Rubenstein said, "What makes a good parent? Love, time, care and affection. Let's judge them (the parents) according to qualities."

Knight said, "You're cheating children when they're guinea pigs in an experiment of a homosexual relationship."

"If you bring two women together and two men together, that's not marriage," he continued. "Sexuality is one of the most powerful human drives. We aren't islands. We're part of families; you bet that (sexuality) affects other people."

Both speakers agreed that it is important for people who are interested in this debate to research the topic in depth.

"Gay Rights: A Question of Fairness," was the third issue to be examined by the Penn State-Behrend Speaker Series titled "The American Agenda."

Police and Safety Report

October 27: A student received a citation for driving across the grass in "S" Lot.

October 28: A student reported being the victim of harassment in the residence halls.

October 29: A cab driver reported that his fare left without paying. An investigation by Police and Safety has found a possible suspect. Charges are pending.

October 30: Two non-students were given citations for disorderly conduct for their actions in the "S" Lot.

October 31: A staff member reported a possible break-in to an electronic cabinet. Nothing was taken.

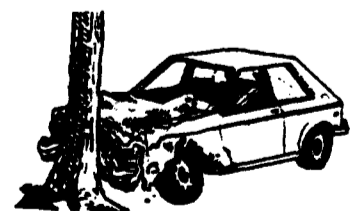

Correction: In last week's intramural article, it was printed that the $5 bowling fee for the Nov. 12 intramural bowling tournament would be charged to an entrant's student account. The $5 fee will not be charged to students' accounts. Those entered in the contest will have to pay the $5 bowling fee at the lanes.
