Feeling stressed?
Ever tried walking in a Labyrinth for relief?

The Rainbow Path Labyrinth will be here on Feb. 25 from 10:30 a.m. - 8:30 p.m. in the Smith Chapel with special information session at 12:30 and 8:30 p.m. with the designer, Carol Posch Comstock. The Labyrinth does not lead you to a confusing place, but simply provides the time to quiet the mind and remove stress. This project is funded by the Student Activities Fee. If you have any questions, please contact Kelly Shroud, Coordinator of Service and Student Activities, at 898-6610, or e-mail her at kaw148@psu.edu. It is open to all, and admission is free.

Valentine's Day bash

On Saturday, Feb. 16 the Multi-Cultural Council is sponsoring a Valentine's Day Bash from 10 p.m. - 2 a.m. at Penn State Behrend McGarvey Commons. Music will be provided by DJ Q. It is a dress-up event (no jeans or sneakers), and is free of charge. This program is funded by the Student Government Association.

A Closer Look

Provost candidate here on Tuesday

The Search Committee for Provost and Dean of Penn State Behrend has recommended four candidates for campus interviews. One of these candidates, Kendall A. Blanchard, President at Fort Lewis College, will be here on Tuesday for questions during an open forum at 3 p.m. in the Smith Chapel, followed by a reception. All faculty, staff, and students are encouraged to attend.

Kallgren presents Provost's lecture on Monday

Dr. Carl Kallgren, associate professor of psychology, and 2001 winner of the Penn State Behrend Council of Fellows Outreach Award will present "The CORE Model of Social Intervention and The New University Paradigm" at the fourth coming Provost's Lecture, scheduled for Monday at noon. CORE, which stands for Behrend's Center for Organizational Research and Evaluation, is an outreach effort of the school of Humanities and Social Sciences that was created in 1998 to assist social service agencies with teenage pregnancy prevention. Since then, CORE has become a major influence in Erie County, and has expanded funding for social services, leveraging more than $5 million in direct and indirect funding for social service projects in Erie County. Kallgren's talk will take place in the Reed Lecture Hall (Room 117) and will be followed by a reception in Reed 113.
