7:00 p.m. - Women's Film Series: Mrs. Dalloway — in Reed Lecture Hall

MRS. DALLOWAY HITS THE BIG SCREEN AT PENN STATE BEHREND

Mrs. Dalloway is a much-admired novel by Virginia Woolf, adapted to the screen by Marleen Gorris (creator of the Oscar-winning Dutch film Antonia's Line). This is the second film in the Women's Film Series at Penn State Erie, The Behrend College, and will be shown on Tuesday, March 28, at 7 p.m. in the Reed Union Building Lecture Hall.

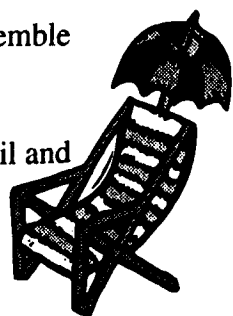

The story unfolds during a single day in London in June 1923, as the highly respected Mrs. Dalloway (Vanessa Redgrave) prepares for a society party, which will also be attended by one of her former suitors. As she reflects on her past and on choices she now regrets, the present gives way to flashbacks about the young Clarissa Dalloway's more passionate years and of her sacrifice of love for a life of security and social standing as a politician's wife. Interwoven within this drama is the story of a shell-shocked soldier (Rupert Graves) whose battle trauma will ultimately lead to tragedy.

The Women's Film Series is sponsored by the Office of Student Affairs and is free and open to the public. For more information, please call (814) 898-6171.

JANE BRYANT QUINN WILL DISCUSS PERSONAL FINANCE AT BEHREND

Personal finance expert Jane Bryant Quinn will present "The Economy and Your Money.com" at Penn State Erie, The Behrend College, on Tuesday, April 4, at 7:30 p.m. in the Reed Union Building Commons. Her lecture concludes the College's 1999-2000 Speaker Series.

Quinn is the author of the best-selling Making the Most of Your Money, a comprehensive guide to personal financial planning. She is an award-winning Newsweek columnist, writing on both personal and national economic issues, and millions read her regular columns in The Washington Post, New York Daily News, and Woman's Day.

Quinn also is an Emmy Award-winning television news reporter. She appears twice weekly on ABC's "Home Show" and is a frequent guest on "Good Morning America" and "Nightline." Previously she hosted her own program, "Take Charge!" on PBS, and was a featured correspondent on the "CBS Morning News" and then on the "CBS Evening News with Dan Rather."

In addition to winning an Emmy, Quinn received the John Hancock Award for excellence in business and financial journalism. She is a three-time winner of the national Press Club Award for Consumer Journalism.

All Speaker Series presentations are free and open to the public. The series is sponsored by the Office of Student Affairs and is partially funded by the John Nesbit Rees and Sarah Henne Rees Foundation. It has twice won the National Association for Campus Activities' Best Lecture Series Award.

An interpreter for deaf and hard-of-hearing audience members will be visible at each lecture, and assistive listening devices are available upon advance request from the Office of Student Activities at (814) 898-6171. These services are made possible through funding from Penn State's Equal Opportunity Planning Committee. All lectures are also taped for broadcast on AM1450/WPSE, Penn State Erie radio.

For more information about the Speaker Series, please call the Penn State Behrend switchboard at (814) 898-6000.

TAKE A PERSIAN CARPET RIDE WITH GABBEH AT PENN STATE BEHREND

The final film in the 2000 Women's Film Series at Penn State Erie, The Behrend College, is the Iranian film Gabbeh, directed by Mohsen Makhmalbaf. The movie will be shown at 7 p.m. on Tuesday, April 4, in the Reed Union Building Lecture Hall.

Gabbeh tells the timeless fable of Gabbeh, a beautiful young woman who relates her tale to a memory-haunted old man. A member of a nomadic desert tribe, she fell in love with a dashing horseman and eloped. The self-assertion of the woman drives the story, but it is the patriarchy of the tribe that dictates its "truth." The film is as simple and traditional as a fairy tale, yet multi-layered and modernist, unusual and thought-provoking.

Makhmalbaf has stated that the Iranian national cinema stems more directly from the tradition of poetic storytelling than from previous films. U.S. film critics place the film on their top-ten film list.

All films in the Women's Film Series are sponsored by the Office of Student Affairs and are free and open to the public. For more information, call (814) 898-6171.

THE ART OF FRONT YARDS

The School of Humanities and Social Sciences has been awarded a grant by the Pennsylvania Council on the Arts and the Pennsylvania Council on the Arts to bring to campus Commonwealth Speaker Dr. Kevin Melchionne. On Wednesday, April 5, at 7:00 p.m. in the Reed Lecture Hall. He will be presenting the talk "The Art of Front Yards." This slide-illustrated presentation will explore the history of the front yard as a form of aesthetic expression.

A painter and critic, Dr. Melchionne is currently the curator of Temple University's Tyler Gallery of Art. He holds a PhD in philosophy from the State University of New York at Stony Brook. His particular area of expertise is aesthetic theory.

The program will be so-sponsored with the Erie Art Museum. It is free and open to the public. If you have any questions, please feel free to contact John Champagne, Assistant Professor of English, at ext. 6331 or by e-mail at jgc4@psu.edu.

ULTIMATE PRAISE GOSPEL CHOIR SPRING CONCERT 2000

Join Behrend's own Ultimate Praise Gospel Choir in an evening of praise and worship. On Saturday, April 8, 2000, the Gospel Choir will have their Spring Concert in the Reed Lecture Hall. The Gospel Choir, who has been on the move for God has traveled to a number of places, including Charlotte, North Carolina, and White Plains, New York, as well as performed at a Women's and Men's home basketball game, in order to minister to a variety of people and express their enthusiasm for God as young Christians.

Also to be featured at this event is the Ultimate Praise Mime Troupe, a ministry that has stemmed from the Gospel Choir under the direction of Jennifer Foulks. Other guest choirs will be present as well to help support the choir in their evening of Ultimate Praise. Come out and show your support for Gospel Choir President Danielle Marshall in her last Spring Concert before she graduates.

FELIX, THE RABBIT, COMING TO THE BEHREND BOOKSTORE

Thoughts of springtime in Erie seem to re-energize everyone. To add to this special feeling, the Penn State Behrend Bookstore will be bringing Annette Langen's much loved "Felix, the Rabbit" to town.

The well-known story of the toy rabbit who gets separated from his owner and travels the world, sending letters home, is timeless.

On Saturday, April 8, 2000, from 11:30 a.m. - 1:00 p.m., Felix will be appearing at the bookstore. Cosmo Rose from Classy 100 will be on hand for the program which will feature a story time, face painting by Mary Ann Rose and a prize drawing. You are welcome to bring your camera and take a picture with Felix!

Several of the Felix series will be available for purchase and autograph. Admission is free, so don't miss this opportunity to add some excitement to your child's springtime memories.

If you are unable to make it to the Saturday program, Felix will also be appearing at the McCord Memorial Library in North East at 7:00 p.m. on Monday, April 10th in honor of National Library Week.
