The Penn State Behrend Lady Lions (5-2) ended a tough week by falling to archrival Allegheny College. Despite taking an early 1-0 lead, the Lady Lions fell 3-2. Earlier in the week they dropped to perennial powerhouse Keuka 2-1 in overtime.

On Tuesday the Lady Lions came out fired up against Allegheny. Lisa Fox made a smooth pass up to Kathy Rogers whose kick made it over the Allegheny keeper's head for a 1-0 lead.

But later on in the second half, Behrend was called for a penalty inside the goalbox. Mary Anne Rupp came up big stopping the shot, but Allegheny's Jeanne Kondrich was right there to net the rebound.

Officiating was a problem throughout the game with questionable calls going against Behrend. The usually mild-tempered Coach Perritano received a yellow card to begin the second half for protesting a call.

Coach Perritano would offer no comment on the officiating after the game.

Allegheny scored two unanswered goals in the second half. The backbreaker was Kondrich's penalty kick goal scored with nine minutes to go.

Behrend made it close as Fox passed up to Laura Perry who netted the second Behrend goal. But it was too little too late as the kickers fell 3-2.

"Hopefully the loss will help us down the line," said Coach Perritano. "We got it taken to us in the second half and we handled it all right."

On Saturday the Lady Lions played spotless for ninety minutes against Keuka to keep the score even at 0-0.

Even at the end of the first overtime stanza, the score was still tied at 0-0.

But in the final overtime, Keuka broke through with two goals and Behrend only scored one as they fell 2-1.

"They played inspirational at Keuka. We changed our style of play...and they were effective," said Perritano.

Seven will be inducted to Behrend Hall of Fame

by Brian Gregory

On October 26th Penn State Behrend will be recognizing eight individuals into their athletic hall of fame.

Joe Fornear graduated in 1982 with a Bachelor of Arts in Communication. Fornear, an ex-member of the baseball team, holds the record for most home runs (15) and runs batted in (77).

Joe Hansen, also a baseball player, holds the record for batting average in a single season at .484 and doubles in a career (24).

Kathleen Hansen, wife of Joe and three sport athlete at Behrend, captained basketball, softball, and volleyball. In 1983, she led the conference in kills in volleyball.

Another standout at Behrend, Craig Hill, will be inducted into the hall of fame for his all-star tennis performance from 67-69. Hill was undefeated in singles and doubles for Behrend in 1969.

John Robert Hoge was a Behrend student from 1971-75, and a member of the soccer team. In 1971 he was captain of the commonwealth championship team, and in 1972 he led the team in goals with 10.

Dennis H. Hoover went to Behrend for two years before transferring and he participated in soccer. In 1967 he led the team in scoring.

Robert J. Jeffrey also excelled at soccer for Behrend. Between 1970-73 he started every game for the Lions and in 1973 he was elected to the West Penn All-Star Team.

The seventh and final inductee is John Zahniser. Zahniser is an honorary inductee who went on to medical school after Penn State Behrend. He is currently employed as a neurosurgeon.

Koster wins ATW...again!!

by Matt Plizga

Dave Koster, a senior from Harborcreek High School guided the Behrend Lions to one of their finest golf wins in recent history, in the Pitt-Bradford Invitational.

In doing so, he also earned this week's Housing and Food Service Athlete of the Week.

"Dave has had a great fall season. He has been low medalist in 2 of our tournaments and finished in the top fifteen (of 96) in the third" said Coach Herb Lauffer.

On the year, Koster is averaging a meager 73 strokes per round.

Teammate Brian Shellito contributed Koster's golfing success to a well rounded game but most importantly "his short game".

"Dave can get the ball up and down from anywhere inside of 80 yards," claimed Shellito.

Koster put his short game on display during the Bradford tournament, he had just 32 putts and hit 14 of the 18 greens.

More impressive than Dave's low medalist honors in the Pitt-Bradford Invitational is the fact that he took more pride in the teams win rather than his own achievements.

"We hadn't won a tournament of that caliber in my four years here, it was a very big win for the team and for the program," said Koster.

Koster shot a two-over-par 74 at the Pitt-Bradford Invitational guiding his teammates to their second win in the three matches.

The team shot a 319 in beating Division II teams, Edinboro and Mercyhurst and a handful of strong Division III programs.

"Dave has worked hard to develop his game. His dedication and desire have enabled him to become a consistent low scorer" said Coach Lauffer.

Not only is Dave a consistent low scorer, but he is also a valuable leader to his teammates.

"Dave is a very good leader, you see him get rattled but he doesn't let it affect his play," said Shellito.

Coach Lauffer agrees, "Koster provides great senior leadership. He is a fine student athlete and an even better person."

"Dave's success is an example of how, if our athletes commit themselves to participating here for 4 years, they can be very successful," said Lauffer.

Koster will continue his quest for success September 29 and 30 at the prestigious Binghamton Invitational.

"Binghamton has one of the top Division III tournaments in the country. As a team we expect to play well and create a good name for ourselves," Koster said.

Dave has also set individual goals for the Binghamton tourney. "You have to have a winning attitude going into any event. I would like to finish in the top 5, but more importantly I want to play my best," added Koster.

HARD AS IT MAY BE TO BELIEVE, SCIENTISTS CLAIM TO HAVE PROVED THAT EVEN THE FINEST GOLFERS' MAXIMUM CLUBHEAD ACCELERATION OCCURS BEFORE IMPACT.

BE THAT AS IT MAY, I BELIEVE YOU'LL PLAY BEST FEELING THAT YOU'RE ACCELERATING RIGHT ON THROUGH THE BALL. THAT WAY, YOU'LL AT LEAST AVOID DECELERATING BEFORE THE LAWS OF PHYSICS FORCE YOU TO.
