Hey Computer Geeks

Which resumé looks better?

Kenny	Kyle
Clerk, Harbucks Coffee: Got roasted, toasted, ground, brewed, and served with lox. Made enough money to pay for gas. Learned to take the heat from Cartman.	IT Associate, R. M. Kerner Co.: Turned lame web site into way cool cyber-billboard. Learned the department head a thing or three about database design. Just generally introduced the place to the 20th century. Made more money than Chef or Mr. Twe...

If you like the one on the right, stop by our offices, fill out an application for "IT Associate" and toss in a resumé. If you like the one on the left, apply for welfare. You can watch Kenny bite it 24/7.

Flexible hours. Good money. Cool Responsibilities
