

MacLaine stars in "Winterbourne"

Do you need something to take your mind off finals or graduation? Mrs. Winterbourne is a great escape that is funny and entertaining.

Shirley MacLaine (Grace Winterbourne), Ricki Lake (Connie) and Brendan Fraser (Hugh/Bill) are the leads in this charming flick.

The plot revolves around an identity mix-up. The farce begins when pregnant Connie meets Hugh and Patricia Winterbourne on a train. Hugh and his wife, Patricia (Susan Haskell), lend Connie a hand. After a train wreck, Hugh and his wife are killed. Connie lives, but everyone thinks she is Patricia.

Connie tries to right the wrong, but nobody really pays attention. Connie is pregnant and single. She learns that if she was Patricia, she could move into a beautiful mansion with her newborn and live it up as Mrs. Winterbourne.

The film is very amazing. Grace is an independent, crazy woman who is controlling, but very sweet. She gives Connie whatever Connie wants. Connie is the daughter that Grace never had. Connie mazes to Bill, Hugh's twin and Grace's son, "It's good to see a man still afraid of his mommy."

Overall, Mrs. Winterbourne is

Lake plays Connie cute and funny. Everybody gets wonderfully. It's great to see what they deserve and happiness Lake in a role that uses her acting lies in the truth and in yourself. talent after watching her on her talk show.

Getting sociable

I have a few questions concerning the community at Behrend. First off, why hasn't there been any housing for fraternities and sororities on campus? This bothers me because the college recognizes each Greek chapter but doesn't really support them in terms of housing. The campus turns its cheek when it comes to activities for Greeks - I don't understand.

Another question that I have raised in the two and a half years that I've attended this campus is why aren't there restaurants, coffee shops, all night study lounges, etc.? This campus has a little under 3000 in enrollment (some commuters) but there is a blatant demand for these luxuries that we've been denied. I don't see how anyone could agree that these demands have been met in the community of Wesleyville either. . . sure, Jimmy Z's and a plethora of fast food joints are available, but they are two and three miles off campus.

I've come to the conclusion that Behrend basically doesn't care about its students in terms of a social environment. You need a car to access any of these things and if you don't have one or can't bum a ride off someone else, then you are screwed.

Another problem with this campus is that the parking is horrible. Faculty and staff have plenty of spaces available, yet students must park a distance away from their residence halls. In addition, Police and Safety breathes down your neck every time you're illegally parked.

One major advantage that Behrend does have is the Gorge and the four mile creek that runs through it. A lot of people might take this for granted, but please appreciate it because some students don't ever have a vast open area of nature available to relieve the everyday stress of class.

As far as I've heard, Behrend owns the land on both sides of Jordan road all the way back to I-90. This to me, seems to be a lost opportunity, that no one has capitalized on this property.

I don't want to be one to spread false rumors, and keep in mind that it is just a rumor, that Behrend will be as big as State College in ten years. Well I heard this last year, and I was disappointed to hear that someone had heard the same rumor five years ago.

Behrend has potential to be a hell of a social school. We do have a good academic curriculum and we have had the addition of the library and the Academic building, but we need some social life here!!

This is my last article and if you think that I've complained too much, too bad; join the paper so that you can complain too.

I've got to admit though, Behrend was a pretty hip place last Friday in the apartment quad when bands played all night. People actually partied and it was okay to do it. Behrend has plenty of potential, please let someone kick someone and do something about it.

TimeOut Tavern

If you go to Behrend, it's inevitable not to spend time at Jimmy Z's Time Out Tavern.

or known as "The Pub." The Pub is basically the only bar around Behrend which caters to a college crowd. The food is great, not very expensive, and there's a drink special almost every night. It's even open on Sundays.

Included in the variety of foods served at the Pub are the Big Bambino, a whole loaf of Italian bread stuffed with cold cuts, Rolly Pollies, which are rolled baked tortillas stuffed with your choice of filling, and the Pub's famous wings, in which owner

Jim Zank makes the sauce for himself. Also available are a variety of finger foods, other sandwiches (Chicken Farm is the best), and tacos.

The specials are as follows: Monday night is 15 cent wings, Tuesday night is taco night - 3 for $1.25 and also bartender's choice for drinks, Wednesday night is quarter drafts, Thursday night is 15 cent wings and 16 ounce bottle specials, Friday night is a domestic beers special, and Saturday night is the special on imports.

Along with the food and drinks are plenty of entertainment. The Pub houses two dart boards, a pool table, pinball machines, and a foosball game.
