

It's time for a Booty Call!

Jaime Foxx stars in Columbia Pictures new release

by Christina Meihl
Collegian Staff

It is Friday night, and with a satirical name like "Bunz," what else would you be doing except for scoping out a "Booty Call?"

It is a hilarious comedy created with the purpose of entertainment in mind. The main characters were played by a couple of witty comedians from the television show "In Living Color." Tommy Davidson and Jamie Foxx. These comedian characters give Booty Call the titillating flavor it feeds to the audience by mimicking everyday molehill situations then exaggerating them into a humorous mountain of laughs.

Rushon, played by Davidson, is a young man who is currently in his first real relationship with his girlfriend, Nikki. They are going out together on a double date and have arranged for their friends Bunz and Lysterine to go out with them. Rushon and Nikki have been dating for seven weeks, and had not yet had intercourse. Before the double date, Bunz and Rushon had made a bet on who would "score" first. With that in mind, the mood is set.

Bunz's personality is that of a dog. He does not believe in relationships or love, only in one night stand booty calls (and he believes that he may get one with his blind date). His rude behavior mixed with the personal viewpoints of everyone (guy vs. girl) clash at dinner and cause multiple arguments. The plot later takes an unexpected twist when Rushon is accidentally shot and ends up in a hospital. This new mood and scene adds to the volatile humor of the movie.

Basically, sex and relationship is the subject of conversation and action throughout the movie. The movie Booty Call is R-rated because of the blatant, exploitative talk and scenes involving sex.

Different embarrassing everyday situations, such as using a condom, are greatly exaggerated for the sake of humor. However, the idea of safe sex is very much expressed and serves as one of the main points of the movie, along with the difference between casual sex and real loving intimacy.

There were certain points and themes expressed in this movie, but it was overall a film created for the entertainment of pure joy and laughter.

I give this movie a two thumbs up for being totally out of line and downright funny. It also has a plot based on a n experience that almost all of us can relate to in some small way. The only negative aspect about this movie is that it ends abruptly and leaves you craving more plot full of Foxx's crazy antics.

UNIVERSITY<sup>2</sup> by Frank Cho

TOP TEN MOVIES

1. Star Wars starring Harrison Ford
2. Dante's Peak Pierce Brosnan
3. The Beautician and the Best Fran Drescher
4. Jerry Maguire Tom Cruise
5. Scream Courteney Cox
6. Metro Eddie Murphy
7. Evita Madonna
8. Beverly Hills Ninja Chris Farley
9. The English Patient Ralph Fiennes
10. In Love and War Chris O'Donnell

Project Kate: Mission Accomplished

by Sheila L. Bickel
Entertainment Editor

For those of you who are looking for something a little different, Project Kate has released the album "the way birds fly."

This five member band is comprised of Kate 08, Sergio Vega, John K., Norm Arenas and Ida Pearles. All of these individuals have gotten together for their own bands to produce a surprisingly enjoyable CD.

I wish I could speak of this band as if I knew them and their work, but I was only introduced to them about two days ago. But I know what I like and this definitely fits in that category.

There are eight songs on the entire disc and each of them offers a folksy, Indigo Girls-type sound with beautiful yet simple lyrics to match.

The first track entitled, "Simon Says," reminds me very much of the Indigo Girls' song "Least Complicated." The acoustic guitar rhythm is the most prevalent sound in the song, which I think is about a relationship between lovers who are not currently together. The lyrics read, "...do thoughts of me ever pass you by? / Cause I'm so alone without you / I'm suffering without you..."

The next track is called "The way I am (or not at all)." Here the electric is more in effect and takes the song almost to the realm of pop music but not quite. (When the song started I almost thought it was a Blondie remake). This song appealed to me for it's shout of independence... "but you're gonna have to love me the way I am or not at all..."

"Father" is a song of misunderstanding. Kate 08, who sings all eight tracks on the album, slows it down and drags the individual notes out as a violin melodically plays in the background. Here she wonders why she thought that her father might understand her...she's only lived in his house for 19 years. She talks of feeling abandoned and lonely. (This isn't the happiest of songs on the CD).

"...the storm I saw blowing in through the open window / with the leaves of fall / you went to California and I followed you there / memories faded and torn / the cold emptiness of silence and despair..." "California" is a simply beautiful tune. It has what I guess you would call an organic feel to it and a true sincerity.

"Stare at My Sky," "M.K.," "Bobby" and "Disappeared" complete the CD.

On the insert Kate 08 says: "To me, it is evidence of many different eras in my life," which as a listener I could pick out. I felt that her words were sincere.

I'm not going to say that this CD is going to be on Billboard's Top Ten list or that certain songs are going to go platinum, but I will say that this is a hidden treasure. It is one of those CD's that you'll be listening to and a friend will ask you who it is because he or she likes them. Just smile and say Project Kate. (You and me will understand).

ACROSS	cake	ones	4 Rank or reputation	40 Malay garment	84 "Let's Make a
1 Ending for head or head	51 Nickname for comedian Bill	97 Numbered hwy's	5 Window frames	41 Queen of Carthage	86 Asks earnestly
5 Word repeated in a Doris Day song title	52 "Trinity" author	99 Cotton packer	6 White-tailed birds	42 Habitat plant form	88 Bedouin
9 Canadian prov.	54 More thirsty	100 British prison	7 Electric catfish	43 Nitwit	90 Pedestrian
13 Beaver structures	55 Pub missile	101 Tax preparer: abbr.	8 Moslem sacred book	44 Gaze	92 Leak out slowly
17 Spartan serf	56 Father of Emilio	104 Quantity of paper	9 Raided the ice box	45 Lacking energy	94 Guest at a strange t-a party
18 Inland sea of Asia	59 Jane Austen heroine	106 Top of an apron	10 Short, narrative poems	47 Place for savings?	95 Formal discussions
19 Old salts	61 Fairy tale monster	107 Barren woman	11 Log entries for Captain Kirk	48 Architect Saarin	96 Clear and sunny
20 Actress Massey	62 — man out	111 Rough, boisterous fun	12 Take for granted	49 Controversial Scott	98 Highly seasoned game dishes
22 Nebraska's largest city	63 Ransomed	114 Enrliable position	13 Traded by bargaining	51 Member of a Girl Scout division	100 Complained
23 Two, at dice	65 Baal, for one	117 It means "love"	14 Below, to a sailor	53 More chic	101 Country south of Libya
25 Put in symbolic writing	67 June star?	118 Long-running Agatha Christie play	15 Current fashions	56 Early Persians	102 Propels the gondola
26 Make a show of elegance	69 Word before City or transit	120 Mural or muscular lead-in	16 Exhibit contempt	57 Mosque	103 Bakery byproduct
28 Noxious plant	70 Long-limbed and slender	121 Resign an office	17 Crosby's "Road"	58 Neighbor of Tibet	105 Native of New Zealand
30 Before	72 Low walls or railings	122 Babylonian war god	21 Egyptian partner	59 Catskills	107 Degrade
31 Income source for clubs	75 She was naughty, musically	123 Comfort	24 Country bordering the Red Sea	60 Size of type	108 U.S.
32 Deli loaf	77 Hoskins or Dylan	124 Broadway signs	27 Long, pointed tooth	64 Literary collection	Ernest Thompson —
34 Captain Hook's aide	80 King of comics	125 Weakens gradually	29 Close at hand	66 Deep malice	109 Mountain lakes
35 Mme., in Madrid	81 Party line?	126 Location	33 Jacob's twin	70 Rover, at times	110 Anagram for seat
36 Goose or snake sound	83 Fictional Simon	127 Hastened	36 "The — for Red October"	72 Historian's time frame	112 The Bounty, for one
37 Slip of the tongue	84 Borge or Hamlet	128 Ancient Roman clan	37 Noted English surgeon	73 Auk genus	113 Mongolian tent
39 Dumbo's "wings"	85 Bad shot from the tee	1 Monkey's cousin	82 Ovary	74 Box or bush lead-in	115 Speed or sand follower
41 Expose false claims	87 Logan or Fitzgerald	2 Gladden	82 Ovary	76 Special times	116 Small dagger
44 Kind of duck	89 Pike-like fish	3 London district	38 Ireland	78 Story starter	119 Engineering org.
46 Harvested	90 British pennies			79 Quilting groups
50 Top of the	91 Partners of mortises			82 Ovary
	93 Harangues			82 Ovary
	96 Eccentric			82 Ovary

