

Hot Spots in Erie

Endless Entertainment

PHOTO BY MIKE BELLO

Endless Entertainment is located on 2827 West 26th Street, in the Ferrier Hardware Plaza, next to the K-Mart/Giant Eagle Plaza.

by Karl Benacci
features editor

Many students enjoy spending their free time playing video games. Some popular game consoles include Nintendo 64, Playstation 2, and Sega Dreamcast.

But as one might expect, these systems and their games don't come at cheap prices, so what is a cash-strapped student to do?

Endless Entertainment, a new business in Erie, is a video game store that was opened by a former Funco Land manager, and is located on 2827 West 26th Street, in the Ferrier Hardware Plaza, next to the K-Mart/Giant Eagle Plaza.

They pride the store as being a local business instead of a corporation. The business, according to Endless Entertainment employee Dan Farina (who is also a Behrend student), is run by gamers who know how to treat the customers.

Some of the games and accessories that are in stock include Nintendo 8-Bit, Sega Genesis, Atari, Super Nintendo, Sony Playstation, and Nintendo 64.

Endless Entertainment isn't just limited to video games; it sells and repair DVDs.

Endless Entertainment will have their Grand Opening Celebration, which will consist of food and refreshments, video game competitions and 25% off of all games.

The video game competitions will consist of head-to-head matches, high scores, and time battles. There will also be major competitions in such games as "Mario Kart," "Tony Hawk's Pro Skater," and "Goldeneye," to name a few.

The hours of the Grand Opening will be from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. You can contact Endless Entertainment by phone at 836-8699 or email, at endless@stargate.net.

Recipes for You!

World's Greatest Fudge

Ingredients:

- 4 tbsp cocoa
- 1 box (16 oz.) 10-X sugar
- 4 tbsp. peanut butter
- 1/2 lb. (2 sticks) margarine or butter

Preparation

Mix the cocoa and sugar together well until they are of a single consistency. In a double boiler, melt the butter and peanut butter together. Pour the melted mix into the bowl with the sugar/cocoa mix in it. Mix well (but not with a mixer, but rather with your hands or a wooden spoon). Grease a 9 x 9 pan (or one of similar size). Place the fudge mixture into the pan and pat down until evenly distributed. Cut the fudge as desired (this is important to do before you go to the next step because it is not easy to cut after this point...) Place the fudge into the fridge until it is firm. When you are going to eat the fudge, take it out of the fridge and let it warm up to room temperature (much better than when it is hard and cold).

We want your recipes!
Send your submissions to behrcoll5@aol.com.

And don't cop out and raid your mom's recipe box. We want recipes from college students, for college students!

An Eerie Legend

by Jamie Lucas
contributing writer

Did you know that General "Mad Anthony" Wayne's ghost has been said to be seen every New Year's morning, roaming the lower area of downtown Erie?

In July of 1779, during the Revolution, Wayne led American troops in a surprise night attack, capturing the strongest British post on the Hudson River. To ensure surprise on the British, Wayne forbade his men from loading their weapons and instead, took the risk of leading his men in a silent charge of bayonets only. Due to his unruly risk-taking, he gained the nickname "Mad Anthony."

On his way home from battle in Michigan in 1796, General Wayne grew ill and died in Erie. His body was buried beneath the blockhouse on Presque Isle State Park. However, in 1809, with complete disregard to the local residents' desire to keep his remains here, "Mad Anthony's" son, Isaac, dug up his father's remains in order to respectfully bury him in the Wayne's family plot at St. David's Cemetery in Chester County.

In order to keep things civilized, Dr. James Wallace, unknown to Isaac, boiled "Mad Anthony's" remains in a huge pot (on display at the Watson-Curtze Mansion Museum; sixth Street), separating the flesh and clothing from the bones. The flesh and clothing were reburied beneath the blockhouse on Presque Isle and the bones were given to Isaac to rebury at the Wayne's family plot at St. David's Cemetery in Chester County.

Legend has it that while the wagon carrying "Mad Anthony's" bones traveled east, some of his bones fell out onto the road. Also, according to legend, local residents have claimed, to this very day, that every New Year's morning, General Wayne's ghost rises from his grave at St. David's and can be seen riding along downtown French Street in search for his missing bones.

ADMITTING YOU ARE NOT A FINANCIAL GENIUS
IS NOT A SIGN OF WEAKNESS.

WHERE SMART STUDENTS GO

Your single source for practical tips on student loans, credit card management, career choices, and even interview skills. Plus everything else you need to make real-life decisions in the real world.

www.canlifewithit.com

PHEAA
Creating Access to Education