
Jane Insincere's Barren underwires

Attention to all Tony Elliot's former students, who are still attending Behrend, are still required to see this semester's performance of the Imaginary Cockold and and write a review to be graded. Call the Office of Student Activities for more information.

Notice: the Toronto trip has been cancelled, in place of the trip to downtown Toronto an alternative trip to downtown Harborcreek will be offered with sights to their only blinking light. Since, travelers will not be able to see the performance of Phantom of the Opera, the seventh grade Harborcreek performance of Little Mary Sunshine will be shown instead. Call the SGA office for more information.

In consideration of the hard working seniors here at Behrend, Dean Lilly is offering Kamikazee's with the Provost every day through the month of April to help any graduation gitters. Call the Office of Student Activities for more information.

The Learning Assistance Center will be offering free tutoring sessions to all Barren students on Mixed drinks in the nineties. Students will learn how to mix their own drinks and throw wild parties in a quiet dorm room. This workshop is tutored by Peter Gzinya. For more information call the Office of Student Activities.

The Career Development Center is offering a workshop series for the month of April on how to get a good job at any of the numerous prestigious resturants in Harborcreek on Buffalo Rd. including Coney Island in Wesleyville. For more information call the Office of Student Activities.

The Health and Wellness Center is offering free samples of drugs and alcohol to those students who have shown up more than six times to the Center during the month of March. A fifth of wiskey will given as first prize to the student with the highest attendance record at the Center for this semester. Call the SGA office for more information.

Do you have poor grades, a high tolerance for drugs and alcohol, a bad attitude, involved in no extra curricular activities, and on the five year plus plain? Then stop in at the Glenhill Farm House to sign up for the Lazy Ass Scholarship. Call the SGA office for more information.

Elvis lives - at Behrend

After a long, drawn out investigation, the staff at The Behrend College Collision has found proof that Elvis Presley is still alive. Following several leads, our ace reporter, Imma Bigfan, headed to the Office of Student Activities. There Imma found the Director of Student Activities, disrobed in his office, and to her surprise, when he turned around in shock, he was really Elvis.

The King has been working undercover here at Behrend for the last 5 years.

So if you want to touch a piece of history, or just say 'hi' to the man that made Blue Suade shoes a fashion statement, stop by the Office and drop into Chris Rizzo's (A.K.A. Elvis Presley) office. He'd be happy to make your acquaintance.

Don't ask us the news editor is on one of his kicks. Usually he's good, but when he gets in these moods. Leave him alone.

Al Gore was set to be sworn in today, but Hillary has filed a formal complaint with the fashion police stating, "Anybody who dresses like Gore should not be President. Hell, he didn't even get a hundred dollar hair cut like me. I should be President; I was the one running the country anyway. Bill was just a front."

The American people were shocked by the news that Hillary ran the country using Bill for a puppet, but agreed that Gore could use a fashion consultant. The popular talk show host, Rush Limberg, said about the whole thing, "Oh great, now Tipper will run the country."

Students here at Behrend partied openly in the streets as the news broke on campus. A student who didn't want his name revealed ran up and down the campus shouting, "Ding Dong the witch is dead." When asked who he meant, he said, "Hillary's going back to Hickdom."

Hillary has made no plans to move out of the white house. She said in a press release this morning, "They'll have to drag me out of here." Later this afternoon, the CIA was seen dragging a screaming woman out of the white house and into a car. It was believed to be Hillary. It was also believed that she was drowned in the Ohio river like an unwanted puppy.

Gore was seen laughing as the car pulled away. In a press release by Gore, he said, "Next week, on the advice of my wife, Rock and Roll music will be outlawed."

The Congress will fight the outlawing of all music, except Rap. Republican Arlene Specter was seen running up and down the halls of Congress shouting, "Ding Dong the witch is dead." She has also been sited running nude across the White House lawn.
