It all came down to the last match when the Behrend men's tennis team slipped past their first AMCC opponent to record their first win of the season.

On March 16, Penn State Behrend's men's tennis team defeated Pitt-Greensburg. The match was held at Pitt-Greensburg in Greensburg, Pennsylvania at 1:00 p.m. Dave Cooper commented, "it was very close, a doubles team won match for them in a dramatic fashion. It was very intense." Behrend's team has only played three games as of yet, and is hoping to continue to conquer their opponents.

There were six singles matches that were played. Three of the six were won by Behrend. Dave Cooper, Matt Sudak and Atif Chaudry were the three Behrend members who defeated their opponents. Cooper competed against Pitt-Greensburg's Jon Germock and won with a score of 6-3, 6-3. Sudak defeated Pitt-Greensburg's Brian McNamara with a score of 6-0, 6-1. Chaudry also defeated Pitt-Greensburg's Tom Janicki with a score of 6-3, 6-3.

Three doubles matches were also played. Behrend won two out of the three matches. Brent Carlson and Cooper were the first team to defeat their opponents with a score of 8-2.

Bill Weisburg and Ramon Enriquez also defeated their opponents. Their final score was 8-4. However, Cooper stated, "the score doesn't give the match justice, it was a nail-biter." This exciting win gave the team the lead they needed to earn their first win.

Behrend's final score in the game against Pitt-Greensburg was 5-4. The team's season record is 1-2. Cooper stated, "it helped us find out how we will do in our section [AMCC]. It was our first section match." Their conference record is 1-0. Behrend's next game is Saturday at 11:00a.m. here against Penn State Altoona, the match will be held indoors if the weather doesn't cooperate.
