FEATURES

THE BEHREND BUACON

SEPTEMBER 17, 1999

We know what Behrend students did last summer

by Jackson Commun at the rates

Thave programmers and IN HIV ACCESS OF A PARTY OF A PARTY OF A PARTY OF A Dregraha siyan 1 (Nenes No Brass ALC: PERSON tailed a tevel borne concerning live spenduar ace an and the state of the second from an a large se tournay above a lobel and in an even nings and attended to the lost of the time we spent dark not added longseeating hearbly and consult patient

The students. 1 rule dh Behrend aves and dison Connor, is the Development Mistry Holt, Amanda, Press, Marchanski, Daria Kayat Ersen Musike avela McGee, Keys & News Armadalgee. Owens, Jeanster Perer, Trodd Pierce, Adrian Psuly, Neole Spisso, Jonathan Sectors Charles Testrake and Brad Wolf (6) - We service as companied by Mr. A GooB desvinand her husband Dr. F. and S. Shama

Look Ents Dig Day

Dr. Simon Button togely me a Brutsh - and pretty, the costumes were lavish Enterature Survey and the doublemand. Jacobean Lucas see the other courses offers a transfer of ex-Biology, Playsonane, Creative Dras mattes, Leone and Hodory and and the same action Incology, Last and a bring relating factors or the West English English - Electric ended Vagust 13 with the one-week Children's Home, Lichfield, ... held top in the middle.

None College supplied the students - Kettering and Stoke Bruerne. with a room of one's own, free books. for the courses, field trips and free. subsets. Food, drinks, tattoos and students.

people in our group that do enjoy citlies tended to agree that London is magnificent. The home of Lord Byron was interesting (and hopefully) eye opening to all English majors), especially the part where one of the crazy youths in our group ran around the pond with a flock of geese. We went to Stratford Upon Avon and watched "Volpone," a play by Ben Johnson, at the Swan Theatre. It was one of the most intriguing performances I have ever seen. On another day, part of the group went to see Shakespeare's "A Midsummer's Night Dream," another excellent Dr. Baldwin workers - some with - classic. The stage was out of doors and exciting and the actors were deft and convincing.

> Other prescheduled fieldtrips included Hampton Court, Blenheim Palace and Oxford, Pitsford Reser-NOR, Sulgrave Manor, Lamport Hall, Warwick Castle, Wicken Fen, the expedition began July 4 and Newstead Abbey, Welford House Tolethorpe hall, Cannock Chase,

The sights in and of themselves were well worth the money spent to travel to Europe. What made them somenns were the expenses of the even better was sharing reactions [ with students from other parts of the We saw some sights, too. I'm not globe such as Poland, Russia, Turmuch of a city person. However, the key, Pakistan, France, Holland, Brazil, Florida and Bulgaria. "This trip was a great opportunity to meet people from different parts of the world," said Kevin Mink. Talking with these other students was fascinating. We shared our cultural background and pasta. The interacting diversity of students and staff is an irreplaceable experience for anybody like myself who has never been exposed to other cultures. I have to admit that it was quite intimidating meeting these other students. Most of them, along with their native language, spoke English more good other languages as well.

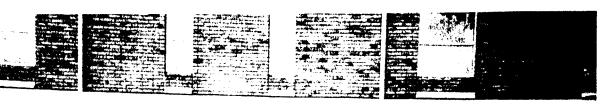

group was positive. I have yet to speak with any of the students from any of the countries who regretted going. Amanda Horner says, "It was the best decision I ever made. I had a great time and started some friendships that will hopefully last forever." Northamptonshire County Council, Thanks, Amanda, Lagree. I person-

In addition to the classes and fieldtrips already mentioned, Nene is year Biology major, says, "Gee, I larger variety of classes and a educational and interesting as our trip, if not more so. Ben Swacha, first

• PAGE 8

Jeny Far an disc n But maker deaktor og Beild Toams and a use of a cho hi (1, 2)Shack at E. the alter-Texasta Sec. 1. York C

Enc b signation of the feels basis 1 : . . with cutors re-1.00 start with the

HACE D West Stheater ana caos and the task shop called N A reflected and Pull up to dis-Nou'll pud es simple about the practice that make ing you way alloc a fractiveoden deck, inside you le final a ance lofty atmosphere: Aubuse operadorned with plants, the near the active like background and set through fill the an

But there and the set back as tesder than sip your to a to oppose while you such that the additional sandward to be set.

Why not stately called a up on the art on display. An encoded as the work of local inter- an any photographers, on a flere result basis And an case of the mail of a provident next to the first Muslim, moster on your domains and all process are available to para

Other a distance an Ethady nights to have be structure a schools While calls the second state Wayssile 9 and a control se and challer is problem to some char all occurs the other Oh, and between and chibles you are en Nov. After all at work's a strong to work. up to that from Physician appelled). fee once the first state and community success data of Aromas isn't exactly your style, take a stroll around Perry Square instead.

A-18th North Park Row, sits another The cafe, by the name of Cup-A-Cano's.

In addition to specialty entrees including vegetarian salads, pastries, cookies and muffins, Cup-A-Ccino's offers live music every Friday and day wehr. But let's not set any weither all musicians and others from the surrounding cities of Buffalo, Cleveland, and Pittsburgh show off their talents in styles ranging from folk, acoustic, rock, and electronica tunes.

And coming this fall, another prime time to check out this full service coffee shop is during their college student happy hour. Show your Behrend ID and get discounts Monday through Friday from 3p.m. to 5 p.m.

If you haven't gotten enough yet, dare to move east precisely to 1000 French. There you'll find more weekend listening entertainment to liven up your mocha-sipping moments. 1000 French features all ages of aspiring blues, jazz, and Irish folk musicians on Friday and Saturday evenings. This fall, keep watch for a special comedy troupe to visit their stage.

And always, mark your calendar with "Eggs, Toast, and Jam," which takes place every other Saturday. On these evenings local musicians bring

PHOTOS BY JEFFREY MILLER their instruments and take the stage to do their thing. But if being an active listener doesn't cut it for you, the invitation stands for you to join them in a jam session.

So remember, when you're looking for somewhere to hang this fall, Erie's cafes have it covered. You just have to decide what you like best: board games and coffee clubs, famous old happy hours, or "Eggs, Toast, and Jam."

by Douglas Smith staff writer

Musicmaker.com and Zomba, an independent music company, have reached an agreement that will finally allow songs from the top of the charts to be available through on-line compilations. In the past, music sites have relied on 30-year old hits, obscure artists, and unknown bands. In October, however, computer surfers can custom create CDs featuring such acts as Britney Spears, the Backstreet Boys and R. Kelly.

Often on a group or artist's homepage, pieces of songs are available for listening. Sometimes the full song may be available with the aid of a Real Player or Liquid Audio. However, Musicmaker.com, a Reston, Virginia company, allows computer users to select songs from a catalog of more than 200,000 mostly-older tunes. These tunes can then be "burned" onto a CD and the customized discs are mailed to the specific user. Prices range from $9.95 to $24.95 depending on the number of songs selected.

Using Real Player or Liquid Audio would not allow the song to always be at the user's disposal and often times the websites would change the songs available for listening. This means no real competition to the traditional music store as the actual album is released for purchase. As you can probably see, this was the major concern in releasing current hits to sites such as Musicmaker.com that can market the songs on their site.

This is basically a trial run of this notion of selling current hits on "burnt" CDs. If this benefits Zomba, other labels may give in to allowing their hot artists' songs to be available to Musicmaker.com.

The trial period is the next five years, the length of the licensing agreement.

Top 40 cont. on pg. 9