BEHREND CONCERT SERIES CONTINUES

The Behrend College Choir and the Behrend Concert Band will host their joint Winter Concert on Tuesday, February 13, in the Reed Commons at 8:00 p.m.

The Behrend College Choir, under the direction of Dr. Daniel Barnard, will be performing numbers with a literary approach, including "Afternoon on a Hill," text by Edna St. Vincent Millay and music by Gene Grier and Lowell Everson; "Maggie and Milly and Molly and May," text by e. e. cummings and music by Vincent Persichetti; and "Three Rounds on Famous Words: Thrift, Health, and Caution," by William Schumann. Also to be performed is a piece that Barnard arranged himself, titled "Jimmie's Got a Goil." This number is part of a set titled "Three short choral works on texts by e. e. cummings."

The Behrend Concert Band, directed by Dr. Gary Viebranz, will feature a repertoire including the march, "Coat of Arms," by George Kenny; "Llwyn Onn," a traditional folk song arranged by Brian Hogg; and "Prelude, Siciliano, and Rondo," by Malcolm Arnold.

Tickets are available at the Reed Union Building Information Desk at a cost of $3 for students and children and $5 for adults. Also, Penn State Behrend students can obtain a free ticket by presenting a student ID in advance. For more information, call the RUB Desk at x6242.

NOVELIST TO PERFORM FOR BLACK HISTORY MONTH

African-American novelist, performance poet, and traditional griot Arthur Flowers will perform at Penn State Behrend on Wednesday, February 21, at 6:30 p.m. in the Reed Commons. Flowers' appearance is part of the Diversity Through Poetry Series and coincides with the African American Extravaganza celebrating Black History Month.

Flowers is known as a contemporary griot, a tradition derived from the ancient Africans who memorized history and orally passed it on. Flowers is also a performance poet, combining literary reading, topical commentary, and a variety of African and blues instruments in his presentations.

Flowers has written several novels, poems, and even a children's book.

For more information, contact the Office of Student Activities at x6171.

WORKING TOWARD AN AMERICAN DREAM

The Institute on the American Dream at Penn State Behrend will be hosting "Working for What? Winners and Losers in the American Dream." This conference will run from Tuesday, February 27, to Thursday, March 1.

The three-day event will include two lectures, six 90-minute workshops moderated by community leaders, and a dramatic presentation of Working, a play by Studs Terkel.

Lecturers for the conference will be Dr. Cornel West and Dr. Annette Levitt, professor of English at Drexel University.

The 90-minute workshops include:

Business and the American Dream

Local Unions and the American Dream

I Dream of America

Social Intervention and the Future of Erie

Building a Healthy Community

No Challenge is Too Great: Re-thinking Challenged Students

For more information about the conference, call x6399 or x6448. Additional information about the Institute on the American Dream and the conference is available on the Web by searching under "American Dream" at www.pserie.psu.edu.
