Events

The Office of Catholic Campus Ministry invites all to attend their weekly Catholic mass every Sunday at 8:00 p.m. in the Reed Commons.

Nov. 6, 7, 10, 11, 12, 13, and 14 at 8 p.m. and Nov. 8 and 15 at 2:30 p.m. Crimes of the Heart is the Pulitzer Prize-winning play that established playwright Beth Henley as a major voice in the theatre. Tony Elliot, instructor in theatre at Penn State Erie, is directing the production. Set entirely in the kitchen of the Magrath home in Hazlehurst, Mississippi, the play examines the lives and loves of the three sisters: Lenny, who at 30 is the oldest; Meg, 27, the middle sister; and Babe, 24, the youngest. As the town looks on, Lenny does her best to hold the family together, in spite of destructive and even homicidal tendencies of her younger sisters. The production includes six Penn State Erie students: Jamie Lojewski, a sophomore liberal arts major from Erie plays the oldest sister, Lenny; Amanda Pieper, an undergraduate studies freshman from Lake City is Meg, the middle sister; and Nadia Drozda, an undergraduate studies freshman from Pittsburgh, is Babe, the youngest. Rounding out the cast is Jessica Dows, a freshman science major from Edinboro, who plays the sisters' cousin, Chick; Dallas Skeens, a sophomore liberal arts major from Erie, who plays Doc, Meg's old boyfriend; and Josh Iszkula of Lake City, who plays Babe's lawyer, Barnette. Tickets for the production are $3 for students and $5 for general admission. To make reservations, please call the Studio Theatre box office at (814) 898-6016.

The Communications Club will hold a panel discussion with previous Penn State Behrend Graduates to talk about job opportunities, relevant courses they took here, and other helpful tips. This meeting will take place Tuesday, November 10th at 7:00p.m. in the Reed Commons. For further information contact Lori Viola at 898-6692.

Nationally known stock market analyst, Ralph Acampora, will speak here at Behrend on Thursday, November 12 at 7:30 p.m. in the Reed Lecture Hall. Acampora has been the director of Technical Analysis at Prudential Securities since 1990. His presentation is entitled "Elves, Bulls, and Bears." Acampora is a regular panelist on the television show, Wall Street Week with Louis Rukeyser, and is often consulted for his opinion by the Wall Street Journal, Barron's, Business Week and the USA Today. He has appeared on the NBC Nightly News, CNBC, CNN, CNN-FN and other business stations. For more information please contact the switchboard at 898-6000.

The Logan Wintergarden Series will continue with a performance by An die Musik, a world-class chamber music ensemble of strings, oboe, and piano, on Thursday, Nov. 12 at Penn State Erie, The Behrend College. Guests are invited to bring a brown-bag lunch to the noontime concert, which takes place in the Wintergarden of the Reed Union Building. All performances in the Logan Series are free and open to the public. An die Musik draws its name from "To Music," Schubert's composition in praise of song. The group, formed in 1976 by pianist Constance Emmerich and violinist Eliot Chapo, now includes Emmerich and violinist Frank Almond, cellist Daniel Rothmuller, violist Richard Brice, and oboist Ronald Roseman. Its unusual combination of instruments allows the ensemble to explore a vast range and variety of classical, romantic, and contemporary music unmatched by more traditionally-configured ensembles. Music at Noon: The Logan Wintergarden Series at Penn State Erie brings world-class musicians to the college to perform in an informal setting. The series is made possible through a grant from the Harry A. Logan, Jr. Foundation. For more information, please contact the Penn State Erie Office of Student Activities at (814) 898-6171.

Notices

Flu shots through the Health and Wellness Office are currently being offered to any student. The cost of the injection is only $10.00. Students can obtain the shot at any time, except Wednesday mornings, or Friday afternoons, and are welcomed on a walk-in or appointment basis. This injection fights the respiratory flu and combats fever, chills, headache, dry cough, and muscle aches. Restrictions may apply to individuals with particular allergies, or other medical conditions. To obtain further information on this injection, please contact the Health and Wellness Center at 898-6217.

The Office of Police and Safety the Alpha Sigma Alpha sorority and Omnicron Delta Kappa are continuing their yearlong clothing drive to benefit those in need. The groups will continue to collect items through Friday, November 13. The organizations seek men's, women's and children's clothing in good condition. Blankets, sleeping bags, toys for children, brand new sealed toothbrushes, and boxed or bagged diapers are needed as well. The items collected will be distributed Saturday, December 5 at Shiloh Baptist Church on a first come, first served basis. Boxed or bagged items may be dropped off at the Police and Safety Office, or at the John F. Kennedy Center, 2021 East 20th Street, Shiloh Baptist Church, 901 East 5th Street, and Booker T. Washington Center, 1720 Holland Street.

Nationally known stock market analyst, Ralph Acampora, will speak here at Behrend on Thursday, November 12 at 7:30 p.m. in the Reed Lecture Hall. His presentation is entitled "Elves, Bulls, and Bears."
