

Crenshaw wins at Augusta

by Josh Lucas
Collegian Staff

Ben Crenshaw shot a 68 in the final round last Sunday to win the 1995 Masters Golf Tournament. The Masters was held at its home, the Augusta National Golf Club in Augusta, Georgia.

Crenshaw's total score was 274 through the four day tournament. He finished 14-under-par to win his second Master's championship.

Crenshaw sported the coveted green jacket following the victory and earned $396,000 in the 59th edition of the tournament.

Despite shooting a brilliant round on Sunday, Davis Love III finished one stroke short of Crenshaw.

Crenshaw's 14-under-par performance was three strokes better than Greg Norman and Jay Haas and five better than David Frost and Steve Elkington.

Last year's champion, Jose Maria Olazabal, finished with a 4-under-par score of 284, and played despite a broken toe injury suffered earlier in the year.

It has been eleven years since Ben Crenshaw has one the Masters. This year seemed to be his turn to win it a second time because fate was on his side.

Harvey Penick, Crenshaw's lifelong golf teacher and friend died one week before the Masters at the age of 90. Crenshaw dedicated his victory to Penick because he felt Harvey was there with him on every shot and putt.

With Love III in the clubhouse tied at 13-under-par, Crenshaw made his move.

At the 16th hole, Crenshaw hit a sensational six-iron shot off the tee placing the ball three feet from the hole and knocking it for birdie and the lead at 14-under.

On No. 17 Crenshaw nailed a 12-footer for birdie with his magical putting stroke to put him at 15-under with one hole left and a two stroke lead.

Crenshaw played the par-4, 18th hole safely as he made bogey.

After Crenshaw sank his final putt, all the emotions he had bottled up inside himself came out. He let his hat and putter drop to the green as he held his hands over his eyes to fight the tears while his caddy, Carl Jackson, hugged him.

Behrend Tennis: Men finish fourth at Super Sport Invite

by Nick Zulovich
Assistant Sports Editor

The Behrend men's tennis team finished a respectable fourth in the Super Sport Invite this past weekend.

A total of eight schools including Behrend were in competition last Saturday and Sunday. Allegheny defeated Carnegie-Mellon in the championship game to win the tournament.

The Behrend men were defeated in the final match of the consolation bracket by Frostburg State.

The tournament was held indoors at the Pennbriar Athletic Club. Head Coach Chuck Keenan said that he felt his team had somewhat of an advantage playing at Pennbriar.

"The courts are quite a bit faster there. Plus we have practiced and we have had a few other matches at Pennbriar," explained Keenan.

But Keenan stated that "Allegheny has also had matches there in the past. We weren't the only team ever to play there."

Behrend senior Karl VanTassel enjoyed a very exceptional tournament. VanTassel lost only one match during the entire tournament. VanTassel explained the loss was due to how early in the morning the match was.

"I'm used to playing later in the day and at night. I don't think I had the time to prepare for that match in the way I wanted to," stated VanTassel.

Keenan explained how impressed he was with the senior's play.

"Karl just had an excellent tournament. Losing only one match is an accomplishment," stated Keenan.

VanTassel said that because of his style of play he was able to win against higher competition. "I just feel I was able to keep my composure on the court. I made my shots when I had to," stated VanTassel.

Keenan concluded by saying, "It's always good experience when you can play a higher level of competition. That's what the guys got in this tournament."

The Behrend men continue their season today with a match against Grove City College.

Andy from sales attempts an end-run to the boss, but Lola's quick lateral pursuit stops him for no gain.

"It never ceases to amaze me, Wilson. Right on the basketball it says, 'Moisten needle before inserting.' But there's always some little kid who thinks he won't get caught."

It's Never Too Late . . . to Begin a Career in Healthcare

The Penn State Postgraduate Certificate Program in Pre-Medicine

About to graduate and want a career in healthcare, but don't have a science background? Then take a look at Penn State's Postgraduate Certificate Program in Pre-Medicine.

This 15-month program will help prepare you for admission to dental, optometry, podiatry, veterinary, physical therapy, allied health, or medical schools. If you are academically talented and highly motivated, then you need to act now.

What you get:

- flexible schedules—enroll as a full- or part-time student, (take day or evening courses)
- personalized advising by College of Science faculty and academic advisors
- study skills and time management workshops
- tutoring programs in biology, chemistry and physics
- preparatory courses for admission tests.

CALL TODAY
1-800-PSU-TODAY
(1-800-778-8632)

PENNSTATE

Penn State is affirmative action, equal opportunity university.
U.S. Ed. CED 95-428946

IN THE BLEACHERS by Steve Moore

©1995 Tribune Media Services, Inc. All Rights Reserved.