

Deja Poop

You've heard it all before

On Friday, April 4, Deja Poop will come to Erie for the second time for the second time.

Deja Poop has a new album out, called The Life and Times of Deja Poop. Their two previous albums, entitled The Life and Times of Deja Poop and The Life and Times of Deja Poop, sold almost 2 copies each worldwide. The albums did fairly well, selling almost 2 copies each worldwide.

Although they have only been together for 2 days, they have only been together for 2 days. What that means is that Deja Poop have only been together for 2 days.

During a show last month, Deja Poop hadn't even formed yet. What that means is they didn't play.

Deja Poop began their tour 2 days ago, almost 2 days before today.

They're very enthusiastic about their poop, which attempts to fill in the crack between rock and a hard place. The exact music category that Deja Poop should be grouped with is not yet known, but they're sure everything will come out okay.

The lead singer for Deja Poop, Pa King Poop, has said that, "I feel like this all has happened to me before. I guess that's where we got the Deja part of our name. I'm not really sure where the poop came from."

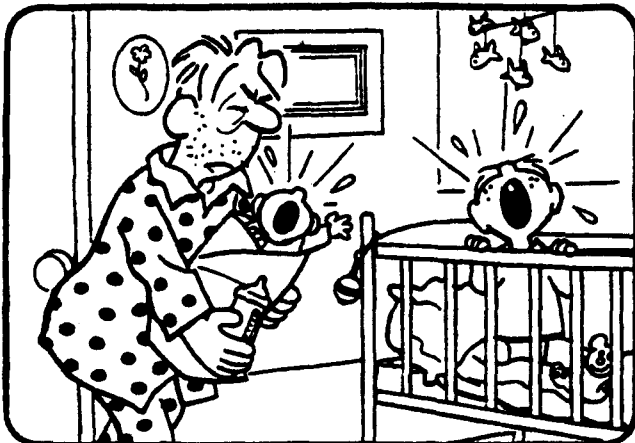

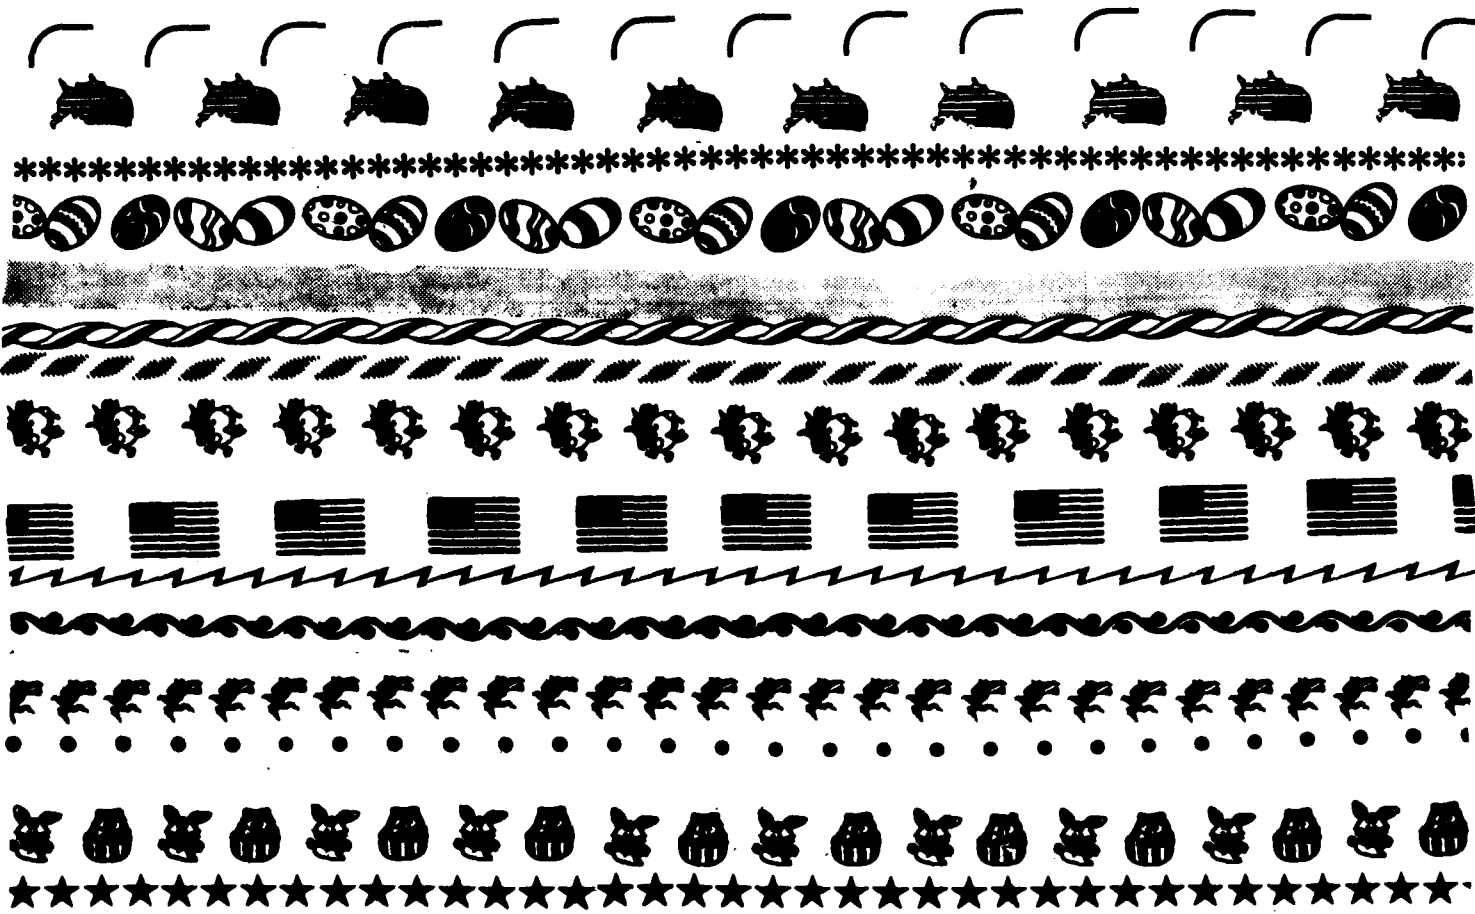

Sure. Deja Poop will be playing at the Warner Theater at 2:00 Friday afternoon, at which time they will begin playing.

"We like our crowd to be plopped down in their seats and ready for a Deja-Poopy show," said Slick, their bassist.

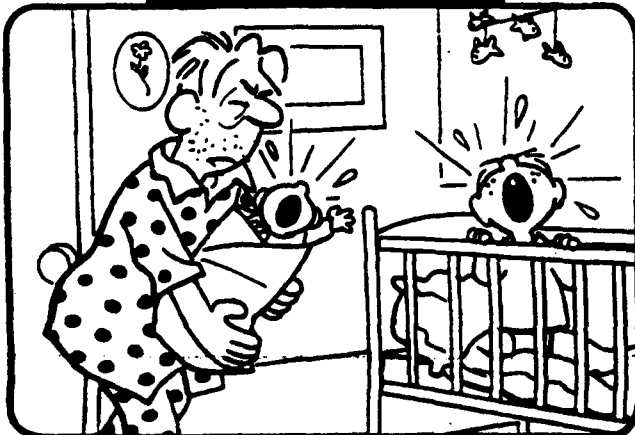

If you're not doing anything on Friday at 2:00, come out and support Deja Poop. They'll really move you.
