combines the typical Van Damme effects and action with a futuristic thrill. Give this latest smash a try.
