BEHREND STUDENTS INVITED TO CONSIDER ROTC LEADERSHIP CAMP

Students at Penn State Behrend seeking an exciting summer option may want to consider Camp Challenge, an intensive five-week training experience for college students who want to join the Reserve Officer Training Corps (ROTC), but have not taken the necessary ROTC Basic Course during their first two years of college.

At Camp Challenge, students without the ROTC Basic Course can examine the Army without incurring an obligation. Students may also qualify for the Advanced Course, which is offered in the junior and senior years.

Camp Challenge participants are observed to determine their officer potential in a leadership oriented, challenging, and motivating five-week training program.

The Camp emphasis is hands on, outdoor training with rapid, constructive feedback to the cadet. Above all else, Camp Challenge is a leadership experience.

The training program is designed to inspire students to become outstanding leaders with a sound understanding of traditional leadership values.

At Camp Challenge, students are trained to lead and develop their officer leadership potential. Students interested in attending will be provided all necessary uniforms and equipment. Their travel, food, and lodging are also covered by the U.S. Army. Students will earn $850.00 for attending the camp.

Students can also compete for two-year ROTC scholarships that pay full tuition, $450.00 annual book fee, and a monthly paycheck of $200.00. Approximately half the students attending this camp will be offered these scholarships based on performance. Students accepting the scholarship will be commissioned as 2nd Lieutenants upon graduation in the Regular Army, Army Reserves, or Army National Guard upon their graduation. Eligibility requirements apply. To find out more or view a tape on this Camp, please contact Captain John S. Gillespie at x7279 or e-mail jsg12@psu.edu or visit the 2nd floor of the Registrar's office.
