With flashing lights, lasers, and three floors, the King's Rook Club, located on 1921 Peach St., provides a wild night of dancing and socializing.

The Rook is typically a members-only club/bar, but on Wednesday night, it is open to the college crowd. College students age 17 and older are admitted with proper college ID or proof of acceptance. The cover charge is $5 per person for five hours of dancing. The night begins at 9 p.m., however the club doesn't really fill up until after 11.

Women, dressed in their most revealing clubbing clothes, typically go with a group of their friends while guys, generally clad in American Eagle and such, go with their friends in attempt to see who can dance with the most people in one night. On a busy night, the dance floor is elbow to elbow with people, giving plenty of opportunity to meet someone.

The music is loud and pumping. Henry GQ, DJ extraordinaire, "spins the grooves"—usually popular songs re-mixed, techno, or rap music perfect for dancing. The energy level is high; the music and dancing don't stop until 2 a.m. when Henry GQ plays a slow, romantic song to cap off the evening.

The night is alcohol-free due to the amount of underagers in the club, but pop and water are served at the bar for those parched from shaking their booties. Also, the kitchen is closed for the night. Regardless, a Wednesday night at the Rook is a great time to hang out with friends and for those under 21 to dance where they normally wouldn't be let in. The music, the fun, and the energy make the King's Rook Club a definite Hot Spot.

"White Trash Date"

Do you need to take that special girl on the perfect date, but find that you're strapped for cash?

If so, this is the perfect date for you. I call it the "white trash date."

Here is what the guy can do:

1. Take your "soon to be girlfriend" to Hickory Farms and ask for a few samples of smoked ham. Upon finishing your meal, hit the nearest drinking fountain.
2. Now is the time to entertain her. Take her to the nearest Best Buy and treat her to a movie on the TV in the video section.

If you play your cards right you'll be experiencing a night cap in the Serta Mattress store if you know what I mean!

Anyone caught stealing Karl's ideas will be attacked by rabid Yetis and then, after being mauled, they will be thrown into a pile of manure...face down. We welcome your humorous submissions. Send them to behrcoll5@aol.com
